4-State Tornado Death Toll Mounts To 99

Over 700 Hurt; Kansas Town Is Obliterated

Search For Victims Continues; Property Damage In Millions

UDALL, Kan., May 26 (AP) — Tornadoes twisting through four midcontinent states killed 99, left more than 700 injured and ran property damage into the millions.

The deadly twisters started in Texas Wednesday night and were still threatening Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri late today.

The storms left 63 dead in Kansas, 20 in Oklahoma, 15 in Texas and 1 in Missouri.

This community of 500 in south central Kansas was virtually obliterated. Mortuaries had received bodies of 58 victims and a Civil Defense spokesman said 8 more had been found. Search for others was still under way. More than 200 injured were in hospitals and relief centers.

Blackwell, Okla., 80 miles south of here, counted 18 dead and more than 500 injured. The tornado there demolished a 36-square-block residential and factory area.

107 Rescued From Barge

Most of the damage was done last night. Early today the twisters began popping again and Missouri counted its first fatality when a farmer was crushed to death in his barn near Paris in the northeast section of the state. Other Missouri areas reporting tornado damage but no casualties were Salisbury, Tipton and Gilman City.

The vicious winds whipped down on the Mississippi River near St. Louis and capsized a tugboat towing a barge on which 60 school children and 47 parents and teachers from Ladue, Mo., had embarked for an excursion.

Two motorboats rushed to the helpless barge and took off the passengers safely.

Five members of one family were killed by a small twister that struck the little community of Oxford, Kan., 10 miles south of Udall. Five others in the family were injured.

Two persons were killed and one critically injured by a tornado that struck Sweetwater, Okla., 140 miles west of Oklahoma City.

Mud Hampers Rescuers

Tornado damage, but no casualties, also was reported from Geuda Springs, Pittsburg, Antonino, Leavenworth and Millwood, Kan., and in these Oklahoma communities: Durant, Erick, Shattuck, Mayfield, Camargo, Leedey, Taloga, Cheyenne, Deer Creek and Strong City. Some property was damaged also on the south edge of Oklahoma City.

The devastating tornadoes sprang from a squall line that started pushing thunderstorms and VICTOR — The Conservative Party of Prime Minister Anthony Eden (above) scored a smashing victory over the Labor Party in Britain's general election yesterday to fill the new 630-seat House of Commons. The Conservatives scored a net gain of 10 seats with a majority of from 50 to 60 seats indicated when the counting of ballots is completed.

Union Rejects Ford Co. Stock 'Bargain' Offer

DETROIT, May 26 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today offered its 140,000 union employes an opportunity to buy company stock controlled by the Ford family for half a century. But the CIO United Auto Workers, demanding a guaranteed annual wage, promptly rejected the offer.

The union called the Ford counterproposal "unfair, unjust and unacceptable" and said it fails to provide workers protection against the insecurity of unemployment.

Ford also offered a number of other benefits, all tied to union acceptance of another five-year contract.

Said the union:

"It is a phony plan which by the Ford Motor Co.'s own admission is a resurrection of an inadequate and antiquated plan which General Motors had in effect in 1939 and had to scrap because it was unworkable and impracticable."

The union's rejection came only two hours after Ford placed the counterproposal on the contract bargaining table. The UAW's bitter response marked the first public dispute since the auto industry's significant labor negotiations began last month.

John S. Bugas, Ford vice president, called the offer "undoubtedly as challenging and comprehensive a single package offer as any ever made in our industry." The "package" included a number of other benefits, and was conditional on union acceptance of a five-year contract.

Under the plan, Ford's 140,000 union employes would be permitted to buy stock in any one year equal to 10 per cent of their gross annual pay.

Presumably the stock which would be offered to employes is nonvoting stock now held by the Ford Foundation.

Since the stock is not on the market currently, there was no immediate estimate as to what a share would cost a worker.

The Ford offer was the first major announcement from the UAW's contract talks with Ford and General Motors since they began in early April.

15 Killed As Huge Bomber Crashes In Violent Storm

SAN ANGELO, Tex., May 26 (AP)—A giant B36 bomber plowed into a tornado - spawning thunderstorm last night, lost four jet engines and crashed in flames, killing 15.

There were no survivors.

Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N. M., said the 10-engine plane was on a routine training flight.

A cowboy watched the big plane hurtle earthward burning during violent hail and rain. It hit in rugged ranch country 60 miles west of this west Texas sheep ranching center, then was ripped by two explosions that scattered wreckage over eight acres.

Charlie Davis, 21, said the plane was on fire on one side when it crashed.

The four jet engines of the bomber were found 10 miles from Sterling City, Tex., about 25 miles from where the plane hit.

Vaccine Rules Are Accepted By Five Firms

Salk Hopeful, Unable To Say When Polio Program To Resume

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Five of the six drug companies licensed to make Salk polio vaccine accepted the government's revised manufacturing and testing standards today, and Dr. Jonas Salk declared, "the picture is most hopeful."

Salk, the University of Pittsburgh scientist who developed the vaccine, said he was unable to say how soon the nationwide program to immunize school children against infantile paralysis would be resumed.

But he added the "fog is lifting" on the whole vaccine situation.

The program is getting back on the track, he told a news conference held at the National Institutes of Health. "It will be back on the track when the vaccine begins to be released" again.

Pitman-Moore Co. Balks

The only company which has not accepted the government's new proposals is the Pitman-Moore Co. of Zionsville, Ind. Its president, Kenneth F. Valentine, contended the new tests will mean considerably more work without assuring a safer vaccine.

Salk told newsmen the revision production standards "are not really new standards. . . The fine print is spelled out more.

"We are using the same standards, but we are plugging all the loopholes which might conceivably be present," he said.

Vaccine makers agree, however, that the revision may bring a delay of from one to several weeks in getting fresh supplies of the Salk vaccine to state clinics.

Reluctance Overcome

These companies have agreed to continue production of the vaccine under the new rules: Parks, Davis & Co., Detroit; Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.; Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis; Wyeth, Inc., Marietta, Pa., and Sharp & Dohme, Philadelphia.

Dr. R. K. Cutter, president of Cutter Laboratories, said as long as there is any question about the safety of the vaccine the need for more delicate testing procedures is self-evident.

Some of the pharmaceutical houses appeared to be reluctant to accept the new standards when they were first laid before them yesterday. A conference today with a panel of scientists newly appointed to clear the vaccine at production sources seemed to have erased many doubts.

President Of Polio Foundation Named "Father Of Year"

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, was named "Father of the Year" today by the National Father's Day committee.

The committee described O'Connor as "the architect of the battle against polio" that resulted in development of the Salk vaccine.

O'Connor, who has two daughters, was a law partner of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He has been president of the Warm Springs, Ga., Foundation since 1945.

O'Connor, in a ceremony at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, said he accepted the award "for all fathers of America."

GOP Quartet Blasts Report Hitting Market Speculation

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—A majority of the Senate Committee which investigated the stock market reported today there "has been an increase in unhealthy speculative developments."

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) and three other Republicans filed a sharply worded dissent which insisted that the Eisenhower administration and the people's confidence in it were a major factor in the stock market rise, and accused the majority of ignoring those elements.

The minority asserted that the inquiry, which Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) described as a "friendly study," was "not a study of the stock market but a studied attempt to disturb the economy."

With apparent support of eight Democrats and three Republicans Fulbright recommended tightening of existing federal laws and additional studies of "abuses" and possible manipulation.

The GOP quartet said the report stressed "unsound speculation" and suggestions of an "impending bust" similar to the 1929 stock market crash.

They added that this "indicates the report, as well as the investigation, is political in nature and intended to weaken the confidence of the people in the administration of President Eisenhower."

Joining Capehart in the minority dissent were Sens. Bricker (R-Ohio), Bennett (R-Utah), and Beall (R-Md).

Russia Agrees To Big 4 Talks

Twister Levels Kansas Community

Here's all that's left of the Southern Kansas community of Udall, ravaged by one of a series of deadly tornadoes that ripped through four midcontinent states, killing at least 99 and injuring more than 700. Fifty-eight were killed in Udall, a town of 500.

U. S. To Step Up Production Rate Of B52 Bombers

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — Spurred by Russia's growing air power, the U. S. Air Force today announced a 35 per cent step-up in the production rate of B52 bombers.

These are the new all-jet, long-range bombers, designed to carry atomic or hydrogen bombs to almost any point on the globe.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a former secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, called the decision to speed up production of the big bombers "a recognition of the fact that Soviet air power is considerably greater than has been recognized in the past."

Air Force Secretary Talbott said the Boeing Aircraft Co.'s B52 production lines at both Seattle, Wash. and Wichita, Kan. "will be boosted approximately 35 per cent above the present program."

"This acceleration will permit the Air Force to complete the replacement of B36s in its heavy bombardment and strategic reconnaissance wings well ahead of the present schedule," he said.

While production figures are secret, it was understood the B52 program now calls for a total of about 500 of the new bombers. They cost about eight million dollars apiece when turned out in quantity.

Talbott's brief statement said establishment of a second manufacturing source at Wichita in October 1953 created an "expanded production capability," permitting the speed-up which was ordered today.

While production is being accelerated to turn out bombers faster, there was no indication whether the total number of planes in the production program would be increased. That, presumably, remains for the future to determine.

Time Bomb Blamed For India Plane Crash

NEW DELHI, India, Friday, May 27 (AP)—An Indonesian inquiry committee charged today that an Indian airliner that crashed in the South China Sea April 11 was destroyed by a "timed infernal machine."

The plane was en route from Hong Kong to Indonesia, taking some Red delegates to the Asian-African conference at Bandung. The 19 persons aboard included eight Chinese Communists. Sixteen persons were killed. The three rescued were Indian.

Indonesia ordered the probe because the crash occurred near the Indonesian-owned Natuna Island.

Khrushchev Voices Apology For Yugos' Cominform Ouster

"Enemies Of People" Blamed; Tito Unsmiling

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 26 (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev told President Tito today the Soviet Union is "sincerely sorry" about the 1948 expulsion of Yugoslavia from the Cominform. He blamed "enemies of the people," including Lavrenty P. Beria, Joseph Stalin's head policeman.

Khrushchev voiced this apology on arriving here for reconciliation talks. He appealed for establishment of relations between Communist parties of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia on a basis of trust and confidence, and said the Russian visit to Belgrade is intended to clear up all outstanding questions between the two countries.

Tito stood unsmiling as Khrushchev spoke in Russian for 15 minutes. Tito made no response, even though the Russians appeared to expect one.

Khrushchev is Communist party chief in the Soviet Union. Although he holds no official position in the Moscow government, he was first off the plane, ahead of Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, a trade expert.

Khrushchev was the only speaker at the airport. His speech was broadcast throughout Yugoslavia, but was not interpreted immediately into Serb-Croat.

Khrushchev said the 1948 charges—that Tito was following a policy independent of Moscow's communism—had been analyzed. The findings, he reported, were that available material had been "misinterpreted" by "enemies of the people." He then singled out Beria as especially responsible. Beria was executed in Russia for treason and other crimes, nine months after Stalin's death.

The fact that Khrushchev spoke for the Moscow delegation and stressed party relationships caused some surprise. The Yugoslav government has emphasized the meeting is between heads of government on a strictly governmental level. Tito has assured his people the talks do not mean Yugoslavia is rejoining the Soviet bloc.

Security System Probers Request Agencies' Files

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — A Senate Civil Service subcommittee today formally opened an investigation into complaints of "injustices under the security system."

It didn't get very far the first day, adjourning until June 2, but it did disclose it had called on several government departments "for the entire personnel and security files" of some of their employes.

The request to the departments did not meet an outright refusal, as has been the case in the past, five agencies replying that a review of existing policies and directives is being made and that the subcommittee would be further advised later.

The agencies were the Agriculture, State and Defense departments, the Foreign Operations and the Veterans administrations.

Their letters, to subcommittee Chairman Olin Johnston (D-SC), said the requested material contained information of a security and investigative nature which is received in confidence and kept in confidence. They explained the confidential stand has been taken both in the interest of national security and the rights of individuals.

Water Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to authorize an additional 10 million dollars for research in developing fresh water from salt water. The measure was substituted for similar legislation passed by the House. The differences remain to be adjusted.

Note Denounces 'Attitude' Of U. S. Toward Meeting

MOSCOW, May 26 (AP)—The Soviet Union agreed formally today to a top-level meeting of the Big Four. But it said the United States' attitude toward the summit meeting threatens to worsen rather than improve international relations.

Notes handed the Western ambassadors — with special sections directed only to Britain and France—indicated the U.S.S.R. would object violently to any attempt to discuss the status of the Communist countries in Eastern Europe.

Vienna Site Suggested

Moscow suggested Vienna as the most convenient place, with the time to be negotiated by the four powers. French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay has mentioned July 18-21. The Western powers take the stand that Vienna is unsatisfactory so long as occupation troops remain in Austria, and want the meeting held in Switzerland or Sweden.

The Soviet note apparently envisioned a conference of President Eisenhower, Premier Bulganin and the British and French premiers on broad generalities. It said the meeting should aim at "the lessening of international tension and the strengthening of confidence among nations."

"Interference" Attempt

But, the Russians added, declarations by United States officials reflect "a desire to exert inadmissible pressure on the conference" and to discredit the idea of a conference in advance. The note asserted:

"The said officials went so far as to mention the necessity of interference in the internal affairs of other states, making attacks on the People's Democracies (East European Communist states) which are defending the freedom of their people.

"It is quite clear that such attempts at interference, which are incompatible with the United Nations charter, should be rejected as exposing the aggressive plans of certain circles aiming at the further intensification of the arms race and increasing international tension."

U. S. Refuses To Get Into Pre-Conference Quarrel

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The United States said today it "is glad to note" that the Russians are willing to meet in a top-level Big Four conference. It refused to get into a quarrel invited by Moscow.

Earlier today, Russia accepted the invitation to a Big Four parley but said the United States was setting up preconditions "which will doom the conference to failure."

These conditions that irked the Russians were suggestions that the meeting of President Eisenhower with the heads of the French, British and Russian governments might discuss the future of Soviet puppet states in Eastern Europe.

In a statement written by Secretary of State Dulles and relayed by press officer Henry Suydam, the State Department ignored the Russians' beforehand complaint.

Ike's Foreign Aid Program Approved By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved President Eisenhower's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid program, by a vote of 12-2.

The committee voted $3,408,000,000 in new authorizations and said previous authorizations included the $122,000,000 needed to round out Eisenhower's $3,530,000,000 request.

The biggest change made in the bill by the committee, which Sen. George (D-Ga) heads, came in a section which would have permitted the firing of all foreign aid workers making above $5,500 a year who have no veterans employment preference. The committee struck that out, 8-5.

Left untouched were these major aid items asked by the administration:

$1,278,000,000 in military "hardwar," such as tanks and planes, for U. S. allies around the globe;

$317,200,000 for the direct support of the armed forces of U. S. allies, most of it for Korea, Formosa, Indochina and Pakistan;

One billion dollars for defense support, to enable U. S. allies to maintain the military forces deemed necessary in the cold war;

165 million dollars in long-range economic assistance;

172 millions in technical cooperation, both between the United States and individual allies and for the United Nations Technical Assistance Fund;

475½ millions for other purposes, including a 200-million-dollar fund for Asian economic development.

50-Seat Edge In Commons Is Indicated

Smashing Confidence Vote Is Handed Eden On Eve Of Big 4 Talks

LONDON, Friday, May 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden and the Conservative party scored a smashing victory in yesterday's election.

They won a new five-year term with an indicated House of Commons majority of 50 or more seats, against the scant 17-seat margin they had in the last Parliament.

Morgan Phillips, secretary of the opposition Labor party, conceded the party's defeat at 3:15 a.m. today.

The voters dealt a severe blow to Clement Attlee's Labor forces, who won the popular vote in the 1951 election but lost out in the tabulation of House of Commons seats. This time the Conservatives ran ahead in popular vote, as well.

The result is a vote of confidence for Eden on the eve of four-power talks, where he will represent Britain.

Tories Gain 10 Seats

The electors plumped for free enterprise conservatism and rejected the Labor party call for another whirl at state socialism.

When counting stopped for the night the Conservatives had scored a net gain of 10 House of Commons seats, with good prospects of winding up with an over-all majority of perhaps 50 to 60. Conservative officials confidently spoke of a 70-seat majority.

The election was for 630 seats in the House of Commons.

Returns from 353 districts gave the Conservatives and allied parties 174 seats, the Laborites 177 and the Liberals 2.

The Conservatives had victory in sight because most districts which will report later today are strongholds of that party, and because of the trend in popular voting.

Popular Vote Totals

Returns from 350 districts gave this popular vote:

Conservatives, 7,444,472—49.68 per cent.

Labor, 7,159,855—47.18 per cent.

Liberals, 283,736—1.89 per cent.

Others, 97,183—.65 per cent.

Not since 1865 has a British government in power "gone to the country" and come back with a bigger parliamentary majority than it had before the election.

The polling, after an apathetic campaign, took place in Britain's greatest period of prosperity since World War II. The lethargy of the voters was reflected in the turnout. Apparently only about 75 per cent of the 35 million eligibles voted. In 1951, the percentage was 82.6.

The weather was favorable for a big turnout, with rain holding off until the polls closed.

All 17 Communist candidates were badly beaten.

President Asks Funds To Start Work On A-Ship

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress for $12,650,000 today to start work on his 33-million-dollar atomic-powered merchant ship which has been criticized by some Congress members as a "showboat."

The funds for getting the project under way were included in a $139,334,014 request for supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The White House said all of the additional appropriations had been specifically forecast in the President's budget "or are covered by the general reserve for contingencies," and therefore would not result in any increase in expenditures or new obligational authority for the year.

Of the $12,650,000 for the atomic-powered merchant ship, the White House statement said:

"This appropriation is needed by the Maritime Administration for the design and construction of the hull, crew training, and administration of its part of the program."

The cost of building and installing the atomic power plant and propulsion machinery which has been estimated at an additional 21 million dollars, will be financed by the Atomic Energy Commission, the statement said.

Eisenhower first outlined his plans for the ship in a speech at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press in New York on April 25. He said it was planned to send the vessel around the world as a dramatic demonstration of how atomic energy can be used for peaceful purposes.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) and three other Republicans filed a sharply worded dissent which insisted that the Eisenhower administration and the people's confidence in it were a major factor in the stock market rise, and accused the majority of ignoring those elements.

The minority asserted that the inquiry, which Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) described as a "friendly study," was "not a study of the stock market but a studied attempt to disturb the economy."

With apparent support of eight Democrats and three Republicans Fulbright recommended tightening of existing federal laws and additional studies of "abuses" and possible manipulation.

The GOP quartet said the report stressed "unsound speculation" and suggestions of an "impending bust" similar to the 1929 stock market crash.

They added that this "indicates the report, as well as the investigation, is political in nature and intended to weaken the confidence of the people in the administration of President Eisenhower."

Joining Capehart in the minority dissent were Sens. Bricker (R-Ohio), Bennett (R-Utah), and Beall (R-Md).

Twister Levels Kansas Community

Here's all that's left of the Southern Kansas community of Udall, ravaged by one of a series of deadly tornadoes that ripped through four midcontinent states, killing at least 99 and injuring more than 700. Fifty-eight were killed in Udall, a town of 500.

U. S. To Step Up Production Rate Of B52 Bombers

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — Spurred by Russia's growing air power, the U. S. Air Force today announced a 35 per cent step-up in the production rate of B52 bombers.

These are the new all-jet, long-range bombers, designed to carry atomic or hydrogen bombs to almost any point on the globe.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a former secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, called the decision to speed up production of the big bombers "a recognition of the fact that Soviet air power is considerably greater than has been recognized in the past."

Air Force Secretary Talbott said the Boeing Aircraft Co.'s B52 production lines at both Seattle, Wash. and Wichita, Kan. "will be boosted approximately 35 per cent above the present program."

"This acceleration will permit the Air Force to complete the replacement of B36s in its heavy bombardment and strategic reconnaissance wings well ahead of the present schedule," he said.

While production figures are secret, it was understood the B52 program now calls for a total of about 500 of the new bombers. They cost about eight million dollars apiece when turned out in quantity.

Talbott's brief statement said establishment of a second manufacturing source at Wichita in October 1953 created an "expanded production capability," permitting the speed-up which was ordered today.

While production is being accelerated to turn out bombers faster, there was no indication whether the total number of planes in the production program would be increased. That, presumably, remains for the future to determine.

Time Bomb Blamed For India Plane Crash

NEW DELHI, India, Friday, May 27 (AP)—An Indonesian inquiry committee charged today that an Indian airliner that crashed in the South China Sea April 11 was destroyed by a "timed infernal machine."

The plane was en route from Hong Kong to Indonesia, taking some Red delegates to the Asian-African conference at Bandung. The 19 persons aboard included eight Chinese Communists. Sixteen persons were killed. The three rescued were Indian.

Indonesia ordered the probe because the crash occurred near the Indonesian-owned Natuna Island.

"Enemies Of People" Blamed; Tito Unsmiling

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 26 (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev told President Tito today the Soviet Union is "sincerely sorry" about the 1948 expulsion of Yugoslavia from the Cominform. He blamed "enemies of the people," including Lavrenty P. Beria, Joseph Stalin's head policeman.

Khrushchev voiced this apology on arriving here for reconciliation talks. He appealed for establishment of relations between Communist parties of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia on a basis of trust and confidence, and said the Russian visit to Belgrade is intended to clear up all outstanding questions between the two countries.

Tito stood unsmiling as Khrushchev spoke in Russian for 15 minutes. Tito made no response, even though the Russians appeared to expect one.

Khrushchev is Communist party chief in the Soviet Union. Although he holds no official position in the Moscow government, he was first off the plane, ahead of Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, a trade expert.

Khrushchev was the only speaker at the airport. His speech was broadcast throughout Yugoslavia, but was not interpreted immediately into Serb-Croat.

Khrushchev said the 1948 charges—that Tito was following a policy independent of Moscow's communism—had been analyzed. The findings, he reported, were that available material had been "misinterpreted" by "enemies of the people." He then singled out Beria as especially responsible. Beria was executed in Russia for treason and other crimes, nine months after Stalin's death.

The fact that Khrushchev spoke for the Moscow delegation and stressed party relationships caused some surprise. The Yugoslav government has emphasized the meeting is between heads of government on a strictly governmental level. Tito has assured his people the talks do not mean Yugoslavia is rejoining the Soviet bloc.

Security System Probers Request Agencies' Files

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — A Senate Civil Service subcommittee today formally opened an investigation into complaints of "injustices under the security system."

It didn't get very far the first day, adjourning until June 2, but it did disclose it had called on several government departments "for the entire personnel and security files" of some of their employes.

The request to the departments did not meet an outright refusal, as has been the case in the past, five agencies replying that a review of existing policies and directives is being made and that the subcommittee would be further advised later.

The agencies were the Agriculture, State and Defense departments, the Foreign Operations and the Veterans administrations.

Their letters, to subcommittee Chairman Olin Johnston (D-SC), said the requested material contained information of a security and investigative nature which is received in confidence and kept in confidence. They explained the confidential stand has been taken both in the interest of national security and the rights of individuals.

Water Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to authorize an additional 10 million dollars for research in developing fresh water from salt water. The measure was substituted for similar legislation passed by the House. The differences remain to be adjusted.

Note Denounces 'Attitude' Of U. S. Toward Meeting

MOSCOW, May 26 (AP)—The Soviet Union agreed formally today to a top-level meeting of the Big Four. But it said the United States' attitude toward the summit meeting threatens to worsen rather than improve international relations.

Notes handed the Western ambassadors — with special sections directed only to Britain and France—indicated the U.S.S.R. would object violently to any attempt to discuss the status of the Communist countries in Eastern Europe.

Vienna Site Suggested

Moscow suggested Vienna as the most convenient place, with the time to be negotiated by the four powers. French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay has mentioned July 18-21. The Western powers take the stand that Vienna is unsatisfactory so long as occupation troops remain in Austria, and want the meeting held in Switzerland or Sweden.

The Soviet note apparently envisioned a conference of President Eisenhower, Premier Bulganin and the British and French premiers on broad generalities. It said the meeting should aim at "the lessening of international tension and the strengthening of confidence among nations."

"Interference" Attempt

But, the Russians added, declarations by United States officials reflect "a desire to exert inadmissible pressure on the conference" and to discredit the idea of a conference in advance. The note asserted:

"The said officials went so far as to mention the necessity of interference in the internal affairs of other states, making attacks on the People's Democracies (East European Communist states) which are defending the freedom of their people.

"It is quite clear that such attempts at interference, which are incompatible with the United Nations charter, should be rejected as exposing the aggressive plans of certain circles aiming at the further intensification of the arms race and increasing international tension."

U. S. Refuses To Get Into Pre-Conference Quarrel

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The United States said today it "is glad to note" that the Russians are willing to meet in a top-level Big Four conference. It refused to get into a quarrel invited by Moscow.

Earlier today, Russia accepted the invitation to a Big Four parley but said the United States was setting up preconditions "which will doom the conference to failure."

These conditions that irked the Russians were suggestions that the meeting of President Eisenhower with the heads of the French, British and Russian governments might discuss the future of Soviet puppet states in Eastern Europe.

In a statement written by Secretary of State Dulles and relayed by press officer Henry Suydam, the State Department ignored the Russians' beforehand complaint.

Ike's Foreign Aid Program Approved By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved President Eisenhower's 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid program, by a vote of 12-2.

The committee voted $3,408,000,000 in new authorizations and said previous authorizations included the $122,000,000 needed to round out Eisenhower's $3,530,000,000 request.

The biggest change made in the bill by the committee, which Sen. George (D-Ga) heads, came in a section which would have permitted the firing of all foreign aid workers making above $5,500 a year who have no veterans employment preference. The committee struck that out, 8-5.

Left untouched were these major aid items asked by the administration:

$1,278,000,000 in military "hardware," such as tanks and planes, for U. S. allies around the globe;

$317,200,000 for the direct support of the armed forces of U. S. allies, most of it for Korea, Formosa, Indochina and Pakistan;

One billion dollars for defense support, to enable U. S. allies to maintain the military forces deemed necessary in the cold war;

165 million dollars in long-range economic assistance;

172 millions in technical cooperation, both between the United States and individual allies and for the United Nations Technical Assistance Fund;

475½ millions for other purposes, including a 200-million-dollar fund for Asian economic development.

50-Seat Edge In Commons Is Indicated

Smashing Confidence Vote Is Handed Eden On Eve Of Big 4 Talks

LONDON, Friday, May 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden and the Conservative party scored a smashing victory in yesterday's election.

They won a new five-year term with an indicated House of Commons majority of 50 or more seats, against the scant 17-seat margin they had in the last Parliament.

Morgan Phillips, secretary of the opposition Labor party, conceded the party's defeat at 3:15 a.m. today.

The voters dealt a severe blow to Clement Attlee's Labor forces, who won the popular vote in the 1951 election but lost out in the tabulation of House of Commons seats. This time the Conservatives ran ahead in popular vote, as well.

The result is a vote of confidence for Eden on the eve of four-power talks, where he will represent Britain.

Tories Gain 10 Seats

The electors plumped for free enterprise conservatism and rejected the Labor party call for another whirl at state socialism.

When counting stopped for the night the Conservatives had scored a net gain of 10 House of Commons seats, with good prospects of winding up with an over-all majority of perhaps 50 to 60. Conservative officials confidently spoke of a 70-seat majority.

The election was for 630 seats in the House of Commons.

Returns from 353 districts gave the Conservatives and allied parties 174 seats, the Laborites 177 and the Liberals 2.

The Conservatives had victory in sight because most districts which will report later today are strongholds of that party, and because of the trend in popular voting.

Popular Vote Totals

Returns from 350 districts gave this popular vote:

Conservatives, 7,444,472—49.68 per cent.

Labor, 7,159,855—47.18 per cent.

Liberals, 283,736—1.89 per cent.

Others, 97,183—.65 per cent.

Not since 1865 has a British government in power "gone to the country" and come back with a bigger parliamentary majority than it had before the election.

The polling, after an apathetic campaign, took place in Britain's greatest period of prosperity since World War II. The lethargy of the voters was reflected in the turnout. Apparently only about 75 per cent of the 35 million eligibles voted. In 1951, the percentage was 82.6.

The weather was favorable for a big turnout, with rain holding off until the polls closed.

All 17 Communist candidates were badly beaten.

President Asks Funds To Start Work On A-Ship

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress for $12,650,000 today to start work on his 33-million-dollar atomic-powered merchant ship which has been criticized by some Congress members as a "showboat."

The funds for getting the project under way were included in a $139,334,014 request for supplemental appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The White House said all of the additional appropriations had been specifically forecast in the President's budget "or are covered by the general reserve for contingencies," and therefore would not result in any increase in expenditures or new obligational authority for the year.

Of the $12,650,000 for the atomic-powered merchant ship, the White House statement said:

"This appropriation is needed by the Maritime Administration for the design and construction of the hull, crew training, and administration of its part of the program."

The cost of building and installing the atomic power plant and propulsion machinery which has been estimated at an additional 21 million dollars, will be financed by the Atomic Energy Commission, the statement said.

Eisenhower first outlined his plans for the ship in a speech at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press in New York on April 25. He said it was planned to send the vessel around the world as a dramatic demonstration of how atomic energy can be used for peaceful purposes.

Diary Allegation

Air Force Captain Named As Brit a Taker At Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Senate investigators today released a hearsay allegation that Air Force Capt. Raymond Wool took $50,000 in bribes from a garment manufacturer. There also was testimony that the captain "threw off" a stunning brunette secretary in favor of a beautiful actress.

The allegations were contained in the Arabic language diary and Jan. 26 testimony of Brooklyn clothing manufacturer Leon M. Levy before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Levy suffered another in a series of heart attacks after testifying in person before the committee yesterday, so a committee aide read portions of his diary and earlier testimony at an open hearing today. The highlights were statements by Levy that:

1. He was told by Marvin Rubin, a business getter for Levy's firm, that Wool "got $50,000" for helping swing a 1953 contract for seven million sailor hats to Chicagoan Harry Lev. Wool, formerly in charge of armed services clothing procurement in New York, now is stationed at Shelby, Ohio.

Levy acknowledged under questioning that all he knew about the alleged $50,000 payment was what he had been told by Rubin.

2. Wool was "together like that" with Mrs. Mella Hort, his secretary in 1953, but "he threw her off and he got another girl"—an actress. Mrs. Hort, a sultry-looking brunette, testified in the inquiry yesterday and acknowledged there were some things she didn't want to be questioned about.

3. Mrs. Hort was "burning all of the way through" at Wool—for jilting her—and at Lev because, as Levy put it, she was trying to shake down the Chicagoan for $15,000 but he would give her only "a couple of thousands" plus two expensive suits.

Mrs. Hort's version: Lev brought her two $150 suits as a personal gift and gave her husband $2,000 to set up a chemical manufacturing business which never materialized. She angrily denied any "blackmail" attempt.

Prize, Pigmy Hippo Traveling In Style

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP) — A prize baby, pigmy hippopotamus arrived here today on an iron ore freighter from Liberia and paid a brief visit to the Baltimore Zoo before entraining tonight in a drawing room for Cleveland.

The baby hippo, called "Bomi," is a present to the Cleveland Zoo from Charles M. White, president of Republic Steel Co.

Accompanying the 7-week-old, 40-pounder, is Fletcher Reynolds, director of the Cleveland Zoo. They will travel in a drawing room on a Baltimore and Ohio train for the last lap of the journey to Cleveland.

Fletcher spent most of the day protecting his newest exhibit from the covetous glances of Arthur Watson, Baltimore Zoo director and close friend of Reynolds who admitted he would like to have the animal.

White House Denies Mrs. Hobby Has Quit

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The White House said today Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby is still secretary of health, education and welfare. At the same time it indicated anew that personal considerations might force her to leave the Cabinet later.

Denying published reports of Mrs. Hobby's resignation, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said, "actually the situation is this:

"Mrs. Hobby's husband is critically ill and Mrs. Hobby has been in Texas with him. We have had no resignation submitted, but his condition is critical and I cannot tell you at this time whether that illness will force Mrs. Hobby to leave the government."

Ike To Request Liberalization Of Refugee Law

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — President Eisenhower will ask Congress tomorrow to liberalize the law authorizing entry into the United States of 214,000 refugees.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen today the President will propose 10 amendments to the law in a special message.

Operation of the law has been under attack from several quarters. Edward J. Corsi of New York said he was fired from the State Department as an adviser on immigration programs after he tried to have the operation of the act changed.

While Hagerty refused to give any details of the President's message in advance, he told a questioner its purpose is to seek liberalization of the act.

The law was passed two years ago and permits admittance of 214,000 refugees in the three-year period ending Dec. 31, 1956. About 22,000 visas have been issued during the first 22 months of the program, but only about 1,000 refugees have been admitted as of last month.

The President told a recent news conference he was not satisfied with the results of the program and favored amending the law.

heavy rain northeastward from the Texas Panhandle late yesterday.

The rain continued in most areas. Rescue efforts were hampered by mud, tangled communication lines, wreckage-jammed streets and loss of power facilities.

Throughout this morning, teams of rescuers dug into the piles of rubble hunting additional victims.

Only three business places—the bank, post office and Odd Fellows home—were left standing in Udall. The Red Cross, Civil Defense and Salvation Army quickly set up headquarters in them. The town's new $350,000 high school building was leveled.

Civil defense workers said it might be 48 hours before all persons can be accounted for. Short wave radio operators were working with the Red Cross to register the known victims, dead and living, who were taken to nearby towns.

Brazil Twister Kills 22

RIO DE JANERIO, Brazil, May 26 (AP) — A tornado hit Santa Catarina State in southern Brazil yesterday, killing more than 22 persons and injuring many others. Two persons were reported missing.

Although coal and iron ore are available in China, its annual steel production is about one-fiftieth of United States production.

New York Model, TV Actress Named Navy Color Girl

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 26 (AP)—Marilyn Mohr, a New York model and television actress, today was named color girl for the Naval Academy's June Week program beginning Saturday.

Miss Mohr, a pretty brown-eyed brunette, was chosen for the honor by her sweetheart, Midn. John R. Johnson, captain of the 18th Company which late today was declared best of 24 in the brigade on the basis of year-long competition.

Miss Mohr, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mohr of (1620 W. 105th Pl.) Chicago, will arrive here late tomorrow.

Steam Engine's "Passing" Noted

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The government and the railroad industry joined today in dedicating a memorial to "the passing" of the steam locomotive—with some deep obeisances to the coal industry which had tried in vain to stop the ceremonies.

Criticism of the dedication boiled up during the past week from congressmen from coal-producing states and coal interests, still the largest single shipper of railroad freight.

Pointedly answering the furore, Interstate Commerce Commission Chairman Richard F. Mitchell said of the progressive shift of the rail carriers from steam to Diesel power:

"This is progress. Nothing can be done to stop it."

None of those participating in the 20-minute program in the lobby of the ICC building directly referred to charges by the National Coal Assn., and others, that the ICC was allowing itself to be "used" to publicize the oil-burning Diesels. Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa) yesterday called the whole affair "an oil-generated hoax."

In this setting, President William C. Faricy of the Assn. of American Railroads spoke some mollifying words.

He paid "tribute to a great era of railroading—the steam locomotive era when that form of power reigned supreme—and to a great American industry, the coal industry, still actively and successfully meeting its challenges."

107 Persons Rescued From Drifting Barge

ST. LOUIS, May 26 (AP)—Sixty school children and 47 parents and teachers were rescued today from an excursion boat on the Mississippi River after its tug capsized and sunk in a windstorm. Crew members were picked up safely from the water.

The Coast Guard rushed two motorboats to the barge and the children and adults were quickly transferred to the rescue craft.

Pupils of the fifth and sixth grade of suburban Ladue had been on an outing and were returning when a gust of wind caught the barge, overturning the tugboat. The barge drifted helplessly until the motorboats reached it.

Housewife Kills Old Enemy In Gun Duel

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 26 (AP)—Mrs. Gladys Copeland, 55, and Louis Poole, 60, matched pistol versus shotgun today in a four-blast duel at nearby Republic, police reported. Poole was killed. Mrs. Copeland was shot twice in the abdomen.

Police said Poole started the duel with a shotgun blast through Mrs. Copeland's kitchen window. They said the other shots were fired through a closed kitchen door.

Mrs. Copeland was wounded at least once before she returned the fire, police said they believed. She was reported in fair condition at Bronsville Hospital.

Poole was shot through the heart.

Republic Constable Richard Johnson said Mrs. Copeland apparently left the kitchen after the first shotgun blast and returned with a .38 caliber pistol to fight it out.

Johnson said the two were old enemies. Mrs. Copeland shot Poole in the leg in April, he said.

Lattimore Begins Tour

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Owen J. Lattimore, controversial Far Eastern affairs expert, left by transatlantic plane today for a four months lecture tour in Europe. His wife, Eleanor, accompanied him.

Lattimore won State Department approval for the trip last week, after his attorney complained his passport was being held up deliberately to prevent the trip. Lattimore had asked for a passport extension in March.

Brazil Twister Kills 22

RIO DE JANERIO, Brazil, May 26 (AP) — A tornado hit Santa Catarina State in southern Brazil yesterday, killing more than 22 persons and injuring many others. Two persons were reported missing.

Although coal and iron ore are available in China, its annual steel production is about one-fiftieth of United States production.

New York Model, TV Actress Named Navy Color Girl

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 26 (AP)—Marilyn Mohr, a New York model and television actress, today was named color girl for the Naval Academy's June Week program beginning Saturday.

Miss Mohr, a pretty brown-eyed brunette, was chosen for the honor by her sweetheart, Midn. John R. Johnson, captain of the 18th Company which late today was declared best of 24 in the brigade on the basis of year-long competition.

Miss Mohr, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mohr of (1620 W. 105th Pl.) Chicago, will arrive here late tomorrow.

Steam Engine's "Passing" Noted

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The government and the railroad industry joined today in dedicating a memorial to "the passing" of the steam locomotive—with some deep obeisances to the coal industry which had tried in vain to stop the ceremonies.

Criticism of the dedication boiled up during the past week from congressmen from coal-producing states and coal interests, still the largest single shipper of railroad freight.

Pointedly answering the furore, Interstate Commerce Commission Chairman Richard F. Mitchell said of the progressive shift of the rail carriers from steam to Diesel power:

"This is progress. Nothing can be done to stop it."

None of those participating in the 20-minute program in the lobby of the ICC building directly referred to charges by the National Coal Assn., and others, that the ICC was allowing itself to be "used" to publicize the oil-burning Diesels. Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa) yesterday called the whole affair "an oil-generated hoax."

In this setting, President William C. Faricy of the Assn. of American Railroads spoke some mollifying words.

He paid "tribute to a great era of railroading—the steam locomotive era when that form of power reigned supreme—and to a great American industry, the coal industry, still actively and successfully meeting its challenges."

107 Persons Rescued From Drifting Barge

ST. LOUIS, May 26 (AP)—Sixty school children and 47 parents and teachers were rescued today from an excursion boat on the Mississippi River after its tug capsized and sunk in a windstorm. Crew members were picked up safely from the water.

The Coast Guard rushed two motorboats to the barge and the children and adults were quickly transferred to the rescue craft.

Pupils of the fifth and sixth grade of suburban Ladue had been on an outing and were returning when a gust of wind caught the barge, overturning the tugboat. The barge drifted helplessly until the motorboats reached it.

Housewife Kills Old Enemy In Gun Duel

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 26 (AP)—Mrs. Gladys Copeland, 55, and Louis Poole, 60, matched pistol versus shotgun today in a four-blast duel at nearby Republic, police reported. Poole was killed. Mrs. Copeland was shot twice in the abdomen.

Police said Poole started the duel with a shotgun blast through Mrs. Copeland's kitchen window. They said the other shots were fired through a closed kitchen door.

Mrs. Copeland was wounded at least once before she returned the fire, police said they believed. She was reported in fair condition at Brownsville Hospital.

Poole was shot through the heart.

Republic Constable Richard Johnson said Mrs. Copeland apparently left the kitchen after the first shotgun blast and returned with a .38 caliber pistol to fight it out.

Johnson said the two were old enemies. Mrs. Copeland shot Poole in the leg in April, he said.

Lattimore Begins Tour

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Owen J. Lattimore, controversial Far Eastern affairs expert, left by transatlantic plane today for a four months lecture tour in Europe. His wife, Eleanor, accompanied him.

Lattimore won State Department approval for the trip last week, after his attorney complained his passport was being held up deliberately to prevent the trip. Lattimore had asked for a passport extension in March.

Tongay Blames Himself, Public For Tot's Death

MIAMI, Fla., May 26 (AP)—Russell Tongay, serving 10 years for manslaughter for the death of his Aquatot daughter, Kathy, today blamed the public along with himself for her fatal injury.

Tongay entered the state prison at Raiford last week to begin his sentence after numerous appeals failed.

L. F. Chapman, superintendent at Raiford, said a letter Tongay wrote to the Miami Daily News served no useful purpose but helped the emotionally upset man to "clear the air of depression" which surrounds him.

The letter, in full:

"Subject admits, in the daytime between April 26, 1953, and May 6, 1953, he is responsible along with society for the death of his daughter, Kathy Tongay, age 5 years and 11 months, by causing her to dive from a high tower into a pool, thereby causing her to suffer mortal injuries, which crime occurred in Miami Beach.

"Admits his guilt as stated above and relates this story: Since my children were infants my wife and I instructed our children in swimming and diving, performing in their first water show under the direction of Mr. Peter Desjardins at the MacFadden-Deauville pool in 1949.

"Kathy was 18 months of age at that time, diving from the 10-foot level off the same tower into the same pool in which she was mortally injured. From this period until the time of her death our children were known as the Aquatots and were acclaimed internationally in newspapers, TV, movies, etc., including the scientific world.

"I cannot give a detailed statement at this time, as well as at the time of my trial (I did not testify in my behalf), because I developed an hysteria at the time my daughter was buried, losing speech facilities and all recollections of the events leading to my daughter's death.

"I am fairly familiar with the statement I gave police and the press immediately following my daughter's death and believe this statement is true and am fuliy aware of my responsibility in my daughter's death.

"After receiving treatment from my psychiatrist and reviewing events in respect to my children's recognition and acclaim throughout the world I believe that the society in which I lived was equally responsible in its encouragement and exploitation of my children's talents."

A jury found that Kathy suffered internal injuries which caused her death when she dived from a 33-foot tower on her father's orders. Her brother, Bubba, was the other member of the Aquatot team.

Hungary Reds Wage Redefection Campaign

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—The legation of Communist Hungary in Washington is sending letters to Hungarian exiles from communism in the United States, urging them to return home.

This was disclosed today by the Free Europe Committee, which has received copies of the "redefection campaign" letters from the Hungarian National Council.

The redefection campaign already is under way in Europe, where Soviet and Satellite organizations are exerting heavy pressure on exiles and escapees to return to their homelands.

In a recently adopted amnesty decree the Communist Hungarian government promises to forgive those who defected to the West.

Woman To Take Husband No. 14

LOS ANGELES, May 26 (AP)—Beverly Nina O'Malley's attorney cleared the way this week for her marriage to husband No. 14.

On May 20 last year she obtained an interlocutory divorce from No. 13, Raymond Joseph O'Malley. Through a clerical error it was not recorded until June 4.

Not knowing this, she was all set to marry Gabriel L. Avery, 44, parking lot superintendent. Then attorney Joseph Lewis discovered the mistake, which meant her divorce wouldn't be final until next month.

The lawyer had it corrected by Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle, who remarked:

"On the basis of the past record, one can't have too much confidence in this latest venture. But I wish her luck and hope she will never be back in Domestic Relations Court again. Who knows? Maybe this one will stick."

Mrs. O'Malley, 44, commented: "I always hope."

Standard To Limit Foreign Oil Imports

LINDEN, N.J., May 26 (AP)—The giant Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) yesterday announced a "voluntary" program of limiting the flow of foreign oil it imports into this country.

The big company's 1955 import policy—announced at the annual stockholders' meeting—was expected to have wide repercussions among domestic coal and oil producers who have been urging Congress to crack down on oil shipments from abroad.

Stockholders from 30 states attended the three-hour session in the huge boiler shop of Standard's Esso refinery here. They heard glowing predictions of the oil industry's future, including a forecast that demand for oil will double in the next 20 years.

With more than 2,500 shareholders on hand, it was the biggest corporate annual meeting in history.

Tito In Position To Assist Communism And Leave His Pledge To West Unbroken

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

President Tito's Communist regime can do a big service for world communism—and technically leave its pledges to the West unbroken.

Indications are that the meeting of Yugoslav and Soviet leaders will result in an announcement of broad agreement likely keyed to the "five principles" being promoted in Communist world propaganda.

Tito can emerge from the conference a hero in many eyes, credited with contributing to the lessening of world tensions. Such an outcome would go far toward meshing Communist propaganda in Asia and the West. It would fit into the current Soviet diplomatic offensive aimed at breaking up non-Communist unity and defenses.

Tito already has helped along the "five principles" campaign begun last year by Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai. Chou, on a whirlwind friend-making tour after the Geneva meeting, laid down the principles as a way to peace. In brief, they call for mutual respect by nations of others' sovereignties, nonaggression, noninterference in other nations' internal affairs, equality in dealings among nations and peaceful coexistence.

Prime Minister Nehru of India and Premier U Nu of Burma subscribed to these principles after Chou visited their predominantly neutralist area. Thereafter Tito journeyed to the Orient on a good will trip. He joined Nehru and others in a statement subscribing to the same principles as a cure for international tensions.

Why did he go to the East? Tito asked this later in a speech, and replied it was not to form a "third force" between blocs, but "a third force of the moral strength in the world for all those who love peace and freedom and for all to join." It's all that could be created, since the military strength of the area is negligible.

Coexistence is the principal item on the agenda of the Tito-Russian meeting. Ideological differences—if any remain since the death of Stalin—seem to have been pushed aside. Both Tito and the Soviet leaders say they are interested only in furthering world peace.

And what has Tito pledged? In his own words, from a recent speech, this is the essence of it:

1. "We want to pursue an independent course in our present and future policy."

2. "We will not link ourselves with any blocs . . . We have been resolutely against joining the Atlantic Pact . . . We want to maintain good relations with all countries with whom we established friendly relations after the break (with the Cominform) . . . We will not tolerate interference in our internal affairs by anyone, either from the East or West."

3. Tito's policy "is the road of cooperation and active coexistence among nations and states, regardless of general differences in political and internal systems."

Tito echoes many Soviet words concerning such things as peaceful coexistence, the perils of an arms race, lack of trust among nations. He has gone farther, to almost all-out acceptance of Soviet proposals which form an important part of the new diplomatic offensive. The West found gaps and loopholes in Soviet proposals to the United Nations or disarmament and easing world problems. Tito echoed the Soviet Union, saying:

". . . We will be happy if the points made in the Soviet declaration are carried out. I think this would be an enormous contribution to the strengthening of peace in the world and creating confidence and trust between nations and states."

Air Force Aids Priest Set Up Refugee Home

COBLENZ, Germany, May 26 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force today moved a dismantled barracks 20 miles so a Russian-born Catholic priest can establish within it a home for Iron Curtain refugees.

The prefabricated wooden building formerly was used by the French Red Cross for occupation troops here.

The Rev. Paul Bliznetzo, who fled Russia 10 years ago, heard that it was to be demolished to make way for a new building.

Pierre Darcel, French Red Cross director, told Father Bliznetzov he could have the building if he had it dismantled and hauled away.

The priest asked Amerika Haus (American House) here for assistance. Its director, Elliott Taylor, got the Air Force to pitch in. The barracks was dismantled and moved to Limburg.

Didn't Bust 'Em

FORT LEE, Va. (AP) — An old Civil War gun seemed to be doing a much better job on clay pigeons than the Army's newest M-1 rifle in an exhibition shoot here. The old timer was breaking 'em with fair regularity while the modern weapon was getting no results.

The Army wouldn't accept the apparent verdict. Inspection showed that the modern high velocity bullet from the M-1 was going through the little clay saucers cleanly but without shattering them.

Arab Refugees Still Get Relief

BEIRUT, Lebanon, May 26 (AP)—A U. N. relief agency this month completed its fifth year of feeding nearly a million Arab refugees. It is preparing to take on another five years.

The agency has spent more than 150 million dollars in a program whose ultimate aim is to take the refugees from direct relief to self-supporting employment. Failure to achieve this can be noted from statistics—in 1951, there were 879,667 registered Arab refugees; today there are 887,058.

The agency's inability to remove significant numbers from relief rolls has prompted its director, Henry R. Labouisse, to ask that the U. N. think in terms of at least another five years of life for the organization.

The bulk of the refugees are Arabs who fled from Palestine homes during the Arab-Israeli war of 1948. Others are their offspring. The number of refugees has not decreased, largely because most of the annual budget goes to direct relief instead of to works projects.

This discouraging picture results partly from the fact most of these refugees live in Arab territory surrounding Israel, areas where the existing economy simply cannot provide them with a livelihood.

Atom, Romance Eradicate Pest

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The atom and romance have teamed up to eradicate the screwworm fly, a serious livestock pest, Agriculture Department scientists reported today.

They said an experiment on the Caribbean Island of Curacao was a complete success and prepared the way for a similar eradication effort in the southeastern United States.

The pest was wiped out on Curacao by mating laboratory-reared male flies that had received gamma ray treatment with the island's female flies.

The gamma ray treatment made the males sterile. The matings resulted in infertile eggs and in less than a year the screwworm vanished from the island, the department said.

Scientists explained to reporters that the female screwworm flymates only once, the male flymany times.

East Coast Storm News Centers Set Up

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Weather Bureau announced today creation of emergency press, radio and TV warning centers along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts to keep the public informed on the progress of dangerous storms.

The idea for the emergency weather news centers, grew from experience last year when a record eight hurricanes swept out of the Caribbean and ground destructive paths up the East Coast.

The Weather Bureau said it was establishing fully equipped storm information posts at Boston, New York City, Washington, Miami and New Orleans, where major regional forecasting stations are located. In addition, it said, less elaborate storm information posts would be installed at secondary Weather Bureau points such as Hartford, Conn.; Providence, R.I.; Baltimore; Norfolk, Va.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Galveston, Tex., and probably some others.

A spokesman said similar arrangements were not contemplated for the West Coast because there was no history there of such frequent and ravaging storms as have hit the eastern part of the country in recent years.

Tito In Position To Assist Communism And Leave His Pledge To West Unbroken

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

President Tito's Communist regime can do a big service for world communism—and technically leave its pledges to the West unbroken.

Indications are that the meeting of Yugoslav and Soviet leaders will result in an announcement of broad agreement likely keyed to the "five principles" being promoted in Communist world propaganda.

Tito can emerge from the conference a hero in many eyes, credited with contributing to the lessening of world tensions. Such an outcome would go far toward meshing Communist propaganda in Asia and the West. It would fit into the current Soviet diplomatic offensive aimed at breaking up non-Communist unity and defenses.

Tito already has helped along the "five principles" campaign begun last year by Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai. Chou, on a whirlwind friend-making tour after the Geneva meeting, laid down the principles as a way to peace. In brief, they call for mutual respect by nations of others' sovereignties, nonaggression, noninterference in other nations' internal affairs, equality in dealings among nations and peaceful coexistence.

Prime Minister Nehru of India and Premier U Nu of Burma subscribed to these principles after Chou visited their predominantly neutralist area. Thereafter Tito journeyed to the Orient on a good will trip. He joined Nehru and others in a statement subscribing to the same principles as a cure for international tensions.

Why did he go to the East? Tito asked this later in a speech, and replied it was not to form a "third force" between blocs, but "a third force of the moral strength in the world for all those who love peace and freedom and for all to join." It's all that could be created, since the military strength of the area is negligible.

Coexistence is the principal item on the agenda of the Tito-Russian meeting. Ideological differences—if any remain since the death of Stalin—seem to have been pushed aside. Both Tito and the Soviet leaders say they are interested only in furthering world peace.

And what has Tito pledged? In his own words, from a recent speech, this is the essence of it:

1. "We want to pursue an independent course in our present and future policy."

2. "We will not link ourselves with any blocs . . . We have been resolutely against joining the Atlantic Pact . . . We want to maintain good relations with all countries with whom we established friendly relations after the break (with the Cominform) . . . We will not tolerate interference in our internal affairs by anyone, either from the East or West."

3. Tito's policy "is the road of cooperation and active coexistence among nations and states, regardless of general differences in political and internal systems."

Tito echoes many Soviet words concerning such things as peaceful coexistence, the perils of an arms race, lack of trust among nations. He has gone farther, to almost all-out acceptance of Soviet proposals which form an important part of the new diplomatic offensive. The West found gaps and loopholes in Soviet proposals to the United Nations or disarmament and easing world problems. Tito echoed the Soviet Union, saying:

". . . We will be happy if the points made in the Soviet declaration are carried out. I think this would be an enormous contribution to the strengthening of peace in the world and creating confidence and trust between nations and states."

Air Force Aids Priest Set Up Refugee Home

COBLENZ, Germany, May 26 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force today moved a dismantled barracks 20 miles so a Russian-born Catholic priest can establish within it a home for Iron Curtain refugees.

The prefabricated wooden building formerly was used by the French Red Cross for occupation troops here.

The Rev. Paul Bliznetzo, who fled Russia 10 years ago, heard that it was to be demolished to make way for a new building.

Pierre Darcel, French Red Cross director, told Father Bliznetzov he could have the building if he had it dismantled and hauled away.

The priest asked Amerika Haus (American House) here for assistance. Its director, Elliott Taylor, got the Air Force to pitch in.

The barracks was dismantled and moved to Limburg.

Didn't Bust 'Em

FORT LEE, Va. (AP) — An old Civil War gun seemed to be doing a much better job on clay pigeons than the Army's newest M-1 rifle in an exhibition shoot here. The old timer was breaking 'em with fair regularity while the modern weapon was getting no results.

The Army wouldn't accept the apparent verdict. Inspection showed that the modern high velocity bullet from the M-1 was going through the little clay saucers cleanly but without shattering them.

Arab Refugees Still Get Relief

BEIRUT, Lebanon, May 26 (AP)—A U. N. relief agency this month completed its fifth year of feeding nearly a million Arab refugees. It is preparing to take on another five years.

The agency has spent more than 150 million dollars in a program whose ultimate aim is to take the refugees from direct relief to self-supporting employment. Failure to achieve this can be noted from statistics—in 1951, there were 879,667 registered Arab refugees; today there are 887,058.

The agency's inability to remove significant numbers from relief rolls has prompted its director, Henry R. Labouisse, to ask that the U. N. think in terms of at least another five years of life for the organization.

The bulk of the refugees are Arabs who fled from Palestine homes during the Arab-Israeli war of 1948. Others are their offspring. The number of refugees has not decreased, largely because most of the annual budget goes to direct relief instead of to works projects.

This discouraging picture results partly from the fact most of these refugees live in Arab territory surrounding Israel, areas where the existing economy simply cannot provide them with a livelihood.

New Exhibit Of First Ladies' Gowns Opens In Washington

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institute opened to the public this week a brand new display of gowns worn by the nation's first ladies.

The exhibit also reconstructs White House rooms as they looked in eight different periods of American history.

Smithsonian officials, who gave reporters a special preview of the exhibit, hung a "priceless" label on the gowns and furnishings. It is certainly true that this exhibit of original gowns could not be duplicated anywhere.

Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower will officially open the exhibit. Other former White House hostesses may attend along with members of their families. There are four living former first ladies: Mrs. Harry Truman, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

The Smithsonian's exhibit of gowns owned by the first ladies has been one of its most popular attractions for many years. About a million and a half persons were checked into the exhibit last year.

But that was strictly a second rate show compared with the new exhibit. The reconstruction of White House rooms is all new; the models and the dresses have been freshened and the whole display has been put into a modern museum.

The remodeling job cost $75,000. But this doesn't include the many years of preparation at the drawing boards.

There's a story about the models in the exhibit. They are of differing sizes and plumpness and their hairdos are different—but the faces are all the same.

The idea behind that arrangement was to guard against having one first lady appear less beautiful than another.

For the exhibit, the models were washed off and "freshened." Their complexions were improved but their basic proportions were not changed.

To keep the ancient clothing in good condition, occasional cleaning jobs are necessary. But mostly they are preserved by the use of insecticides and by keeping them dust free.

'31-Knot' Burke Will Be One Of Youngest Navy Bosses

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The newly appointed chief of naval operations, Rear Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, is a fast-thinking, hard-driving worker with a scientific turn of mind.

That's how friends and associates of more than 30 years in the service characterize the 53-year-old sailor who will take charge of the Navy in August. President Eisenhower named him yesterday to succeed 60-year-old Adm. Robert B. Carney.

The President, in picking Burke for the four-star job, reached below 92 admirals of various grades who are his senior. The newly named "CNO"—as naval men refer to whoever holds the post—is one of the youngest ever to head the service. Only the late Adm. Forrest Sherman, who also took over at 53, compares to him in youth in the role.

Burke is one of the best-known younger admirals in the Navy, because of his dramatic exploits as a destroyer officer in World War II and because of his brain work during the Navy's fight with the Air Force over long-distance bombers six years ago.

His associates say no catchy handle can be attacked to Burke's name or personality although he's generally called "31-Knot Burke."

There are various versions of how he acquired that. One is that Adm. William F. Halsey pinned it on him because he habitually dashed his ships at 31 knots on almost every mission.

Another version is that the destroyer squadron which he commanded in World War II against the Japanese was ordered to move along with other naval units, at 30 knots—to the island of Buk, from which the Japanese were reportedly trying to get away. Upon approaching the island and seeing other American ships ahead of him, Burke signaled on the inter-ship radio system: "Stand aside; I'm coming through at 31 knots."

Unlike many other successful officers, the curly-haired Boulder, Colo., seaman has never gone in for golf and other sports, except in a minor way. He does play a bit of bridge.

Both before and after World War II Burke concentrated on research and scientific matters. He went back to the Naval Academy in the early 1930s for post graduate studies in ordnance engineering, specializing in explosives.

Then he went to the University of Michigan and received a Master's degree in engineering.

Burke is described by his friends as a good mixer, especially with sober-minded friends. He likes a good story and can tell one, but he is not the sort of man who is ever to win passing fame as the life of a party.

Although the Navy these days is placing its heaviest emphasis upon aviation and submarine warfare, Burke is neither an aviator or a submariner. He has commanded destroyers and cruisers. However, as chief of staff to Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, who commanded a fast carrier task force, he learned a lot about naval aviation.

The chiefs of the military services in this modern age are required to have a knack for diplomacy. Burke has shown experience and ability in this line.

He served as one of the principal members of the United Nations team that negotiated the Korean armistice.

Burke married his academy days sweetheart Roberta Gorsuch of Washington, D. C. shortly after graduating from the academy.

Then he went to the University of Michigan and received a Master's degree in engineering.

Burke is described by his friends as a good mixer, especially with sober-minded friends. He likes a good story and can tell one, but he is not the sort of man who is ever to win passing fame as the life of a party.

Although the Navy these days is placing its heaviest emphasis upon aviation and submarine warfare, Burke is neither an aviator or a submariner. He has commanded destroyers and cruisers. However, as chief of staff to Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, who commanded a fast carrier task force, he learned a lot about naval aviation.

The chiefs of the military services in this modern age are required to have a knack for diplomacy. Burke has shown experience and ability in this line.

He served as one of the principal members of the United Nations team that negotiated the Korean armistice.

Burke married his academy days sweetheart Roberta Gorsuch of Washington, D. C. shortly after graduating from the academy.

Kimble, New ESB Chairman, Gets $4,500 Year Pay Boost

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—Robert B. Kimble, new chairman of the Maryland Employment Security Board, is getting a pay raise from $7,500 to $12,000 per year.

The boost for the former Republican state senator from Allegany County becomes effective June 1. He assumed his new duties April 25, about six weeks ahead of schedule when the State Department of Employment Security was made the subject of an investigation and two ESB members resigned.

The pay boost was submitted to the State Standard Salary Board about the time Kimble was appointed to the six-year term by Republican Gov. McKeldin.

The attorney general has ruled that the chairman who preceded Kimble, Daniel E. Klein, was paid more than he was legally entitled to.

It was ruled that Klein's salary should have been $7,500 instead of the $10,000 he received. Steps are being taken to recover $3,639.91 from Klein.

Klein and another ESB member, John L. Estes, of Cumberland resigned as did William H. Mahaney, former chairman and administrator of the department.

Today Kimble disclosed details of a study which repudiates statements made by two department officials on a survey of fraud in connection with jobless benefits.

The officials were James N. Phillips, legal counsel to the ESB, and B. Franklin Shipley, head of the fraud investigation section which Phillips supervises.

They said they had found in a 1954 spot survey of some 200 cases that 35 per cent of the payments were improper.

The report, compiled by three staff employes under Kimble's orders, called Phillips' statement about jobless benefits "hasty, ill considered and not true."

Phillips had said the report was made at the request of the federal government. He said "dissatisfaction" was expressed with it and copies of the report were "confiscated" by department officials.

Phillips said a lower figure of fraud cases was ultimately sent to the federal government.

The report issued today and approved by Kimble said Phillips never prepared a fraud survey for Washington and there was no question of "confiscation" by anyone.

Man Named In Letter Questioned In Slaying

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—Police investigating the 6-month-old slaying of Carolyn Wasilewski said they questioned a man named in an anonymous letter and were satisfied he had nothing to do with the case.

The letter to police said the man was seen taking something out of his car on the bridge under which the 14-year-old girl's body was found last November 9.

Police said the man acknowledged having been through the bridge area but knew nothing about the Wasilewski case.

Police are looking for the letter writer.

Salisbury State College Prexy To Retire July 1

SALISBURY, May 26 (AP)—Dr. J. D. Blackwell, president of Salisbury State Teachers College since 1935, will retire July 1.

He and Mrs. Blackwell plan to move to a new home in Baltimore County where the 70-year-old educator hopes to devote much time to gardening.

He has served 32 years with the Maryland State Department of Education, coming to Maryland in 1923 to become state director of vocational education. He held that post until he was appointed head of the teachers college.

Succeeding Dr. Blackwell as president is Dr. Wilbur Devilbliss, dean of the College of Education at the University of Maryland.

Born on a Missouri farm, Dr. Blackwell began teaching in 1906 in a one-room school at $40 a month, riding to school on a cow pony.

He studied at the University of Missouri, Columbia University and Johns Hopkins University.

He came to Maryland from Pennsylvania where he was chairman of vocational education.

Maryland Airman Killed

WALKER AIR FORCE BASE, N.M., May 26 (AP)—Walker Air Force today released a list of men aboard the B36 which crashed in west Texas. It included:

Capt. Nelson H. Ensor, 30, first engineer, Blefast Road, Sparks, Md. widow—Mrs. Jo Ann L. Ensor.

McKeldin To Speak

PRINCESS ANNE, Md., May 26 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin will speak at commencement exercises here next Tuesday when about 50 seniors receive their diplomas from Maryland State College.

State Senator Moves To Ban Secret Sessions

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—Sen. Phillip H. Goodman (D-Balto 5th) said today he would ask the Legislative Council to propose to the Legislature rules changes that would forbid Senate committees or the Senate itself to hold secret sessions.

The Baltimore state senator said his proposal was based on the controversy that raged over the Senate's rejection of the reappointment of Charlotte Main as a Baltimore magistrate.

Goodman said he believes the public is entitled to know the reason why her appointment was rejected.

The Senate committee on executive nominations turned thumbs down on the Main appointment, meeting, as it customarily does, behind closed doors.

The Senate, also in secret session, adopted the committee recommendation of refusal.

Sen. Goodman suggested a hearing before the legislative council, interim body of the Legislature, as a means of clearing up the confusion over Miss Main's rejection. He said such a hearing should be able to bring out the truth.

Marland's Brother Receives Promotion

CHARLESTON, W. Va. May 26 (AP)—Purchasing Director Samuel T. Waller said today that Gov. Marland's younger brother, James Robert Marland, 34, had been named an administrative buyer in his department.

Waller said the governor had nothing to do with the appointment; that Marland was named to fill a vacancy.

The director said the younger Marland had been medically discharged with the rank of major after 13 years in the Army. Waller said Marland's Army experience included several years a procurement officer.

Creek Yields Bodies Of Priest, Student

ANNAPOLIS, May 26 (AP) — The bodies of a Catholic priest and a Washington student who drowned a week ago when a boat capsized have been recovered from Harness Creek.

The body of Rev. Dominic Palladino, 35, of Revere, Mass., was recovered today, that of Joseph P. Monaldo, 18-year-old Washington student, yesterday.

Two others in the boat were able to swim to safety.

20 Middies Donate Blood For Father Of Their Classmate

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — Twenty midshipmen from the Naval Academy today donated a pint of blood each for a classmate's father who is seriously ill in Meadowbrook Hospital on Long Island, N. Y.

The men are in the same company as the son, 3rd Classman Junious A. McKee Jr.

Red Cross officials said they understood McKee's father, Junious Sr., has had one serious operation and faces another. So far, they said, he has been given eight pints of blood in transfusions.

They explained today's donations would enable the father to receive up to the 20 pints without having to pay for any of it.

McKee's mother, Mrs. Elsie S. McKee, lives at (13 W. Euclid) Valley Stream, N. Y.

Bay Park Segregation Policy Is Unchanged

ANNAPOLIS, May 26 (AP)—Sandy Point State Park will open Saturday "under the same provisions as previously operated," the Department of Forests and Parks said today.

This means the state's only bayside resort will continue segregated facilities for whites and Negroes, pending a ruling from the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals recently held that the "separate but equal" doctrine for municipal or state recreation facilities went out with the Supreme Court's decision to ban segregation in public schools.

The circuit court ruling was appealed to the Supreme Court, which may not act on the recreation question until October.

Fire Alarm Causes Building Evacuation

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP) — A flash fire alarm shortly after 2 p.m. today caused a partial evacuation of several hundred workers from one of the government's temporary buildings, at Constitution Avenue and 14th Street.

Building guards said apparently one of the building alarm boxes tripped itself into action. The call brought out nine pieces of equipment and police blocked off traffic on Constitution Avenue.

Firemen who made a search of the large frame building reported they found no trace of flames.

The alarm went off in "Tempo T" building, largely occupied by Air Force offices, and also housing files and hearing rooms of the Federal Communications Commission.

Governor Greeted By Empty Hall Due To Mixup In Time

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 26 (AP)—An empty hall greeted Gov. Robert B. Meyner when he arrived this noon for a speech at a Lions Club convention. The Lions, expecting him earlier, were out to lunch.

The busy governor was flown down from the state capital at Trenton in a single-engine National Guard plane. He flew back 52 minutes later, carrying his undelivered speech with him.

The round-trip flight covered about 120 miles.

Meyner was scheduled to speak to the convention of Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia Lions at 11 a.m.

Good start for a beginner — individuality of face and a graceful walk.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

"Mr. Powers, I'm hopeless," a newcomer to the Powers School mourned the other day. "My mouth is too big, and compared to the way everybody else around here walks, I simply lurch."

We do not share our friend's opinion of her mouth, and prefer the expressiveness of one that is generous rather than too small. Her lips are beautifully shaped, and while the brightest lipstick is not recommended, we hadn't tried to create a rosebud. Because we always believe in bringing out individuality, we had given her mouth the outline of its own natural shape, except that the lipstick stopped slightly short of the corners.

Her walk is another matter. The few days she'd spent at the school weren't time enough for her to learn the beautiful glidewalk that must be hers before she develops into the graceful beauty we know she will be. Two faults must be corrected at the start: She is always in a hurry, and her head thrusts forward as she walks—as if it were eager to get there first.

If yours are the same faults, do as our beginner model must do. Slow down. A beautiful walk is purposeful, never mincing, but it cannot result from throwing yourself into action headlong. Pull your head back so its weight is carried directly over your straight spinal column. Stand against a wall with your head, shoulders, hips, and heels touching the wall. If you can reach back and feel too much space between the wall and your lower back, relax your knees, tilt your pelvis upward, and stretch taller.

Work on a good standing position until it's correct and seems natural. Only then can you start walking practice, sure you're stepping off on the right foot.

Forestry Post Still Unfilled

Applications for the position as forest superintendent at New Germany in Garrett County will be accepted until June 1, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

Matthew E. Martin, who had held the position for the past 23 years, retired May 1.

So far between 20 and 25 applications have been picked up at Johnson's office in the Court House. The applications are to be sent to the State Commissioner of Personnel, 31 Light Street, Baltimore.

The salary scale will run between $2,942 and $3,527 a year but the superintendent also is provided his housing. The superintendent supervises the maintenance, operation and use of state forests, enforces rules and regulations and performs other necessary work.

Applicants should be high school graduates, have one year's experience in general forestry work and must be between 21 and 50 years of age.

Cub Scout Pack To Sponsor Circus

Cub Scout Pack 23, sponsored by John Humbird School Parent Teacher Association, will sponsor a circus and parade today.

The parade led by Johnny Groves' band will march at 6:45 p. m. from Offutt Street to the school.

"Big Top" presentations and a side show will be staged by the Cub Scouts in the school auditorium at 7 p. m.

Twelve United States states have towns called Hamburg.

Constitution Park Pool Opens Saturday

Constitution Park swimming pool will open Saturday at noon and remain open over Memorial Day weekend, including Monday, Robert E. Pence, city recreation director announced yesterday.

The pool will then be closed until the following Saturday when it will open for the remainder of the season.

Thomas Hutcheson will manage the pool this summer and the casino concession will be run by Paul Holtzman.

Recreation Department workers have been busy this week scrubbing down all walls and floors and painting up worn areas. New diving boards have been ordered, but may not arrive in time for the opening, Pence said.

Forestry Post Still Unfilled

Applications for the position as forest superintendent at New Germany in Garrett County will be accepted until June 1, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

Matthew E. Martin, who had held the position for the past 23 years, retired May 1.

So far between 20 and 25 applications have been picked up at Johnson's office in the Court House. The applications are to be sent to the State Commissioner of Personnel, 31 Light Street, Baltimore.

The salary scale will run between $2,942 and $3,527 a year but the superintendent also is provided his housing. The superintendent supervises the maintenance, operation and use of state forests, enforces rules and regulations and performs other necessary work.

Applicants should be high school graduates, have one year's experience in general forestry work and must be between 21 and 50 years of age.

Cub Scout Pack To Sponsor Circus

Cub Scout Pack 23, sponsored by John Humbird School Parent Teacher Association, will sponsor a circus and parade today.

The parade led by Johnny Groves' band will march at 6:45 p. m. from Offutt Street to the school.

"Big Top" presentations and a side show will be staged by the Cub Scouts in the school auditorium at 7 p. m.

Twelve United States states have towns called Hamburg.

Constitution Park Pool Opens Saturday

Constitution Park swimming pool will open Saturday at noon and remain open over Memorial Day weekend, including Monday, Robert E. Pence, city recreation director announced yesterday.

The pool will then be closed until the following Saturday when it will open for the remainder of the season.

Thomas Hutcheson will manage the pool this summer and the casino concession will be run by Paul Holtzman.

Recreation Department workers have been busy this week scrubbing down all walls and floors and painting up worn areas. New diving boards have been ordered, but may not arrive in time for the opening, Pence said.

More Sirens Being Added To CD System

Two more sirens are being installed to boost the coverage of this city's Civil Defense disaster warning system, according to Arthur B. Gibson, Cumberland CD coordinator.

Gibson said he has given orders to install the one-horsepower sirens at Bedford and Warren streets and Cole and Yale streets.

Participating in the installation will be the Potomac Edison Company, Sterling Electric Company and the C & P Telephone Company.

The sirens will supplement two 10-hp. sirens located at South End Fire Station and opposite SS. Peter and Paul School, and one-hp. models at Brown Avenue and at Camden Avenue.

Ridgeley, he said, has indicated it would like to join in the Cumberland CD warning system by the use of its curfew siren.

Gibson said the Cumberland Brewing Company had planned to connect its siren to the city's air raid warning system.

This will not be practical, he added, since the siren is hand operated, and cannot be activated by the automatic equipment which will set off all of the regular sirens.

Noted Italian Sports Car Driver Killed

Alberto Ascari Was Known Here

Alberto Ascari, former international champion sports car driver and Italy's automobile racing ace was killed yesterday during a test run at the Menza Race Track in Milan, Italy, according to an international News Service dispatch.

Ascari had just been released from the hospital after his accident in the Grand Prix of Europe auto race at Monte Carlo last Sunday, when today's accident occurred.

Ascari was known to many of the people who drive in Cumberland's sports car events. Dr. B. Skitarelic, local sports car racer, said last night he knew Ascari personally and had visited with him several times. Dr. Skitarelic recalled that Ascari's father was killed several years ago in a similar racing mishap.

The young Italian champion raced at Sebring in 1954 and in 1952 entered the auto races at Indianapolis. Starting from 1[illegible] position, he attracted great attention by moving to seventh position in the first 40 laps and then had to retire from the race when he broke a wheel.

He was preparing for the Italian Grand Prix run at Milan which he was favored to win, when the tragedy occurred.

Piedmont High Seniors Get Many Awards

Citizenship awards offered by Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, American Legion, were presented last night to Joann Delores Marteney and Charles J. Healey at the annual commencement of Piedmont High School.

The presentations were made by Samuel W. Widmer, a past commander of the post.

Gertrude Ann Hudson, the class valedictorian, received a medal from the Alumni Association, the Balfour key and the Readers' Digest prize. Sanford M. Welton, the class salutatorian, received a medal from the Piedmont PTA. He also won a citizenship medal offered by the faculty and a medal for library service.

Other awards went to Charles Ravenscroft, third ranking student, faculty medal; Susan Loy, medal for library service; Elrose Ann Tibbett, citizenship medal offered by faculty; and Robert W. Niland, watch offered by the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, for good sportsmanship and citizenship.

During the ceremonies Mrs. Eltin Gurley presented the eighth grade history medal, offered by the Potomac Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to John Charles Richards. Other presentations were by Vernon A. Staggers, school principal.

Dr. Roy O. Duncan of West Virginia University was the principal speaker.

Students Form County Sportsmanship Group

An Allegany County Sportsmanship Committee has been formed by student representatives of Beall, Bruce, Fort Hill, Allegany and LaSalle high schools, with Donald Paye elected as chairman.

The purpose of this committee is to choose the school whose student body displays the best sportsmanship at football and basketball games. A trophy will be presented to the winning school each year, and students will do the judging. The trophy can never be retired.

Financing is to be shared equally by all member schools.

Named to serve as officers of the committee with Paye of Allegany High, are Richard Durst, assistant chairman of Bruce; Connie Herring, secretary, of Beall; and Joseph Sweitzer, Allegany, treasurer.

Equity Suits Filed

Two equity suits were filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Genevieve S. Runion vs. William D. Runion and Sylvia B. Hileman vs. Melvin H. Hileman.

Blue Ridge, Union Sign Contract

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP) — AFL Motor Coach Employes, Division 1063, and Blue Ridge Bus Lines signed a contract agreement yesterday providing for pay increases for 150 drivers and maintenance men.

The contract gives a 5-cent hourly increase to drivers and tickets takers who now earn $1.74 an hour, and a 6-cent increase to mechanics and maintenance men, who now earn $1.82 an hour.

The increases are retroactive to April 1.

The agreement, signed for one year also would be binding on Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines, whose purchase of Blue Ridge effective June 1 has been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Blue Ridge Lines operate between Pittsburgh and Cumberland, Md., and Clarksburg, W. Va.

City Asks Bids For Street Oil

The City of Cumberland is asking for bids for furnishing oil for use both in its conventional street oiling program and for light surface treatment.

The bids will be opened by the Mayor and Council on Monday, June 6, at 10 a. m., according to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz.

Youth For Christ Will Hear Quintet

A student quintet from the Philadelphia Bible Institute, Philadelphia, will conduct the Tri-State Youth For Christ Rally Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Salvation Army Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street.

Members of the group are Scottie McClintoch, first tenor; Art Larson, second tenor; Dick Martin, baritone; Dick Walton, bass; and Charles Koch, pianist.

The program will include a number of musical selections and a message by one of the members of the quintet.

Chinese Christian Churches In U.S. Step Up Drive For Integration Into American Scene

By KATHERINE PINKHAM
(For George Cornell)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26 (AP)—Chinese Christian churches, stronger in this country today than ever before, are deliberately planning their own annihilation as distinct religious entities.

Swept by surging antisegregation sentiment, leaders of the 71 Protestant Chinese churches and centers now dotting the nation from New England to Hawaii are calling simultaneously for a stepped-up evangelistic campaign and more rapid integration with American surroundings.

The plan is for gradual change from Chinese into community churches, embracing many races and denominations, says Dr. Peter Y. F. Shih, of Boston, pastor of the Chinese Christian Church of New England.

"This thing has to come if the Chinese church is going to continue to exist at all," Dr. Shih told a recent Chinese churches conference here.

Negroes, Caucasians, Japanese and Koreans already are attending services in some of the churches, he said. He believes the next 25 years will see separate Chinese churches disappear from the American scene.

Others think the 25-year figure too optimistic. Dr. Edwar Lee, Oakland, Calif., Methodist, urges priority for the church membership drive, reminding the conference of the new influx of non-Westernized Chinese. Chinese war brides now number in the thousands. Changes in immigration laws, in effect since Dec. 24, 1952, permitted 105 Chinese to enter each year on quota, and expanded nonquota entries to include brothers and sisters of American citizens. Still others are entering under the government refugee program.

The Chinese churches conference here—first ever held on a nationwide scale—was sponsored by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. The council's attention was attracted by the Chinese Christians' rapid expansion in the past five years.

The council's departments of the urban church and of racial and cultural relations were the active sponsors. A sprinkling of Caucasian pastors and lay workers attended conference sessions in Chinatown's Baptist and Presbyterian churches.

The conference launched plans for its first permanent, national organization, appointing Dr. Lee chairman of a "continuation committee." It called for improved salaries and pension provisions to attract highly qualified young people into the church field, proposed printing an official Chinese church publication, planned an improved Chinese hymnal.

It also framed a moving message for broadcast to Christians behind the Communist curtain, voicing a plea to hold fast to their faith and assurance that they "are not forgotten." And it exhorted delegates to bestir themselves to find jobs and sponsors for the 3,000 refugee Chinese who could win entry to this country under the refugee program. Only a trickle have arrived so far.

The Statue of Liberty was unveiled Oct. 28, 1886.

"NEW" FLOORS FOR OLD in 1 Day!

It's true! With FABULON, the revolutionary new finish for wood floors, you can make your old floors "new," all in one day. Remove the old finish with a modern, easy-to-use sanding machine, available at low rental from your paint, hardware or lumber dealer.

Dust the sanded floors with your vacuum cleaner; then apply two coats of FABULON; no filler or sealer needed. FABULON comes ready for use—no stirring, no settling, no skinning; flows on easily with brush or roller; dries in half an hour.

Allow the last coat a few hours to harden well, and your "new" floors are ready to use . . . the entire job completed all in the same day! What's more, your FABULON-ed floors never need waxing or scrubbing! FABULON's so tough, dirt and grime won't grind in . . . stains of all kinds won't faze it. That's because FABULON is the "twin" of a finish used on the finest bowling alleys all over America. $1.98 per qt., $6.79 gal.

Chinese Christian Churches In U.S. Step Up Drive For Integration Into American Scene

By KATHERINE PINKHAM
(For George Cornell)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26 (AP)—Chinese Christian churches, stronger in this country today than ever before, are deliberately planning their own annihilation as distinct religious entities.

Swept by surging antisegregation sentiment, leaders of the 71 Protestant Chinese churches and centers now dotting the nation from New England to Hawaii are calling simultaneously for a stepped-up evangelistic campaign and more rapid integration with American surroundings.

The plan is for gradual change from Chinese into community churches, embracing many races and denominations, says Dr. Peter Y. F. Shih, of Boston, pastor of the Chinese Christian Church of New England.

"This thing has to come if the Chinese church is going to continue to exist at all," Dr. Shih told a recent Chinese churches conference here.

Negroes, Caucasians, Japanese and Koreans already are attending services in some of the churches, he said. He believes the next 25 years will see separate Chinese churches disappear from the American scene.

Others think the 25-year figure too optimistic. Dr. Edwar Lee, Oakland, Calif., Methodist, urges priority for the church membership drive, reminding the conference of the new influx of non-Westernized Chinese. Chinese war brides now number in the thousands. Changes in immigration laws, in effect since Dec. 24, 1952, permitted 105 Chinese to enter each year on quota, and expanded nonquota entries to include brothers and sisters of American citizens. Still others are entering under the government refugee program.

The Chinese churches conference here—first ever held on a nationwide scale—was sponsored by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. The council's attention was attracted by the Chinese Christians' rapid expansion in the past five years.

The council's departments of the urban church and of racial and cultural relations were the active sponsors. A sprinkling of Caucasian pastors and lay workers attended conference sessions in Chinatown's Baptist and Presbyterian churches.

The conference launched plans for its first permanent, national organization, appointing Dr. Lee chairman of a "continuation committee." It called for improved salaries and pension provisions to attract highly qualified young people into the church field, proposed printing an official Chinese church publication, planned an improved Chinese hymnal.

It also framed a moving message for broadcast to Christians behind the Communist curtain, voicing a plea to hold fast to their faith and assurance that they "are not forgotten." And it exhorted delegates to bestir themselves to find jobs and sponsors for the 3,000 refugee Chinese who could win entry to this country under the refugee program. Only a trickle have arrived so far.

The Statue of Liberty was unveiled Oct. 28, 1886.

"NEW" FLOORS FOR OLD in 1 Day!

It's true! With FABULON, the revolutionary new finish for wood floors, you can make your old floors "new," all in one day. Remove the old finish with a modern, easy-to-use sanding machine, available at low rental from your paint, hardware or lumber dealer.

Dust the sanded floors with your vacuum cleaner; then apply two coats of FABULON; no filler or sealer needed. FABULON comes ready for use — no stirring, no settling, no skinning; flows on easily with brush or roller; dries in half an hour.

Allow the last coat a few hours to harden well, and your "new" floors are ready to use . . . the entire job completed all in the same day! What's more, your FABULON-ed floors never need waxing or scrubbing! FABULON's so tough, dirt and grime won't grind in . . . stains of all kinds won't faze it. That's because FABULON is the "twin" of a finish used on the finest bowling alleys all over America. $1.98 per qt.; $6.79 gal.

Three Local Men To Get Degrees

Three Cumberland residents will be graduated from Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, at the 147th annual commencement exercises on Wednesday.

Thomas O. Keech, 920 Maryland Avenue, will receive a bachelor of science degree in social science. A graduate of La Salle High School, he has been active with the Knights of Columbus, Athletic Association, Shamrock Club, Business Club, yearbook staff, and varsity tennis team.

Rodney Pariser, 726 Washington Street, will receive a B.S. degree in business administration. He has been a member of the yearbook staff and the Athletic Association and participated in intramural sports. Pariser is a graduate of Perkiomen School.

John J. McMullen Jr., 218 Fayette Street, will receive a B. S. degree in social science. He is a graduate of La Salle High School.

Bicentennial Plans To Be Accelerated

Bicentennial committees will go into high gear June 6 when representatives of the Rogers Company, retained to stage the historical pageant and manage the general celebration, arrive here to take charge of all activities.

A committee of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial, Inc., conferred yesterday with Mayor Roy W. Eves and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan concerning the finances required before ticket sales and other income develops in July and August. The matter will be brought before the regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council next Tuesday.

An underwriting committee will invite participation of local business, industrial and professional groups starting June 1. The budget adopted by the Bicentennial totals approximately $30,000 for expenses with anticipated revenue around $47,000.

B&O Income Is Up

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad yesterday reported net income for April of $1,995,996, and noted improved freight volume in recent months is reflected in the increase of $885,154 over net income for April a year ago.

Operating revenues for the month totaled $35,107,734, up $3,912,217 over April, 1954.

The B&O said net income for the first four months of 1955 was $6,308,211, an increase of $2,439,447 over the same four months of 1954. Operating revenues for the January-April period totaled $127,510,514, an increase of $4,340,141 over the first four months of last year.

Alfalfa Test Plots To Be Inspected Here Next Tuesday

A research man from the University of Maryland Experiment Station will be in Allegany County next Tuesday to inspect demonstration plots of alfalfa on the Shumaker Brothers farm on the McMullen Highway at Pinto, according to Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent.

Steger said the test plots include seven varieties of alfalfa which were set out in May of 1952. The demonstration is part of a program to determine the most suitable varieties for this county.

Dr. Thomas Ronningen, a research man from the university, will be here to direct the demonstration Tuesday. Farmers of the county are invited to attend the program which starts at 10 a. m.

Steger said Dr. Ronningen will harvest a part of each test plot and weigh the alfalfa. The best variety for yield will be determined. The plots have both high fertility and low fertility sections and Dr. Ronningen will analyze the results at the Tuesday demonstration.

The varieties which were planted include Grimm, Kansas Common, Narragansett, Williamsburg, Atlantic, Buffalo and Ranger.

Meanwhile, the county farm agent said four varieties of tomato plants have been distributed to three farmers by the university Extension Service to determine the best varieties.

Andrew Duncan, vegetable specialist at the university, has selected queen, manalucie, val north and valient tomato varieties for the test. Farmers have reported some difficulty in ripening of some tomatoes in the past and the test plots are being used to ascertain which varieties are most suitable as far as ripening is concerned, Steger said.

The tomato plots will be set out on the Theodore Stegmaier farm on Williams Road, the Floyd Buser farm on Oliver Beltz Road and Lawrence Twigg farm on Murley's Branch Road.

The world used 29 million pounds of cobalt in 1954.

Celanese Workers Win Service Awards

Sidna M. Moyer, Ellerslie; John Longerbeam, 104 Gleason Street; and Edward L. Thomas, 221 Centre Street, Frostburg, were presented watches by R. Finley Thompson, Amcelle plant manager of the Celanese Corporation, after 25 years of employment.

Mrs. Moyer is an operator in textile down-twisting. She is the mother of eight married children, and the grandmother of 18. She is a collector of salt and pepper shakers and for many years has been a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Carpenters' Union.

Longerbeam is an operator in textile down-twisting. He is married. During World War II he was a Marine.

Byron O. Waite, superintendent of textile, awarded them Celanese emblems and certificates.

Thomas is a general machine fixer in the textile engineering section. He is married and has two adult children and two grandchildren.

W. D. Claus, engineer, awarded Thomas an emblem and certificate.

Plan Bible School

The Wiley Ford Church of the Nazarene will conduct a Vacation Bible School June 1-10 from 9 a. m. to noon. Mrs. Jack Holso of Ashtabula, Ohio, will be in charge. The age limit ranges from 4 to 16.

Motorist Involved In Crash Fined

Melvin E. Holliday, 67, of 907 Louisiana Avenue, the driver of the automobile which injured three persons last week when it jumped the curb and plunged into a store front on North Centre Street, was fined $25 and costs at a hearing yesterday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Holliday, who pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge, informed court he was "sorry it happened" and said all costs resulting from the accident would be taken care of by insurance.

After sentencing Holliday, Mason informed him he would recommend to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles that a physical examination of the elderly motorist be made in order to establish his ability to operate high-powered vehicles.

Celanese Declares 12½ Cent Dividend

Directors of Celanese Corporation of America have declared a dividend of 12½ cents a share on the common, payable June 24, 1955 to holders of record June 3.

The board also voted regular quarterly dividends of $1.12½ on the preferred stock, series A, and $1.75 on the 7 per cent second preferred stock. Both preferred stock dividends are payable July 1 to holders of record June 3.

Parks Will Open

Shawnee and Blue Knob State Parks will officially open for their summer seasons Saturday.

John Genter, superintendent of both parks, said two new concessions stands have been added at Shawnee this year. In addition to the two old stands, near the swimming area and above the boat docks, there will be a stand in the tenting area and another in the parking lot which overlooks the beach.

About 75 new tenting sites, six new toilets and 150 more picnic tables have been added at Shawnee.

The Latter Day Saints church temple in Salt Lake City took 40 years to build.

Three Local Men To Get Degrees

Three Cumberland residents will be graduated from Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, at the 147th annual commencement exercises on Wednesday.

Thomas O. Keech, 920 Maryland Avenue, will receive a bachelor of science degree in social science. A graduate of La Salle High School, he has been active with the Knights of Columbus, Athletic Association, Shamrock Club, Business Club, yearbook staff, and varsity tennis team.

Rodney Pariser, 726 Washington Street, will receive a B.S. degree in business administration. He has been a member of the yearbook staff and the Athletic Association and participated in intramural sports. Pariser is a graduate of Perkiomen School.

John J. McMullen Jr., 218 Fayette Street, will receive a B. S. degree in social science. He is a graduate of La Salle High School.

Bicentennial Plans To Be Accelerated

Bicentennial committees will go into high gear June 6 when representatives of the Rogers Company, retained to stage the historical pageant and manage the general celebration, arrive here to take charge of all activities.

A committee of the Fort Cumberland Bicentennial, Inc., conferred yesterday with Mayor Roy W. Eves and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan concerning the finances required before ticket sales and other income develops in July and August. The matter will be brought before the regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council next Tuesday.

An underwriting committee will invite participation of local business, industrial and professional groups starting June 1. The budget adopted by the Bicentennial totals approximately $30,000 for expenses with anticipated revenue around $47,000.

B&O Income Is Up

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad yesterday reported net income for April of $1,995,996, and noted improved freight volume in recent months is reflected in the increase of $885,154 over net income for April a year ago.

Operating revenues for the month totaled $35,107,734, up $3,912,217 over April, 1954.

The B&O said net income for the first four months of 1955 was $6,308,211, an increase of $2,439,447 over the same four months of 1954. Operating revenues for the January -April period totaled $127,510,514, an increase of $4,340,141 over the first four months of last year.

Alfalfa Test Plots To Be Inspected HereNextTuesday

A research man from the University of Maryland Experiment Station will be in Allegany County next Tuesday to inspect demonstration plots of alfalfa on the Shumaker Brothers farm on the McMullen Highway at Pinto, according to Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent.

Steger said the test plots include seven varieties of alfalfa which were set out in May of 1952. The demonstration is part of a program to determine the most suitable varieties for this county.

Dr. Thomas Ronningen, a research man from the university, will be here to direct the demonstration Tuesday. Farmers of the county are invited to attend the program which starts at 10 a. m.

Steger said Dr. Ronningen will harvest a part of each test plot and weigh the alfalfa. The best variety for yield will be determined. The plots have both high fertility and low fertility sections and Dr. Ronningen will analyze the results at the Tuesday demonstration.

The varieties which were planted include Grimm, Kansas Common, Narragansett, Williamsburg, Atlantic, Buffalo and Ranger.

Meanwhile, the county farm agent said four varieties of tomato plants have been distributed to three farmers by the university Extension Service to determine the best varieties.

Andrew Duncan, vegetable specialist at the university, has selected queen, manalucie, val north and valient tomato varieties for the test. Farmers have reported some difficulty in ripening of some tomatoes in the past and the test plots are being used to ascertain which varieties are most suitable as far as ripening is concerned, Steger said.

The tomato plots will be set out on the Theodore Stegmaier farm on Williams Road, the Floyd Buser farm on Oliver Beltz Road and Lawrence Twigg farm on Murley's Branch Road.

The world used 29 million pounds of cobalt in 1954.

Sidna M. Moyer, Ellerslie; John Longerbeam, 104 Gleason Street; and Edward L. Thomas, 221 Centre Street, Frostburg, were presented watches by R. Finley Thompson, Amcelle plant manager of the Celanese Corporation, after 25 years of employment.

Mrs. Moyer is an operator in textile down-twisting. She is the mother of eight married children, and the grandmother of 18. She is a collector of salt and pepper shakers and for many years has been a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Carpenters' Union.

Longerbeam is an operator in textile down-twisting. He is married. During World War II he was a Marine.

Byron O. Waite, superintendent of textile, awarded them Celanese emblems and certificates.

Thomas is a general machine fixer in the textile engineering section. He is married and has two adult children and two grandchildren.

W. D. Claus, engineer, awarded Thomas an emblem and certificate.

Plan Bible School

The Wiley Ford Church of the Nazarene will conduct a Vacation Bible School June 1-10 from 9 a. m. to noon. Mrs. Jack Holso of Ashtabula, Ohio, will be in charge. The age limit ranges from 4 to 16.

Motorist Involved In Crash Fined

Melvin E. Holliday, 67, of 907 Louisiana Avenue, the driver of the automobile which injured three persons last week when it jumped the curb and plunged into a store front on North Centre Street, was fined $25 and costs at a hearing yesterday before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

Holliday, who pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge, informed court he was "sorry it happened" and said all costs resulting from the accident would be taken care of by insurance.

After sentencing Holliday, Mason informed him he would recommend to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles that a physical examination of the elderly motorist be made in order to establish his ability to operate high-powered vehicles.

Celanese Declares 12½ Cent Dividend

Directors of Celanese Corporation of America have declared a dividend of 12½ cents a share on the common, payable June 24, 1955 to holders of record June 3.

The board also voted regular quarterly dividends of $1.12½ on the preferred stock, series A, and $1.75 on the 7 per cent second preferred stock. Both preferred stock dividends are payable July 1 to holders of record June 3.

Parks Will Open

Shawnee and Blue Knob State Parks will officially open for their summer seasons Saturday.

John Genter, superintendent of both parks, said two new concessions stands have been added at Shawnee this year. In addition to the two old stands, near the swimming area and above the boat docks, there will be a stand in the tenting area and another in the parking lot which overlooks the beach.

About 75 new tenting sites, six new toilets and 150 more picnic tables have been added at Shawnee.

The Latter Day Saints church temple in Salt Lake City took 40 years to build.

Cresaptown Man Gets Term For Auto Larceny

A Cresaptown area man was sentenced to the Maryland Reformatory for Males in Circuit Court yesterday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris on a charge of auto larceny.

Judge Harris gave William D. R. Lease, 25, a term not to exceed two years. The jurist commented that Lease has been periodically in trouble with law enforcement officers since he was 16 years old. At that time he was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys for the larceny of a bicycle.

He has been involved in the theft of three cars, Judge Harris said and in the 1954 term of Circuit Court received sentence of two years but was paroled.

In the second case before Judge Harris a suspended term of one year in the House of Correction was given Milton P. Cuthbertson, Lonaconing, on a charge of non-support of his wife and child.

Cuthbertson had appealed a one-year sentence imposed in Trial Magistrates' Court on the non-support charge. His attorney in yesterday's case was George Hughes Jr. The court suspended the sentence on Cuthbertson with the admonition that he actively seek employment. The man had been unemployed for some time.

Assistant State's Attorney James Getty prosecuted both cases before the court.

There are no cases scheduled either today or Saturday but a number of civil trials are tentatively set for next week after the Memorial Day holiday is over.

Rural free delivery was first suggested in 1891, but it didn't start until 1896 in a small way in West Virginia.

Welfare Needs Decrease

For the second straight month the caseload of the Allegany County Welfare Board has shown a slight decrease, according to Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director.

The report for April reflects the decrease. March also showed a decrease and Mrs. Westerfeld said the indications are encouraging for continuance of the trend. It is the first reduction noted in the past year after increases eacn month.

A total of $77,286.60 was expended on welfare payments during April in Allegany County.

Old age assistance was provided to 651 individuals at $26,347.91 with the average grant $40.47. There were four cases added during the month and seven cancelled. Aid to dependent children was given to 937 children of 343 families at a cost of $29,936.58. The average grant was $87.28 per family. Fifteen cases were added during the month and 10 cancelled.

Public assistance to the needy blind was provided 28 persons at a cost of $1,236.34. The average grant was $44.16. There was no change in the caseload. Aid to the permanently and totally disabled was provided 311 individuals at a cost of $13,335.78 with the average grant $42.88. There were four cases added and three cancelled during the month.

General public assistance was provided 83 persons for $3,766.74 with the average grant $45.38. Seven cases were added and 11 cancelled during the month. There were 58 children given foster care at a cost of $2,663.25 with the average grant $45.92. Three cases were added and one cancelled during the month.

Local 26 Schedules Ratification Meetings

Members of Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America (CIO), will hold two meetings today and Saturday at which ratification of amendments to the agreement will be acted upon, according to William G. Rice, president.

Rice said the membership will meet today at 7:30 p. m. for first and third shift workers and on Saturday at 10 a. m. and for other shift workers.

The membership will vote on ratification of pension, insurance and severance pay agreements as amended. No details were released by Rice as to the proposal.

Bids Are Asked For Razing Homes

The city is advertising for bids for the razing or removal of eight city-owned dwellings on Riverview Place.

Bids will be received until Monday, June 6, at 10 a. m. when the Mayor and Council will open them.

The row of two-story brick houses will be leveled to make way for the flood levee to be built on the Maryland side of the Potomac River.

Butter steady. Receipts 558,473. Prices unchanged.

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — Strong demand for a wide range of issues today sent the stock market ahead substantially.

Buyers focused their attention on stocks because of earnings reports, rumors of mergers, hopes for stock splits, a continued high level of business, and prospects of higher production and profits to come.

Steels and aluminums were strong throughout the day, as they were yesterday. Just before the close, the aircrafts come to life with a higher rush as recommendations were made in Washington for stepped up warplane production to meet defense needs.

Also higher as a group were coppers, chemicals, oils, and the railroads which produced excellent gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.20 at $165.00.

The industrial component of the average today was up $1.60 and the railroads were ahead $1.50 while the utilities backed down 10 cents.

Volume expanded on the rise to 2,260,000 shares. That compares with 2,100,000 shares traded yesterday and only 1,650,000 the previous day.

Oliver Corp. was the day's most active issue up 1⅛ at 16½ on 34,600 shares. The company reported profits for six months ended April 30 equal to $1.29 a share as against 50 cents a year ago.

4-H Boys Will Stage Demonstration

Allegany County Boys 4-H Club members will compete in Allegany County Court House Saturday at 10 a. m. to put on the best electrical demonstration.

James Weamert, assistant county farm agent, said scholarships to Maryland 4-H Club Week at University of Maryland this summer will be presented to the two boys staging the best demonstrations.

There will also be other scholarship awards, each for a week at Allegany-Garrett 4-H Camp this summer, Weamert said.

The contest is sponsored by the public utilities of Maryland in conjunction with the 4-H program. In this area, the utility is the Potomac Edison Company.

There are many more breweries than distilleries in the United States.

Butter steady. Receipts 558,473. Prices unchanged.

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — Strong demand for a wide range of issues today sent the stock market ahead substantially.

Buyers focused their attention on stocks because of earnings reports, rumors of mergers, hopes for stock splits, a continued high level of business, and prospects of higher production and profits to come.

Steels and aluminums were strong throughout the day, as they were yesterday. Just before the close, the aircrafts come to life with a higher rush as recommendations were made in Washington for stepped up warplane production to meet defense needs.

Also higher as a group were coppers, chemicals, oils, and the railroads which produced excellent gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.20 at $165.00.

The industrial component of the average today was up $1.60 and the railroads were ahead $1.50 while the utilities backed down 10 cents.

Volume expanded on the rise to 2,260,000 shares. That compares with 2,100,000 shares traded yesterday and only 1,650,000 the previous day.

Oliver Corp. was the day's most active issue up 1⅛ at 16½ on 34,600 shares. The company reported profits for six months ended April 30 equal to $1.29 a share as against 50 cents a year ago.

4-H Boys Will Stage Demonstration

Allegany County Boys 4-H Club members will compete in Allegany County Court House Saturday at 10 a. m. to put on the best electrical demonstration.

James Weamert, assistant county farm agent, said scholarships to Maryland 4-H Club Week at University of Maryland this summer will be presented to the two boys staging the best demonstrations.

There will also be other scholarship awards, each for a week at Allegany-Garrett 4-H Camp this summer, Weamert said.

The contest is sponsored by the public utilities of Maryland in conjunction with the 4-H program. In this area, the utility is the Potomac Edison Company.

There are many more breweries than distilleries in the United States.

Another Sports Car Event Approaching

Two weeks ago, in the midst of the successful Old Fashioned Days celebration, Cumberland was host to the country's largest sports car races at the municipal airport.

This Sunday some of these same sports car enthusiasts as well as others who have raced here in previous years will return.

But this time, instead of flat course racing, the competitors will be racing against time over the perilous curves and steep slopes of Breakneck Road, a name that under the circumstances could hardly be more fitting.

The number of participants will of necessity be smaller but there can be no question that spectators will be in for thrills galore as the drivers speed their fascinating, expensive sports cars over the 1¼-mile course.

One of the reasons there will be fewer contestants lies in the fact that many sports car owners do not fancy hill climb competition.

Another is that only one car will be running at a time although each driver will be putting forth his best effort to cover the course in the fastest time. This naturally limits the number of cars that can be entered so that the ideal number will be 40 to 50 and fully that many are expected.

Nonetheless, as Dr. Benedict Skitarelic puts it, "We'll have the cream of the crop." Dr. Skitarelic, incidentally, is the prime mover behind the hill climb competition and along with his official duties in that capacity also will be among the participants as will Mrs. Skitarelic.

The event is being sponsored by the Washington Region, Sports Car Club of America, and the Flintstone Volunteer Firemen, the latter group receiving all of the proceeds, and they have done a terrific job, along with help from the county in cutting roadside weeds, preparing parking facilities, removing obstructions so that spectators will have a clear view, and a myriad of other tasks that associate themselves with an undertaking of this sort.

Cumberland and the area rapidly is becoming a sports car center for America and credit is due all those people who have combined their efforts to bring this second sports car event here this month. We hope their venture is a success.

Counterpart Funds

LONDON — There has been some talk in Congress about the use of the British of the counterpart funds for the reduction of their national debt. The talk was unfavorable. The point must be made that while the Marshall Plan was very popular among the British it has run its course, and the defense aid which followed it is of value but not of the same value as the Marshall Plan because of changed conditions. Also the insistence upon giving some aid in the form of agricultural material out of the stockpiles or such products as grapefruit, which is an unusual food here, does sometimes make for complication.

It is freely admitted here that some of the counterpart funds were used to reduce the national debt. It is suggested that it was a use that did not neutralize the benefit of dollar aid by creating an inflation. In a word, unless defenses were set up, the huge influx of dollars could have stimulated inflation. On the other hand, American public opinion was insistent that Marshall Plan money should not subsidize the budgets of receiving nations.

It was put to me this way. This was the origin of the "special account," namely the system by which sterling counterpart (the proceeds of selling the dollar goods by which aid was brought into the country) was paid into a special account at the Bank of England and drawings out of the account could only be made by the Treasury with the approval of the United States.

One of the objects specified in the Marshall Plan agreement was the extinction of debt. And as an act of deliberate policy the British government decided, with the approval of the American authorities, to dispose of the sterling in the special account in this way and not to spend it on the capital investment which was the pattern adopted for counterpart in continental countries. The British concept of their economy is to protect the balance of payments while avoiding inflation, and the surprising thing is that they have done it. They used our assistance under the Marshall Plan to do it, but what must be said of them that cannot be said of some other countries is that they used our aid well and to their permanent advantage; it did not go down the drain.

On the continent of Europe, counterpart funds were used to increase the number and volume of state or privately-owned investment projects. In Great Britain investments were restricted to maintain the internal economic balance in order to avoid inflation. Even so there were too many state investments coming out of war conditions and it was not considered politically or economically advisable to use Marshall Plan counterpart funds to aid private investments.

The total of sterling counterpart funds amounted to about 560,000,000 pounds or about 1,500,000,000 dollars. The United States got five per cent of this and after making some deductions for small items the bulk of this amount was used to extinguish the national debt. Special arrangements were made that this use did not increase inflation. The debt reduction consisted of special non-interest bearing notes in which the counterpart was invested by the Bank of England where it was lodged in a special account. It did not increase cash circulation. The Marshall aid period was 1948-1951 and the amount of counterpart applied to debt extinction in each year was as follows:

1949-1950	92,000,000	"
1950-1951	275,000,000	"
1951-1952	55,000,000	"
Totalling	529,000,000	pounds.

This amounts to $1,481,200,000.

It is not understandable why there should be any secrecy about such a matter and it undoubtedly has been published elsewhere. When I left on this trip it was spoken of as a great secret. The British have to avoid inflation because their economy rests on a fine hair. They are about 50,000,000 people who live on islands that can produce food for about 15,000,000 people, which, quite apart from the serious question of raw materials, metals, woods, fibers, food, takes on an importance here which it cannot have in the United States where we stockpile butter and wheat. The British can import ample food now but they want to keep it that way and all their economic maneuvering is designed to that end.

"What's My Line?"

Return To Reality Possible With British Election Over

By David Lawrence

LONDON—Now that the British election campaign is over, this part of the world and maybe America, too, can turn from illusions and wishful thinking to realities. For there is no question but that the build-up of the last several months toward the contest for control of Parliament has colored the pronouncements of policy with an eagerness to convey the impression that peace was just around the corner.

So much has been written in the editorials of the newspapers here about a possible "relaxation of tension" that it has become a daily bromide designed to make the people believe that by more talk and by four-power conferences something tangible is being accomplished. The other day in Paris, when this correspondent asked Charles E. Bohlen, American ambassador to Soviet Russia, whether he noticed any relaxation of tension, he smiled and countered with a question of his own: "What do you mean by 'tension'?"

Penetrating Query

This query seems to me to be quite penetrating. For afterward, as I began to wonder how one does measure the increase or decrease of tension in the world, it seemed to me that it all depends on whether unpleasant truths are faced or the facts are glossed over, as, for instance, in a political campaign like this one or in the preliminary stages of our own campaign of 1956.

The worldwide situation has in it just as many factors of danger as it had in June 1950, when the aggressors broke loose in Korea. By the use of the phrases "cold war" and "hot war," many people are given the impression that as long as the "cold war" stays cold there cannot be any "hot war" and that hence peace is here and likely to stay. But a careful look around the world reveals that the "cold war" contains all the potential ingredients of a "hot war."

Thus, as one surveys what is happening inside the Western countries, the picture of a relentless enemy penetrating country after country with his agents comes into focus. Across the northern tier of Africa, in Algiers, in Morocco, and in Tunisia which must provide us with military bases, there is internal trouble under the phony banner of "nationalism." Aided and abetted by glib talk of "anti-colonialism" in America, the agents of the Communist military apparatus stir up rebeillion and bloodshed.

Military Situation Worrisome

It's the same story in Asia, where the riots in Singapore recently revealed how insidiously the Peiping government is using overseas Chinese now to foment dissension. It is an open secret that the Communists can take Malaya from the British any time they want to do so. It is well known that Red China is making a close alliance with Indonesia, where a Communist sympathizer rules as a dictator. India has been afflicted with "neutralism" and her Krishna Menon plays a crafty game for the Communists on the diplomatic front. It's all part of the so-called "cold war."

In Europe the military situation is worrisome. Austria has been detached from the West as a military base, and Yugoslavia wants the same status. Italy is weak from Communist activity inside her political structure, and France is torn with political warfare fomented in large part by the Communists. The whole panorama is one that may well fill realists with concern.

On top of all this is the latest example of the mischief provoked by the presidential press conference idea. Mr. Eisenhower answered offhand last week a simple question about a belt of neutral states being developed in Europe. He didn't say he favored it, and it was obvious he was describing Russia's latest tactic. But, instead of revising carefully and amplifying the comment before authorizing a quotation, the White House was again at the mercy of the reporters, who without making further efforts to get the real meaning telegraphed around the world an ambiguous statement that disturbed Germany. It gave the impression America agreed with or was sponsoring the Russian proposal.

Reassured By Dulles

So the American government, through Secretary Dulles, two days later had to reassure the German ambassador that nothing of the kind was intended—as, of course, a careful reading of the transcript of the press conference would show. Meanwhile, the correspondents in Bonn had telegraphed to their newspapers abroad that Adenauer was in a panic and was calling his ambassadors home for a conference on account of the supposedly dangerous trend in America toward an abandonment of Germany.

This doesn't add up to a diminution of "tension." The press has insisted on off-the-cuff press conferences, and the White House has been afraid to edit transcripts for fear of seeing more stories emphasizing what was edited out or added. Sometimes one wonders to what extent exaggerated ideas of the hour-by-hour needs of the press are responsible for much of the trouble between nations and for many of the opportunities the Communists are given to exploit differences between the Western Allies. Diplomacy should report to the people, but a President of the United States ought not to be expected to deal with world problems in impromptu press conferences without a chance for serious study with his secretary of state. For every word spoken at the White House can and does produce a chain reaction around the world.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

One specific result of our Asiatic conferences on the portfolio circuit is that all Chinamen no longer look alike.

Possibly the next one will accomplish something in the physiognomic classification of the diplomatic Russians who all look similar walking out.

We have over-stuffed hopes that the summer tournament of the four powers will bring more results than cracking a bottle of champagne on the wreck of the Hesperus.

Will the Moscow mules be the same delegates of Hunter College gymnasium, Lake Success and the U.N. argutorium on the East River? We remember beating Molotov to the emergency exit best two out of three.

The welcome mat was always on the trapdoor of Russian diplomacy. The minute you stepped on it you had completed a round trip in the pursuit of the unattainable.

Our State Department is anxiously optimistic about the results of the hot weather conference. We have read the tea leaves, consulted the stars and put a telephone tap on the Delphic Oracle.

But we're doing no better than we did with the Grand Mufti of the Sahara. That old Arabian slicker always had oases back to back.

We're hoping to get enough peace out of the conference to butter a bean. But if we judge the future by the past it looks like another moonlight sail up Salt Creek.

Senator Bill Knowland says any agreement wouldn't be worth the paper to wrap it up. He points to violations of Finland, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Latvia and Estonia. There are many more but Bill ran out of fingers.

So we'll be there with a hair in a tight bun. And we'll snowball the lay-out. We'll have a bet on everything.

Pancreas Is One Of Most Baffling Abdominal Organs

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The pancreas is one of our most baffling abdominal organs. It is six to eight inches long, lies below the stomach, and extends from the spleen on the left to the first part of the small intestine on the right. The gland is unique in having a dual function.

Some of the cells manufacture insulin, which is absorbed directly into the blood where it controls the metabolism of sugar. A deficiency in this department is responsible for diabetes. Other pancreatic cells manufacture enzymes that are discharged into the bowel through a narrow channel leading to the duodenum.

These secretions are powerful ferments that "condition" the various foodstuffs awaiting digestion in the small intestine. They include trypsin, lipase, and amylase which are as potent as the hydrochloric acid and pepsin present in the stomach.

Inflammation of the pancreas (pancreatitis) is a painful and serious disorder. The acute variety may last less than 10 days but follows a stormy course and now and then is fatal. Pain, which is constant, agonizing, and intense, is located in the upper abdomen and frequently radiates to the back. Fever, loss of appetite, nausea, and vomiting may occur. Many victims collapse or go into shock.

Diagnosis is difficult unless the physician suspects the pancreas and does certain laboratory tests during the first 24 to 48 hours. The caustic action of the enzymes that escape into the abdominal cavity is what makes the acute attack so painful. Peritonitis ensues.

Chronic pancreatitis is not so severe. Upper abdominal pain is more diffuse and cramping in nature. Symptoms continue over a longer period and have a tendency to come and go. A recurrence of pain is common following a heavy meal or an alcoholic spree.

It is here that the illusive nature of the pancreas is realized, more so when infection is mild and transient. Victims of chronic pancreatitis often are labeled neurotic because the cause of pain escapes detection. Inflammation of the pancreas usually is secondary to abnormalities of the gall bladder such as infection, gallstones, or tumor.

Other origins of infection in the pancreas include injury, mumps, scarlet fever, disturbances in circulation, and spread of infection from an adjacent organ. In most instances, infected gall bladder filled with stones is found and removal of the gall bladder leads to cure.

Meanwhile, the physician employs pain relieving drugs along with the antibiotics and ACTH or cortisone. Diet is important and alcohol is strictly taboo.

TOMORROW: Quacks have always flourished.

SMOKING AND PREGNANCY

Mrs. S. writes: I'm pregnant and my husband thinks I ought to give up smoking. Is the unborn child affected by nicotine?

REPLY

Studies by Sontag and Wallace indicate that the toxic products of smoking pass into the circulation of the child, particularly when the mother inhales. This causes an increase in the heart beat of the unborn baby. If smoking is continued by the mother, it should at least be cut down.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

The difference between tamales in the U.S.A. and in Mexico, explains Pepe Montiguez, is that in the States they're merely hot; in Mexico, they're still sizzling ten minutes after you've eaten them. There's one place in Mexico City, swears Pepe, where, if three people are eating hot tamales at the same time, the automatic sprinkler system goes on.

Like to spend a few days in a brand-new place, far off the beaten track? Editor Charles Rice picked these out of an up-to-the-minute atlas: Vacation, Calif.; Frostproof, Fla.; Cooler, S. C.; Chill, Wis., and Delightful, Ohio. Further research uncovered Social Circle, Ga.; Breakfast Hill, N. H.; Yawn, La., and Kissimmee, Fla.

Be seeing ya!

Approaching the school zone of a New Mexico town there's a sign warning: "Ten miles an hour! Don't kill a child." A thoughtful student has added below, "Wait for the principal!"

Woman Who Fought For Public, Small Broadcaster Being Dropped From FCC

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—While one lady in high office who has helped cause confusion in the polio crisis is planning to bow out, another lady who has done a terrific job for the American public in regard to television is being fired.

The first lady, of course, is Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, who will leave the cabinet when the Salk vaccine confusion has died down and when she will not be retreating under fire.

The second lady is Miss Frieda Hennock, first woman ever to be appointed to the Federal Communications Commission, who is being dropped as her term expires in June. Her replacement will be Richard Mack, a Florida utilities commissioner, reported to be a friend of the telephone company. His appointment will be the third utilities commissioner and friend of A. T. and T. Ike has appointed; the others being John Doerfer of Wisconsin and John McConnaughey of Ohio.

Meanwhile, scores of little broadcasters and TV independents meeting in Washington this week paid tribute to the lone lady who has fought the battles of the small radio-TV stations.

It was Commissioner Hennock who demanded and got 257 TV channels set aside for education. It was Miss Hennock who fought valiantly for the smaller ultra high frequency stations which have been blanketed out by the big networks.

It was Miss Hennock alone who dissented from giving American Tel and Tel an $80,000,000 increase in rates. It was Miss Hennock who fought for 800 small daytime radio stations, who campaigned against crime and horror on television, and who opposed the increasing trend toward monopoly of communications.

And it's Miss Hennock who, despite her battles for the public and for the little broadcaster, is now being fired.

Soft Toward Communism

The Democrats have had their noses so relentlessly rubbed in the charge of being soft-toward-Communists that it will be interesting to see what they do about Ike's recent error in the same direction.

He has just appointed a man to the Subversive Control Board who was definitely soft toward the Communist film-writers in Hollywood. Ex-Congressman John S. Wood of Georgia, the Eisenhower appointee in question, also paid $15 initiation fee to join the Ku Klux Klan though later, he says, backing out; also hired a former Klansman, Walter Lecraw, to be counsel of the Un-American Activities Committee. The Klan, of course, is on the list of subversive organizations which Wood as a member of the Subversive Control Board will have to pass judgment on.

Here is more of the inside story on the man now picked to sit on a board which rules on subversive organizations.

Hollywood Probe

Back in 1945, the old Dies Committee had accumulated information that some of the top film-writers in Hollywood were Communists. So, when Congressman Wood inherited the Dies Committee in July 1945, one of the first scheduled jobs was to probe Hollywood.

In preparation for this, a committee investigator, Louis J. Russell, had gone to Hollywood and collected important information. This was supplemented by two ex-FBI agents, H. A. Smith and A. B. Leckie.

But, after assembling this information, Congressman Wood did nothing. There was nothing wrong with the information. Later, it proved potent enough to send 10 of the film-writers to jail. It also served the Republicans with a dynamite-laden investigation after they took over from Wood in 1947.

But Wood, when chairman of the committee, did absolutely nothing about probing Hollywood. He simply let the information gather dust in his files. Finally, in December of 1946, after the Democrats had lost control of Congress and Wood was about to step down, he went out to Hollywood and was wined and dined. But he made no investigation.

And it was only after Wood was replaced as chairman that the Hollywood probe began and 10 screen-writers went to jail.

That is the record of the man Ike has picked to replace American Legionnaire Watson Miller on the Subversive Control Board.

Mysterious Lawyer

Now, let's see why it was that Congressman Wood suddenly became soft toward communism in Hollywood.

Astute Louis B. Mayer, head of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, had suddenly hired an obscure attorney from Wood's district in Georgia—Edgar Dunlap.

Mayer had many high priced attorneys in Washington — ranging from Alfons Landa and Ellsworth Alvord to Jimmie Byrnes, the ex-secretary of state, and Paul McNutt, former governor of Indiana. Both of the latter represented the motion-picture industry. Ignoring them, however, he reached into Georgia and hired an unknown attorney, Edgar Dunlap, to handle the proposed probe before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

For Dunlap had one great advantage. He was a close friend of Congressman Wood.

The strategy worked. Not only was the probe of Hollywood delayed two years, but later, when the Republicans insisted on holding the probe, Wood sat on the committee and defended Hollywood witnesses.

The Know-How Myth

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

At his press conference a few days ago, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson administered the expected large dose of soothing syrup, when he was asked about the status of American and Soviet airpower. Technological know-how, one of his subordinates pointed out, is "the real key to superiority in the air," and Secretary Wilson made plain his conviction that American know-how is somehow inherently and unquestionably superior.

No doubt this conviction is entirely sincere. It is difficult for Americans, especially Americans with Secretary Wilson's background, to believe that the backRussians really are capable of surpassing this country in technological achievement. Yet the cold, hard facts suggest that the Russians have done just that—and the British too, for that matter.

Develop More Thrust

Take jet engines. The power of a jet engine, which largely determines the quality of a jet plane, is measured in thousands of pounds of "thrust." Our best operational jet engine, designed and produced by Pratt and Whitney, develops a claimed thrust of 10,000 pounds. It is a fine engine. Yet there are at least two and probably three British engines which develop more thrust than any operational engine produced in this country.

Indeed, although the aircraft industry does not shout the fact from the house tops, American air power is dependent to a remarkable degree on British-designed engines manufactured here on license from Britain. The most important single contribution to American air power of Secretary Wilson's old company, General Motors, is probably the production of British-designed Sapphire engines. American naval air is particularly dependent on British engine design. At least one authority maintains that British jet "know-how" has rescued American air power from near oblivion in the jet age.

It should be a shock to most people's complacency that the British, with a defense budget a tiny fraction of our own, should have moved so far ahead of us in jet technology. But it really ought to shock even Secretary Wilson's complacency that the Soviets in turn are unquestionably ahead of the British.

Nose-Thumbing Gesture

Consider the story of the Bison, the new Soviet heavy bomber. The Bison has four engines, as compared with eight engines on its American equivalent, the B-52. A single Bison was flown low over the American embassy on May Day 1954. When pictures and performance data on this nose-thumbing gesture reached the Pentagon, the experts figured on their slide rules that each of the Bison's four engines must deliver a thrust of 18,000 to 20,000 pounds.

This meant almost double the thrust delivered by any American jet engine and well above the thrust of any British engine. It meant a genuinely frightening technological lead for the Soviets. Rather than accept this meaning with all its implications, the Pentagon powers-that-be developed the "Potemkin Village Theory" to explain the new bomber. Prince Potemkin was, of course, the favorite of Queen Catherine II of Russia. He erected fake villages along the Queen's route in order to delude and please her.

Suppose, the Pentagon powers-that-be said, the Russians had made a fake heavy bomber with outward characteristics like the Bison, but capable only of short hauls with no payload, to delude and frighten us. The experts obligingly figured that a fake Bison could be powered with engines of less than 8,000 pounds thrust, and thereafter the Potemkin Village Theory to explain the Bison was happily put about.

The recent flights over Moscow of formations of operational Bisons knocked the Potemkin Village Theory into smithereens. A feeble echo of the theory appeared in Secretary Wilson's wistful press conference remark, to the effect that the planes might be handmade prototypes. But this notion flies in the face of all the evidence, and if Secretary Wilson really believes it, he is the last man in the Pentagon who does.

No Cause For Despair

In short, hard as it is to credit, the Soviets have achieved a commanding technological lead over us in the key field of jet engine design. This is, of course, no cause for despair. In other important fields, American technology maintains a real advantage. Moreover, thanks above all to our force of well over a thousand B-477 medium bombers, we still probably enjoy a superior long range striking power, despite our much weaker air defenses.

Indeed, if Secretary Wilson had chosen to say what was really in the minds of most informed Air Force, he could have done so very briefly—"Thank God for the B-47." But even in this field of the medium bomber, where our superiority is still real, the Soviets are pushing hard with their equivalent aircraft, the Badger, which also has superior jet engines. And surely the above facts suggest that self-deceiving complacency about "American know-how" is as dangerous as the Bison and the Badger put together. There is plenty of evidence that Secretary Wilson and his associates are not only deceiving the people about the seriousness of the Soviet air power threat—they are also deceiving themselves.

Another Sports Car Event Approaching

Two weeks ago, in the midst of the successful Old Fashioned Days celebration, Cumberland was host to the country's largest sports car races at the municipal airport.

This Sunday some of these same sports car enthusiasts as well as others who have raced here in previous years will return.

But this time, instead of flat course racing, the competitors will be racing against time over the perilous curves and steep slopes of Breakneck Road, a name that under the circumstances could hardly be more fitting.

The number of participants will of necessity be smaller but there can be no question that spectators will be in for thrills galore as the drivers speed their fascinating, expensive sports cars over the 1¼-mile course.

One of the reasons there will be fewer contestants lies in the fact that many sports car owners do not fancy hill climb competition.

Another is that only one car will be running at a time although each driver will be putting forth his best effort to cover the course in the fastest time. This naturally limits the number of cars that can be entered so that the ideal number will be 40 to 50 and fully that many are expected.

Nonetheless, as Dr. Benedict Skitarelic puts it, "We'll have the cream of the crop." Dr. Skitarelic, incidentally, is the prime mover behind the hill climb competition and along with his official duties in that capacity also will be among the participants as will Mrs. Skitarelic.

The event is being sponsored by the Washington Region, Sports Car Club of America, and the Flintstone Volunteer Firemen, the latter group receiving all of the proceeds, and they have done a terrific job, along with help from the county in cutting roadside weeds, preparing parking facilities, removing obstructions so that spectators will have a clear view, and a myriad of other tasks that associate themselves with an undertaking of this sort.

Cumberland and the area rapidly is becoming a sports car center for America and credit is due all those people who have combined their efforts to bring this second sports car event here this month. We hope their venture is a success.

Counterpart Funds

LONDON — There has been some talk in Congress about the use of the British of the counterpart funds for the reduction of their national debt. The talk was unfavorable. The point must be made that while the Marshall Plan was very popular among the British it has run its course, and the defense aid which followed it is of value but not of the same value as the Marshall Plan because of changed conditions. Also the insistence upon giving some aid in the form of agricultural material out of the stockpiles or such products as grapefruit, which is an unusual food here, does sometimes make for complication.

It is freely admitted here that some of the counterpart funds were used to reduce the national debt. It is suggested that it was a use that did not neutralize the benefit of dollar aid by creating an inflation. In a word, unless defenses were set up, the huge influx of dollars could have stimulated inflation. On the other hand, American public opinion was insistent that Marshall Plan money should not subsidize the budgets of receiving nations.

It was put to me this way. This was the origin of the "special account," namely the system by which sterling counterpart (the proceeds of selling the dollar goods by which aid was brought into the country) was paid into a special account at the Bank of England and drawings out of the account could only be made by the Treasury with the approval of the United States.

One of the objects specified in the Marshall Plan agreement was the extinction of debt. And as an act of deliberate policy the British government decided, with the approval of the American authorities, to dispose of the sterling in the special account in this way and not to spend it on the capital investment which was the pattern adopted for counterpart in continental countries. The British concept of their economy is to protect the balance of payments while avoiding inflation, and the surprising thing is that they have done it. They used our assistance under the Marshall Plan to do it, but what must be said of them that cannot be said of some other countries is that they used our aid well and to their permanent advantage; it did not go down the drain.

On the continent of Europe, counterpart funds were used to increase the number and volume of state or privately-owned investment projects. In Great Britain investments were restricted to maintain the internal economic balance in order to avoid inflation. Even so there were too many state investments coming out of war conditions and it was not considered politically or economically advisable to use Marshall Plan counterpart funds to aid private investments.

The total of sterling counterpart funds amounted to about 560,000,000 pounds or about 1,500,000,000 dollars. The United States got five per cent of this and after making some deductions for small items the bulk of this amount was used to extinguish the national debt. Special arrangements were made that this use did not increase inflation. The debt reduction consisted of special non-interest bearing notes in which the counterpart was invested by the Bank of England where it was lodged in a special account. It did not increase cash circulation. The Marshall aid period was 1948-1951 and the amount of counterpart applied to debt extinction in each year was as follows:

1949-1950	92,000,000	"
1950-1951	275,000,000	"
1951-1952	55,000,000	"
Totalling	529,000,000	pounds.

This amounts to $1,481,200,000.

It is not understandable why there should be any secrecy about such a matter and it undoubtedly has been published elsewhere. When I left on this trip it was spoken of as a great secret. The British have to avoid inflation because their economy rests on a fine hair. They are about 50,000,000 people who live on islands that can produce food for about 15,000,000 people, which, quite apart from the serious question of raw materials, metals, woods, fibers, food, takes on an importance here which it cannot have in the United States where we stockpile butter and wheat. The British can import ample food now but they want to keep it that way and all their economic maneuvering is designed to that end.

"What's My Line?"

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—While one lady in high office who has helped cause confusion in the polio crisis is planning to bow out, another lady who has done a terrific job for the American public in regard to television is being fired.

The first lady, of course, is Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, who will leave the cabinet when the Salk vaccine confusion has died down and when she will not be retreating under fire.

The second lady is Miss Frieda Hennock, first woman ever to be appointed to the Federal Communications Commission, who is being dropped as her term expires in June. Her replacement will be Richard Mack, a Florida utilities commissioner, reported to be a friend of the telephone company. His appointment will be the third utilities commissioner and friend of A. T. and T. Ike has appointed; the others being John Doerfer of Wisconsin and John McConnaughey of Ohio.

Meanwhile, scores of little broadcasters and TV independents meeting in Washington this week paid tribute to the lone lady who has fought the battles of the small radio-TV stations.

It was Commissioner Hennock who demanded and got 257 TV channels set aside for education. It was Miss Hennock who fought valiantly for the smaller ultra high frequency stations which have been blanketed out by the big networks.

It was Miss Hennock alone who dissented from giving American Tel and Tel an $80,000,000 increase in rates. It was Miss Hennock who fought for 800 small daytime radio stations, who campaigned against crime and horror on television, and who opposed the increasing trend toward monopoly of communications.

And it's Miss Hennock who, despite her battles for the public and for the little broadcaster, is now being fired.

Soft Toward Communism

The Democrats have had their noses so relentlessly rubbed in the charge of being soft-toward-Communists that it will be interesting to see what they do about Ike's recent error in the same direction.

He has just appointed a man to the Subversive Control Board who was definitely soft toward the Communist film-writers in Hollywood. Ex-Congressman John S. Wood of Georgia, the Eisenhower appointee in question, also paid $15 initiation fee to join the Ku Klux Klan though later, he says, backing out; also hired a former Klansman, Walter Lecraw, to be counsel of the Un-American Activities Committee. The Klan, of course, is on the list of subversive organizations which Wood as a member of the Subversive Control Board will have to pass judgment on.

Here is more of the inside story on the man now picked to sit on a board which rules on subversive organizations.

Hollywood Probe

Back in 1945, the old Dies Committee had accumulated information that some of the top film-writers in Hollywood were Communists. So, when Congressman Wood inherited the Dies Committee in July 1945, one of the first scheduled jobs was to probe Hollywood.

In preparation for this, a committee investigator, Louis J. Russell, had gone to Hollywood and collected important information. This was supplemented by two ex-FBI agents, H. A. Smith and A. B. Leckie.

But, after assembling this information, Congressman Wood did nothing. There was nothing wrong with the information. Later, it proved potent enough to send 10 of the film-writers to jail. It also served the Republicans with a dynamite-laden investigation after they took over from Wood in 1947.

But Wood, when chairman of the committee, did absolutely nothing about probing Hollywood. He simply let the information gather dust in his files. Finally, in December of 1946, after the Democrats had lost control of Congress and Wood was about to step down, he went out to Hollywood and was wined and dined. But he made no investigation.

And it was only after Wood was replaced as chairman that the Hollywood probe began and 10 screen-writers went to jail.

That is the record of the man Ike has picked to replace American Legionnaire Watson Miller on the Subversive Control Board.

Mysterious Lawyer

Now, let's see why it was that Congressman Wood suddenly became soft toward communism in Hollywood.

Astute Louis B. Mayer, head of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, had suddenly hired an obscure attorney from Wood's district in Georgia—Edgar Dunlap.

Mayer had many high priced attorneys in Washington — ranging from Alfons Landa and Ellsworth Alvord to Jimmie Byrnes, the ex-secretary of state, and Paul McNutt, former governor of Indiana. Both of the latter represented the motion-picture industry. Ignoring them, however, he reached into Georgia and hired an unknown attorney, Edgar Dunlap, to handle the proposed probe before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

For Dunlap had one great advantage. He was a close friend of Congressman Wood.

The strategy worked. Not only was the probe of Hollywood delayed two years, but later, when the Republicans insisted on holding the probe, Wood sat on the committee and defended Hollywood witnesses.

Return To Reality Possible With British Election Over

By David Lawrence

LONDON—Now that the British election campaign is over, this part of the world and maybe America, too, can turn from illusions and wishful thinking to realities. For there is no question but that the build-up of the last several months toward the contest for control of Parliament has colored the pronouncements of policy with an eagerness to convey the impression that peace was just around the corner.

So much has been written in the editorials of the newspapers here about a possible "relaxation of tension" that it has become a daily bromide designed to make the people believe that by more talk and by four-power conferences something tangible is being accomplished. The other day in Paris, when this correspondent asked Charles E. Bohlen, American ambassador to Soviet Russia, whether he noticed any relaxation of tension, he smiled and countered with a question of his own: "What do you mean by 'tension'?"

Penetrating Query

This query seems to me to be quite penetrating. For afterward, as I began to wonder how one does measure the increase or decrease of tension in the world, it seemed to me that it all depends on whether unpleasant truths are faced or the facts are glossed over, as, for instance, in a political campaign like this one or in the preliminary stages of our own campaign of 1956.

The worldwide situation has in it just as many factors of danger as it had in June 1950, when the aggressors broke loose in Korea. By the use of the phrases "cold war" and "hot war," many people are given the impression that as long as the "cold war" stays cold there cannot be any "hot war" and that hence peace is here and likely to stay. But a careful look around the world reveals that the "cold war" contains all the potential ingredients of a "hot war."

Thus, as one surveys what is happening inside the Western countries, the picture of a relentless enemy penetrating country after country with his agents comes into focus. Across the northern tier of Africa, in Algiers, in Morocco, and in Tunisia which must provide us with military bases, there is internal trouble under the phony banner of "nationalism." Aided and abetted by glib talk of "anti-colonialism" in America, the agents of the Communist military apparatus stir up rebelllion and bloodshed.

Military Situation Worrisome

It's the same story in Asia, where the riots in Singapore recently revealed how insidiously the Peiping government is using overseas Chinese now to foment dissension. It is an open secret that the Communists can take Malaya from the British any time they want to do so. It is well known that Red China is making a close alliance with Indonesia, where a Communist sympathizer rules as a dictator. India has been afflicted with "neutralism" and her Krishna Menon plays a crafty game for the Communists on the diplomatic front. It's all part of the so-called "cold war."

In Europe the military situation is worrisome. Austria has been detached from the West as a military base, and Yugoslavia wants the same status. Italy is weak from Communist activity inside her political structure, and France is torn with political warfare fomented in large part by the Communists. The whole panorama is one that may well fill realists with concern.

On top of all this is the latest example of the mischief provoked by the presidential press conference idea. Mr. Eisenhower answered offhand last week a simple question about a belt of neutral states being developed in Europe. He didn't say he favored it, and it was obvious he was describing Russia's latest tactic. But, instead of revising carefully and amplifying the comment before authorizing a quotation, the White House was again at the mercy of the reporters, who without making further efforts to get the real meaning telegraphed around the world an ambiguous statement that disturbed Germany. It gave the impression America agreed with or was sponsoring the Russian proposal.

Reassured By Dulles

So the American government, through Secretary Dulles, two days later had to reassure the German ambassador that nothing of the kind was intended—as, of course, a careful reading of the transcript of the press conference would show. Meanwhile, the correspondents in Bonn had telegraphed to their newspapers abroad that Adenauer was in a panic and was calling his ambassadors home for a conference on account of the supposedly dangerous trend in America toward an abandonment of Germany.

This doesn't add up to a diminution of "tension." The press has insisted on off-the-cuff press conferences, and the White House has been afraid to edit transcripts for fear of seeing more stories emphasizing what was edited out or added. Sometimes one wonders to what extent exaggerated ideas of the hour-by-hour needs of the press are responsible for much of the trouble between nations and for many of the opportunities the Communists are given to exploit differences between the Western Allies. Diplomacy should report to the people, but a President of the United States ought not to be expected to deal with world problems in impromptu press conferences without a chance for serious study with his secretary of state. For every word spoken at the White House can and does produce a chain reaction around the world.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

One specific result of our Asiatic conferences on the portfolio circuit is that all Chinamen no longer look alike.

Possibly the next one will accomplish something in the physiognomic classification of the diplomatic Russians who all look similar walking out.

We have over-stuffed hopes that the summer tournament of the four powers will bring more results than cracking a bottle of champagne on the wreck of the Hesperus.

Will the Moscow mules be the same delegates of Hunter College gymnasium, Lake Success and the U.N. arguitorium on the East River? We remember beating Molotov to the emergency exit best two out of three.

The welcome mat was always on the trapdoor of Russian diplomacy. The minute you stepped on it you had completed a round trip in the pursuit of the unattainable.

Our State Department is anxiously optimistic about the results of the hot weather conference. We have read the tea leaves, consulted the stars and put a telephone tap on the Delphic Oracle.

But we're doing no better than we did with the Grand Mufti of the Sahara. That old Arabian slicker always had oases back to back.

We're hoping to get enough peace out of the conference to butter a bean. But if we judge the future by the past it looks like another moonlight sail up Salt Creek.

Senator Bill Knowland says any agreement wouldn't be worth the paper to wrap it up. He points to violations of Finland, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Latvia and Estonia. There are many more but Bill ran out of fingers.

So we'll be there with a hair in a tight bun. And we'll snowball the lay-out. We'll have a bet on everything.

The Know-How Myth

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

At his press conference a few days ago, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson administered the expected large dose of soothing syrup, when he was asked about the status of American and Soviet airpower. Technological know-how, one of his subordinates pointed out, is "the real key to superiority in the air," and Secretary Wilson made plain his conviction that American know-how is somehow inherently and unquestionably superior.

No doubt this conviction is entirely sincere. It is difficult for Americans, especially Americans with Secretary Wilson's background, to believe that the backRussians really are capable of surpassing this country in technological achievement. Yet the cold, hard facts suggest that the Russians have done just that—and the British too, for that matter.

Develop More Thrust

Take jet engines. The power of a jet engine, which largely determines the quality of a jet plane, is measured in thousands of pounds of "thrust." Our best operational jet engine, designed and produced by Pratt and Whitney, develops a claimed thrust of 10,000 pounds. It is a fine engine. Yet there are at least two and probably three British engines which develop more throust than any operational engine produced in this country.

Indeed, although the aircraft industry does not shout the fact from the house tops, American air power is dependent to a remarkable degree on British-designed engines manufactured here on license from Britain. The most important single contribution to American air power of Secretary Wilson's old company, General Motors, is probably the production of British-designed Sapphire engines. American naval air is particularly dependent on British engine design. At least one authority maintains that British jet "know-how" has rescued American air power from near oblivion in the jet age.

It should be a shock to most people's complacency that the British, with a defense budget a tiny fraction of our own, should have moved so far ahead of us in jet technology. But it really ought to shock even Secretary Wilson's complacency that the Soviets in turn are unquestionably ahead of the British.

Nose-Thumbing Gesture

Consider the story of the Bison, the new Soviet heavy bomber. The Bison has four engines, as compared with eight engines on its American equivalent, the B-52. A single Bison was flown low over the American embassy on May Day 1954. When pictures and performance data on this nose-thumbing gesture reached the Pentagon, the experts figured on their slide rules that each of the Bison's four engines must deliver a thrust of 18,000 to 20,000 pounds.

This meant almost double the thrust delivered by any American jet engine and well above the thrust of any British engine. It meant a genuinely frightening technological lead for the Soviets. Rather than accept this meaning with all its implications, the Pentagon powers-that-be developed the "Potemkin Village Theory" to explain the new bomber. Prince Potemkin was, of course, the favorite of Queen Catherine II of Russia. He erected fake villages along the Queen's route in order to delude and please her.

Suppose, the Pentagon powers-that-be said, the Russians had made a fake heavy bomber with outward characteristics like the Bison, but capable only of short hauls with no payload, to delude and frighten us. The experts obligingly figured that a fake Bison could be powered with engines of less than 8,000 pounds thrust, and thereafter the Potemkin Village Theory to explain the Bison was happily put about.

The recent flights over Moscow of formations of operational Bisons knocked the Potemkin Village Theory into smithereens. A feeble echo of the theory appeared in Secretary Wilson's wistful press conference remark, to the effect that the planes might be handmade prototypes. But this notion flies in the face of all the evidence, and if Secretary Wilson really believes it, he is the last man in the Pentagon who does.

No Cause For Despair

In short, hard as it is to credit, the Soviets have achieved a commanding technological lead over us in the key field of jet engine design. This is, of course, no cause for despair. In other important fields, American technology maintains a real advantage. Moreover, thanks above all to our force of well over a thousand B-477 medium bombers, we still probably enjoy a superior long range striking power, despite our much weaker air defenses.

Indeed, if Secretary Wilson had chosen to say what was really in the minds of most informed Air Force, he could have done so very briefly—"Thank God for the B-47." But even in this field of the medium bomber, where our superiority is still real, the Soviets are pushing hard with their equivalent aircraft, the Badger, which also has superior jet engines. And surely the above facts suggest that self-deceiving complacency about "American know-how" is as dangerous as the Bison and the Badger put together. There is plenty of evidence that Secretary Wilson and his associates are not only deceiving the people about the seriousness of the Soviet air power threat—they are also deceiving themselves.

Pancreas Is One Of Most Baffling Abdominal Organs

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The pancreas is one of our most baffling abdominal organs. It is six to eight inches long, lies below the stomach, and extends from the spleen on the left to the first part of the small intestine on the right. The gland is unique in having a dual function.

Some of the cells manufacture insulin, which is absorbed directly into the blood where it controls the metabolism of sugar. A deficiency in this department is responsible for diabetes. Other pancreatic cells manufacture enzymes that are discharged into the bowel through a narrow channel leading to the duodenum.

These secretions are powerful ferments that "condition" the various foodstuffs awaiting digestion in the small intestine. They include trypsin, lipase, and amylase which are as potent as the hydrochloric acid and pepsin present in the stomach.

Inflammation of the pancreas (pancreatitis) is a painful and serious disorder. The acute variety may last less than 10 days but follows a stormy course and now and then is fatal. Pain, which is constant, agonizing, and intense, is located in the upper abdomen and frequently radiates to the back. Fever, loss of appetite, nausea, and vomiting may occur. Many victims collapse or go into shock.

Diagnosis is difficult unless the physician suspects the pancreas and does certain laboratory tests during the first 24 to 48 hours. The caustic action of the enzymes that escape into the abdominal cavity is what makes the acute attack so painful. Peritonitis ensues.

Chronic pancreatitis is not so severe. Upper abdominal pain is more diffuse and cramping in nature. Symptoms continue over a longer period and have a tendency to come and go. A recurrence of pain is common following a heavy meal or an alcoholic spree.

It is here that the illusive nature of the pancreas is realized, more so when infection is mild and transient. Victims of chronic pancreatitis often are labeled neurotic because the cause of pain escapes detection. Inflammation of the pancreas usually is secondary to abnormalities of the gall bladder such as infection, gallstones, or tumor.

Other origins of infection in the pancreas include injury, mumps, scarlet fever, disturbances in circulation, and spread of infection from an adjacent organ. In most instances, infected gall bladder filled with stones is found and removal of the gall bladder leads to cure.

Meanwhile, the physician employs pain relieving drugs along with the antibiotics and ACTH or cortisone. Diet is important and alcohol is strictly taboo.

TOMORROW: Quacks have always flourished.

SMOKING AND PREGNANCY

Mrs. S. writes: I'm pregnant and my husband thinks I ought to give up smoking. Is the unborn child affected by nicotine?

REPLY

Studies by Sontag and Wallace indicate that the toxic products of smoking pass into the circulation of the child, particularly when the mother inhales. This causes an increase in the heart beat of the unborn baby. If smoking is continued by the mother, it should at least be cut down.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

The difference between tamales in the U.S.A. and in Mexico, explains Pepe Montiguez, is that in the States they're merely hot; in Mexico, they're still sizzling ten minutes after you've eaten them. There's one place in Mexico City, swears Pepe, where, if three people are eating hot tamales at the same time, the automatic sprinkler system goes on.

GOP Club To Stage Pageant Of Republican First Ladies

Schedule Portrayal At Frostburg June 1

FROSTBURG—A pageant of Republican First Ladies from "Abe to Ike" will be presented by the Frostburg Womens Republican Club on Wednesday June 1, at 8 p. m. in the American Legion Home.

Mrs. J. Carter Shryock, chairman, is being assisted by Mrs. Perry Myers and Mrs. E. B. Van Fossen. Costumes dating from the Civil War period will be modeled.

The First Ladies will be impersonated by the following models: Mary Lincoln, Mrs. John B. Jones; Eliza Johnson, Mrs. James Taylor; Julia Grant, Mrs. Fred Dean; Lucy Hayes, Mrs. William S. Jenkins; Lucretia Carfield, Mrs. Walter Anthony; Mary Arthur McElroy, Mrs. Gordon Taylor; Caroline Harrison, Mrs. Eula Duckworth; Ida McKinley, Mrs. James F. Shryock; Edith Roosevelt, Mrs. E. B. Van Fossen; Helen Taft, Mrs. Rudy Mendelsohn; Florence Harding, Miss Esther Carter; Grace Coolidge, Mrs. Robert Hohing; Lou Hoover, Mrs. Noel Speir Cook; Mamie Eisenhower, Mrs. Ralph Race.

Narrators for each costume will be Miss Virginia Neff, Mrs. Harry Shupe, Miss Nell Raley, Miss Mabel Myers, Mrs. William Lemmert, Mrs. Richard Holben, Mrs. George Hale, Mrs. Anthony Folk, and Mrs. Joseph Kruson.

In connection with the pageant a fashion show of "Campaign Specials" from the Edna Griffith Shop will be modeled. Music will be under the direction of Mrs. John Stewart assisted by Mrs. George Charles. Soloists will be Mrs. Grant Durst and Mrs. Thomas Blair.

Mrs. Allen Hager is chairman of the refreshment committee, and will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph Brode, Mrs. Andrew Dunn, Mrs. Melvin Loar, Mrs. Arch Davis and Mrs. William Lemmert.

The ushers, Senior Girl Scouts, are Misses Sue Jones, Sandra Loar, Barbara Duckworth and Anna Grace Baer.

Costumes for the pageant were loaned by the Bradley family, Mrs. Eugene Gunning, Miss Grace Shaffer, Miss Katherine W. Close, Mrs. Ralph Neal, Mrs. Thomas Holmes, Mrs. Noel S. Cook, Miss Goldie Price, Mrs. Alvin Kreiling, Mrs. Mabel Stevens and Mrs Louise Spates are in charge of tickets.

Home Nursing Class Completed At Loch Lynn

OAKLAND — The twelfth Home Nursing Class at Loch Lynn will complete their course May 31.

The classes in the county have been a cooperative project of the County Civil Defense, County Chapter of the American Red Cross, and the Homemakers, started two years ago. With this class there will be 230 who have received training in Home Nursing in Garrett County.

Order Eastern Star To Honor State Officer

FROSTBURG—Mountain Chapter No. 15, Order of Eastern Star has issued invitations to 102 chapters in the state of Maryland to attend a reception given by Mountain Chapter honoring their worthy patron, R. Edgar Bennett, who was recently elected Associate Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Maryland.

The affair will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the lecture room of First Methodist Church, West Main Street. Along with Mr. Bennett, Mrs. Jennie Lea Bird, past matron of Welcome Chapter of Baltimore City, now Associate Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Maryland, will be honored. This is the first time since 1911, when the late Mrs. Sarah Frost, was grand matron, that Frostburg Chapter OES has had an elected Grand Officer in the Grand Chapter of Maryland.

Other grand officers together with past grand matrons past grand patrons, and deputy grand lectures of the Grand Chapter of Maryland will be in the line of distinguished guests.

Officers of Mountain Chapter and their substitutes will serve as hostesses, and the guest will be ecorted through an archway decorated with flowers.

Thomas B. Powell, associate patron of Mountain Chapter will be master of ceremonies, and a short musical program will be given with Mrs. Veanetta Powell as organist.

Refreshments will be served by members of the Gleaners Sunday School Class who are members of the Order of Eastern Star, under direction of Mrs. Ruth Morgan and Mrs. Violette Powell.

The reception is for all members of the OES and their friends.

116 Seniors Get Diplomas At Keyser High Graduation

KEYSER—One hundred and sixteen Seniors of Keyser High School received their diplomas at commencement exercises last night in the school auditorium.

This was the first class in the history of the school to dispense with the usual commencement speaker, and the class excluded outsiders from the program, arranging their own commencement. The idea was approved by the Senior Council, the faculty and Principal Parker C. Black.

Principal Black presided and Arnet Swisher, faculty advisor of the class, was in charge of the commencement arrangements. The invocation was offered by Rev. Robert L. Bridgers, pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church. Keyser High School Band played several selections during the program and the School Chorus sang three numbers. The chorus was directed by Mrs. E. E. Church.

A mixed instrumental quartet, all members of the graduating class played two numbers.

Richard Romig, president of the Mineral County Board of Education, presented the diplomas, assisted by Mr. Swisher.

In addition to students who completed their four years of study here, a diploma was also granted to Barbara (Oss) Kaylor who completed three years here and a final year in Massachusetts where she now resides. She wanted her diploma from Keyser.

Those in the program as representatives of the class included, Thomas Melody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Melody Sr., St. Cloud Street, master of ceremonies; Robert Harman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Harman, Waxler Road; Jerome Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Marsh, Orchard Street; Elizabeth Cuppett, daughter of Mrs. R. S. Cuppett, South Main Street; Dorothy Yost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coyd Yost, New Creek, and Sharon Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fraser, Spring Street. Each student spoke four to five minutes.

Speaking parts in the program were selected by the Senior Council and elected by the sponsoring faculty and school principal on the basis of personality, character and speaking ability. "We Look To Tomorrow," was the theme of the program. The talks were on the following topics: "Today Ends, Tomorrow Begins," "Education and Our Plan" "Your Democracy and Peace." "Our Faith In Opportunity." "Let Us have Our Dream."

Dr. Skitarelic Addresses Rotary Club At Keyser

KEYSER — Dr. Benedic Skitarelic, Cumberland, was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon-meeting of Keyser Rotary Club, Thursday at noon in Odd Fellows Hall on North Mineral Street. The speaker gave information on the popularity of Sport Car races, such as was recently provided at the Cumberland Airport. A movie of Sport Car races was shown to the Rotarians.

Next week's program will deal with 4-H work and Dr. Donald Kiser, chairman of the Youth Service Committee, will be the speaker.

Visitors to the Rotary meeting were: Thomas Butcher, WKYR Radio station, guest of Warren Burns; John Martz, Cumberland, guest of John Rokisky; W. W. Schofield, Keyser; Phillip Pryne, Pamona, Calif., guest of George Petras; Dr. Harry Coffman, Keyser, guest of Dr. T. T. Huffman; Tom Lowry, guest of T. Warner Lowry; Daniel Baker, Pittsburgh, guest of Carl Ludwick; Warren Burns, Delaware, Ohio, and Thomas Whelan, Piedmont.

Mt. Savage H. S. Seniors Prepare Final Assembly

Farewell Program Is Set For May 31

MT. SAVAGE—The Senior Class of Mt. Savage High School will present their farewell assembly May 31 at 9 a. m. with a one-act play entitled, "A Feather of Gold."

Benjamin Dorsey, statistician; and Margaret Stowell, historian will summarize the Seniors' high school years.

The class spirit will be characterized by Darlene Stevens, poet, Cleata Luckey, artist, Noble Chidester; testator, Nancy Lancaster; prophet, Jack Boor; giftorian, Nancy Deffenbaugh; salutatorian, Mona Bridges and valedictorian, Rebecca House.

Featured in the play are Judy Blank, Catherine Reagan, Kenneth Bridges, and Dorothy Sweene.

The stage crew includes, Charles Fleegle, Donald Hardin, Carl Miller and Benjamin Farrell.

Costume and property details will be handled by Darlene Miller, Myra Glass, Priscilla Ayers, Frances Watkins, and Sandra Deffenbaugh.

Frances Weimer will produce and direct the assembly.

The Lamp of Knowledge, a traditional ceremony involving next year's seniors will be presented by Edward Williams, Senior Class president. Seven other Seniors and eight Juniors will take part in the ceremony.

Delay Pool Opening

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Swimming Pool will not open until about the middle of June when some improvements are expected to be completed.

First VHS May Queen

Miss Jo Ann Moyer has the distinction of being the first May Queen of Valley High School at Lonaconing. This photo was taken soon after she was crowned May Queen I of Valley High School, by Principal J. A. Petry at the May Day spring concert and pageant in the school auditorium. A capacity audience attended the colorful affair.

Frostburg Personals

George Vogtman, Bontuice, Porta Rica, a former resident of Frostburg, was here last week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartig, 129 Pine Street. Mr. Vogtman is an employe of the Coca Cola Company and was enroute to Bangkok, Thailand where he will spend three years.

Eugene Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, 160 Maple Street, has arrived at Sampson Air Force Base, N. Y., for basic training.

Mary Ellen Hitchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Hitchins, 91 Pine Street, is a surgical patient in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Corcoran Lists PHS Upper Ten

PARSONS—Earl Corcoran, principal of Parsons High School has announced that the list of the Upper Ten Society of Parsons High is composed of students who have made the Honor Roll five times or more during the year. They are Sue Ann Ketterman Breedlove, Lessie Shahan, Terry Fairbanks, and Okey Moore, all members of the Senior Class.

Parsons Couple Observes Golden Anniversary

PARSONS — Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Williams of Parsons celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary with open house at their home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were married at Parsons by Rev. Mr. Pack of the Parsons Baptist Church and the only attendants at the wedding were the late George Hebb and Mrs. Nora Pack.

Mrs. Williams is the former Alverna May Hebb, daughter of the late C. John and Marcilla Margie Hebb. She was born in Tucker County, May 3, 1884 and has three brothers, Charles Hebb, Clayton Hebb and Saul Hebb all of Parsons and three sisters, Mrs. C. W. Miller of Elkins, Mrs. O. C. Corrick of Kingwood and Mrs. Merle Goss of Parsons still living.

Samuel Robey Williams was born in Taylor County, April 24, 1884 and has only two sisters still living. They are Mrs. Grover Newman of Chester and Mrs. Fannie Hovatter of St. George.

Mr. Williams was employed by the Western Maryland Railway Company in Ridgeley from 1931 until his retirement in April 1950. He is a member of the Church of the Nazarene of Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are the parents of six children, all of whom were present for the celebration. They are Cecil Simon Williams and Roy F. Williams of Parsons; Mrs. Maxine Parsons of Grafton; Miss Nellie Williams, Mrs. Ruby Hapney, and Ray R. Williams of Ridgeley. They also have 17 grand children.

Visit Hospital

FROSTBURG — Mr. and Mrs. George McLuckie and Mrs. Samuel Davis recently visited Mr. Samuel Davis at the Veterans Hospital, Martinsburg, where he was admitted several weeks ago. They also visited William Shumaker of here, who underwent surgery on Monday.

Strawberry Festival Committees Selected

FROSTBURG — St. Martha's Guild of St. John's Episcopal Church is planning a strawberry festival to be held Saturday, June 18 from 7 to 9 p. m. on the church lawn, Broadway and Stoyer Street.

The following committees were appointed to work on arrangements: ice cream, Mrs. Charles Meehan; cake, Mrs. Ruth Kelly; decorations, Mrs. Ben Hughes Jr.; ponies, Mrs. William Stair; balloons, Mrs. Gerald Middleton; cones, Mrs. Elizabeth Swart; location, Mrs. Alice Fry; movies, Miss Regina Pryor; publicity, Mrs. James Williams and Miss Sarah Brode; lemonade, Mrs. Edward Sluss; posters, Mrs. Paul Fraze; prizes, Mrs. Ernest Ogdon; games, Mrs. Robert Elderdice, and parcel post, Mrs. James Sunderland.

At a recent meeting officers were elected for next year. They are Mrs. Ernest Ogdon, president; Mrs. James Sunderland, vice president; Mrs. Harriet Williams, secretary, and Mrs. Leona Rankin, treasurer.

Class To Meet

WESTERNPORT — Faithful Workers Class of the Westernport Baptist Mission will meet at the home of Mrs. Mabel Connor, McCoole Road, at 7:45 o'clock this evening.

Bar-Be-Cued Ribs, Sauce

You can bar-be-cue right in your oven, and its easy too. In this recipe, the roasting of the ribs before the sauce is added, develops a meaty-browned flavor. The sauce is easy to make but is a special combination of ingredients. There's lots of sauce and just enough fluffy white rice so none of this sauce goes to waste.

Ingredients:

- 3 to 4 lbs. spareribs, cut in pieces
- 1 lemon, sliced
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 1 cup catsup
- ¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 dashes of Tabasco sauce
- 2 cups of water
- 1½ cups uncooked white rice
- 3 cups water
- 1½ teaspoons salt

Method: Place the ribs, meaty side up, in a roasting pan about 2" deep. Place one slice of lemon and 1 slice of onion on each piece. Roast in a pre-heated 450 degree F. oven 30 minutes or until the ribs are browned.

While the ribs cook, mix together in a saucepan, the catsup, Worcestershire sauce, chili powder, 1 teaspoon salt, Tabasco sauce and the 2 cups water. Bring to a boil.

Pour off the fat which has collected in the bottom of the roasting pan., Pour the hot catsup-water mixture over the ribs. Turn the oven down to 350 degrees F. Continue to cook the ribs for about 1 hour or until tender. Every 15 minutes baste the ribs with the sauce. Add water if a thinner sauce is desired.

About 20 minutes before the ribs finish cooking, put the rice, 3 cups of water and 1½ teaspoons of salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes or until you are ready to serve.

To serve, place the fluffy white rice on a hot platter. Arrange the spareribs over the rice. Pour some of the sauce over the ribs and serve the rest in a separate dish.

This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Bar-Be-Cued Ribs, Sauce

You can bar-be-cue right in your oven, and its easy too. In this recipe, the roasting of the ribs before the sauce is added, develops a meaty-browned flavor. The sauce is easy to make but is a special combination of ingredients. There's lots of sauce and just enough fluffy white rice so none of this sauce goes to waste.

Ingredients:

3 to 4 lbs. spareribs, cut in pieces
1 lemon, sliced
1 large onion, sliced
1 cup catsup
¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 dashes of Tabasco sauce
2 cups of water
1½ cups uncooked white rice
3 cups water
1½ teaspoons salt

Method: Place the ribs, meaty side up, in a roasting pan about 2" deep. Place one slice of lemon and 1 slice of onion on each piece. Roast in a pre-heated 450 degree F. oven 30 minutes or until the ribs are browned.

While the ribs cook, mix together in a saucepan, the catsup, Worcestershire sauce, chili powder, 1 teaspoon salt, Tabasco sauce and the 2 cups water. Bring to a boil.

Pour off the fat which has collected in the bottom of the roasting pan. Pour the hot catsup-water mixture over the ribs. Turn the oven down to 350 degrees F. Continue to cook the ribs for about 1 hour or until tender. Every 15 minutes baste the ribs with the sauce. Add water if a thinner sauce is desired.

About 20 minutes before the ribs finish cooking, put the rice, 3 cups of water and 1½ teaspoons of salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes or until you are ready to serve.

To serve, place the fluffy white rice on a hot platter. Arrange the spareribs over the rice. Pour some of the sauce over the ribs and serve the rest in a separate dish.

This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Corn Stuffing Accents Flavor Of Pork Chops

Rich-flavored pork chops are a year-round favorite. Serve them in May or December and they get the same welcome. There's something satisfying about a deeply-browned chop and when it reveals a savory stuffing there's even added goodness.

A corn stuffing goes particularly well with the flavor of pork. For stuffing select thick rib chops. Rib chops can be cut and stuffed in a way that insures that the opening will close automatically as the chop cooks—this keeps the stuffing from drying.

Make the cavity by cutting along the rib bone, rather than the outside of the chops. For a corn stuffing (sufficient for 6 chops) combine 1 cup of whole kernel corn with ½ cup of cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Mix well and stuff the chops, then brown them on both sides. Cover and finish cooking either on top of the range or in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 1 hour.

Kidney-Bean Burgers

1 can (1 lb.) kidney beans, well drained; 2 tablespoons pickle relish; ¼ teaspoon salt; Dash of onion salt; prepared mustard and mayonnaise; 1 package hamburger buns; 1 package (½ lb.) sliced processed cheese, cut in strips.

Combine kidney beans, pickle relish, salt and onion salt; heat. Split hahburger buns and spread with prepared mustard and mayonnaise. Spoon hot bean mixture onto each bun; top each with 2 cheese strips. Broil slowly until cheese is melted and golden brown.

Twelve O'clock Lunch

Kidney-Bean Burgers*; Carrot Sticks; Olives; Apricots; Cupcakes; Chocolate Milk.

Do You Know That . . .

Cream sauce is a valuable ally when making use of leftovers. Often small amounts of meat, fish, fowl or vegetables can be made into a tasty main dish, when combined with a well seasoned cream sauce.

Between meal snacks for teenagers will be nutritious as well as popular when milk, fruit and ice cream are combined in a flavorful beverage.

Children form habits of eating at home and school that set a pattern for later years. Make certain that your children form the habit of drinking enough milk each day.

Beans 'n' Franks

Combine 2 cans (1-lb each) pork and beans with ⅓ cup chili sauce, 1 tablespoon minced onion, ½ teaspoon salt and dash of pepper; turn into 1½-quart baking dish. Top with 1 can frankfurters, drained. Bake in hot oven (400° F) 25 to 30 minutes, or until beans are thoroughly heated and frankfurters are browns. 4 servings.

Baked Butter Beans

2 cans (1 lb. each) butter beans, drained
2 to 3 tablespoons molasses or dark corn syrup
½ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ pound salt pork

Combine all ingredients in 1½-quart baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 35 minutes, or until bubbling hot.

Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Spring Garnish Ideas

Take advantage of fresh spring garden vegetables, such as leaf lettuce, water cress, green onions, and radishes, to garnish your meat dishes.

Quick Bean Salad

1 can (1 lb.) Lima beans, drained
¼ cup sliced celery
3 tablespoons French dressing
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento.

Combine all ingredients; chill thoroughly. Serve on bed of crisp salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

Cheese 'n' Beans

Combine 2 cans (1 lb. each) pinto, pink or baked beans in tomato sauce with ½ small onion, grated, and a sprinkling of garlic salt and salt; turn into 1½-quart baking dish. Top with 1 package (½ lb.) sliced processed cheese and 1 tomato, cut in wedges. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until bubbling hot and cheese is melted. 4 servings.

Pineapple Beans

Combine 2 cans (1-lb each) kidney or red beans, drained, with ¼ cup catsup, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 2 tablespoons vinegar and 1 teaspoon salt. Stir in 1 can (9-oz.) pineapple chunks or tidbits, drained; turn into 1½-quart baking dish. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until bubbling hot. Serve with garnish of pineapple slices, if desired. 4 servings.

Corn Stuffing Accents Flavor Of Pork Chops

Rich-flavored pork chops are a year-round favorite. Serve them in May or December and they get the same welcome. There's something satisfying about a deeply-browned chop and when it reveals a savory stuffing there's even added goodness.

A corn stuffing goes particularly well with the flavor of pork. For stuffing select thick rib chops. Rib chops can be cut and stuffed in a way that insures that the opening will close automatically as the chop cooks—this keeps the stuffing from drying.

Make the cavity by cutting along the rib bone, rather than the outside of the chops. For a corn stuffing (sufficient for 6 chops) combine 1 cup of whole kernel corn with ½ cup of cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Mix well and stuff the chops, then brown them on both sides. Cover and finish cooking either on top of the range or in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 1 hour.

Kidney-Bean Burgers

1 can (1 lb.) kidney beans, well drained; 2 tablespoons pickle relish; ¼ teaspoon salt; Dash of onion salt; prepared mustard and mayonnaise; 1 package hamburger buns; 1 package (½ lb.) sliced processed cheese, cut in strips.

Combine kidney beans, pickle relish, salt and onion salt; heat. Split hahburger buns and spread with prepared mustard and mayonnaise. Spoon hot bean mixture onto each bun; top each with 2 cheese strips. Broil slowly until cheese is melted and golden brown.

Do You Know That . . .

Cream sauce is a valuable ally when making use of leftovers. Often small amounts of meat, fish, fowl or vegetables can be made into a tasty main dish, when combined with a well seasoned cream sauce.

Between meal snacks for teenagers will be nutritious as well as popular when milk, fruit and ice cream are combined in a flavorful beverage.

Children form habits of eating at home and school that set a pattern for later years. Make certain that your children form the habit of drinking enough milk each day.

Creamy Baked Beans

Combine 2 cans (1-lb each) baked beans in tomato sauce with ½ cup sour cream; add salt and pepper and a dash of garlic salt; turn into 1½-quart baking dish. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until beans are bubbling. Serve with a dollop of sour cream atop. 4 servings.

Suggests Twin Salads For Spring Lunch

A shower for the bride, a party for the June graduate, a luncheon for the club — are these occasions for which you will be planning a menu soon? If so, then here's a colorful and refreshing spring luncheon plan.

Make it an all-salad plate. That is, have one flavorful cold meat salad and one jellied fruit salad. Then pass a tray of assorted dainty sandwiches. Use date, nut or fruit bread for the butter spread sandwiches. For your dessert have pretty petits fours or decorated cake squares. Serve with either tea or coffee.

For your meat salad practically any type of cooked meat may be used — roast beef, pork, lamb or ham. Canned meats such as luncheon loaf, Vienna sausages or smoked tongue are good. Of course any of the ready-to-serve meats present a wide range of flavor choices.

Miss Staggs gives this simple recipe for preparing a tasty meat salad which ever your choice of meat. For each 2 cups of cubed or julienne meat add ½ cup of chopped celery, 1 chopped hard-cooked egg and 1 tablespoon of minced green pepper. Lightly moisten with mayonnaise.

For 1955-crop wheat to be eligible for price support loans or for delivery under price support purchase agreements, it must meet minimum sanitation requirements of the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

For A Delightful New Dessert--Orange Snow Cake

Orange Snow Cake — enticing and delicious — a delightful dessert to serve at mealtime or partytime. It's made in two layers — white or yellow cake for the base and a fruity layer of orange snow on top. The layer of cake can be made from a recipe of your own, or from a mix. The orange snow is especially good made with frozen concentrated orange juice — it's so easy to use and has real orange flavor. The two layers combined make an intriguing dessert — an Orange Snow Cake with tantalizing flavor in every bite.

Orange Snow Cake

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- ¼ cup cold water
- ½ cup boiling water
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 can frozen concentrated orange juice
- 1 cup commercial sour cream
- 2 egg whites
- 1 (8-inch) layer of white or yellow cake

Soften gelatine in cold water; dissolve in hot water. Stir in sugar until dissolved. Add undiluted frozen concentrated orange juice. Chill until partially set. Add commercial sour cream and egg whites to gelatine mixture and beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until fluffy. Pour into oiled 8" cake pan and chill until set. To unmold, place layer of cake over the gelatine in the pan then invert on serving platter. (Cake will then be on bottom and gelatine layer on top). Amount: 6 to 8 servings.

I love Sugar—but I'm trying to slim down!

You need Sugar for energy... and a single teaspoon of Domino Sugar contains fewer calories than the carrot you're eating!

It's smart to stay slim and trim and get Domino's "Energy Lift" too!

WHICH IS LESS FATTENING?

Yes, 3 teaspoons of Domino Sugar actually contain fewer calories than 3 raw carrots!

Sure, you need Domino Sugar to sweeten coffee, tea and your favorite foods. But equally important . . . Domino Pure Cane Sugar supplies quick-energy—fast. Faster than any other food.

What's more, there are only 18 calories in a teaspoon of Domino Sugar. That's fewer calories than in many "reducing diet" foods! So if you're reducing, remember: "Sugar-starved" people often lose pep and energy instead of weight! Just as Carrots are famous for their health values—in a well-balanced diet, Domino Sugar helps supply the quick food-energy you need every day for pep and vitality.

So be smart . . . use a sensible amount of satisfying, low-calorie, high-energy Domino Sugar at every meal . . . for only one sugar is Domino Pure.

FREE! For the safe, sure way to lose weight without losing pep, or giving up Sugar . . . send now for Domino's New Reducing Diet Booklet! Address:

Lima Beans Spanish-Style

1 can (1 lb.) Lima beans, drained
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ to ½ teaspoon chili powder
Dash of garlic salt
3 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled

Combine beans, tomato sauce, sugar, chili powder and garlic salt in saucepan; simmer 5 minutes. Serve in sauce dishes topped with bacon bits.

Makes 4 servings.

"Built-In" Maid Service

Back in the 1920's, it is estimated a housewife had to spend 5½ hours' kitchen time preparing a day's food for a family of four. Today, she can do it in 1½ hours, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Groceries bought today come with "built-in" maid service. This extra service costs money. Processing, transporting and marketing now take more of the family food dollar than farmers get for growing the food. Nevertheless, the family grocery bill doesn't take any greater percentage of the net family income than it did 30 years ago.

Short Cut To Fine, Flaky Shortcakes

It's strawberry shortcake season. And here's a way to save you time in preparing tender shortcakes. Simply take a few extra minutes some morning and prepare your own mix. Following the recipe below, you'll learn the secret to the finest of shortcakes and biscuits.

Place this economical homemade mix in a close-covered container and store in your refrigerator. Then when it's shortcake time measure out 2 cups of the mix for a 9-inch shortcake. Add ½ cup of milk. If you want a bit richer dough, add 2 tablespoons of sugar and 1 egg. Knead the dough gently, then pat or roll to fit your baking pan.

Homemade Biscuit Mix

8 cups sifted enriched flour
¼ cup baking powder
4 teaspoons salt
1 cup lard for soft wheat flour or 1½ cups lard for hard wheat flour

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in lard until the mixture has a fine even crumb. Cover closely and store in refrigerator until ready to use. This mixture will keep at least a month in the refrigerator. Yield: 5 batches biscuits with 2 cups of the mixture to the batch.

To make biscuits, add ½ cup milk to 2 cups Homemade Biscuit Mix. Turn onto a lightly floured surface and knead gently for ½ minute. Pat or roll ½ inch thick and cut with a medium-sized biscuit cutter, dipped in flour. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 10 to 12 biscuits.

Different Dessert Family Favorite

Please your family with this different dessert made with their favorite foods. Bring 1 cup uncooked white rice, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups water to a vigorous boil. Turn heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and cook over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from heat but leave lid on 10 minutes. Stir in ½ cup beet or cane sugar. Chill. Whip 1 cup whipping cream until stiff. Stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla. Fold the whipped cream into the chilled rice. If desired, pack into a greased dessert mold. Or serve in dessert dishes with a strawberry custard sauce. To make the sauce, scald 2 cups milk in the top of a double boiler. Beat together 2 eggs, ⅛ teaspoon salt and ¼ cup beet or cane sugar. Slowly stir in the hot milk. Return to the top of the double boiler. Stirring constantly, cook over hot water only until the mixture coats a spoon. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Chill. Add sliced strawberries and serve over the vanilla rice.

Frozen Food Tips

(Q) What is the best procedure for freezing rolls?

(A) Dough for rolls should be allowed to double in bulk. Shape the dough into individual rolls, greasing each on surface. Pack into containers, placing a thin piece of stiff paper between layers to prevent mashing. As soon as unbaked rolls are removed from the locker they should be placed in warm, greased muffin tins and set over hot water to rise, out of any draft.

44 High Schools Enter State Track And Field Meet Saturday

Fort Hill Seeks 7th State Title

20 Sentinels Enter College Park Tests

Coach William P. Hahn and his Fort Hill High School track and field squad of twenty, are scheduled to take off this morning for the State Track and Field Meet, set for tomorrow at the University of Maryland, College Park.

Fort Hill is the defending champion in Class A, and has topped this division six times in eight years of competition. Hagerstown and Towson were the other victors since the three division meets were inaugurated in 1947.

First For First Baseman

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — First Baseman Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators gained a dubious distinction at Municipal Stadium here when he was ejected from a ball game against the Athletics on May 1.

He was the first player to be tossed out of a game in this new American League stadium.

Patriots' day in Maine and Massachusetts celebrates the battle of Concord.

650 Thinclads To Compete At College Park

18 Of 23 Counties Represented; Total 39 Contests Listed

Six hundred and fifty track and field athletes from forty-four high schools in 18 of Maryland's 23 counties are entered in the State Meet tomorrow at College Park, it was announced last night by Arthur G. Ramey, of Frostburg, director of the meet for the ninth consecutive year.

The list of entries in the three-division meet includes 56 boys from three Allegany County Class A schools, Allegany, Beall and Fort Hill.

20 Vie In Class A

There are 335 entries from 20 Class A schools as follows:

Keefer Cops Marbles Title At Johnson Heights School

Beats Tommy Lowery, AHS Finals Set Today

Johnson Heights School will be represented at this year's Cumberland Area Marbles Tournament June 7 at Gephart School Playground, Frederick Street, by Paul Keefer who defeated Tommy Lowery in the school finals yesterday afternoon.

100 Boys Participate

Close to 100 boys entered the Johnson Heights contest, according to Miss Loretta McGeady, principal, and each of seven home room teachers conducted games to decide the best two in each room. Yesterday these 14 quarter finalists played for the school championship. The four semi-finalists turned out to be Bill Sheetz, James Garland, Lowery and Keefer. Lowery won over Sheetz and Keefer over Garland.

William H. Rephann, of the school faculty, and the Times-News tournament officials conducted the finals.

Allegany today, Fort Hill and Columbia Street next Tuesday are the last school tournaments remaining. The 24 school champions will shoot it out June 7 for the grand prize of a week's vacation at Asbury Park, N.J., during the National Marbles Tournament June 20-25. All expenses of the Cumberland area champion and his escort will be paid by the Times-News.

Girl Is Winner

The only girl to reach the finals of any school is Linda Ann Miller of Humbird who shot her way to the runner-up position at that school Wednesday. The Humbird champion is Marshall Brown.

Virginia Avenue's champ is John Miller with Eddie Rockwell as runner-up.

Hemric Is Voted Athlete Of Year

Wake Forest Cager Honored By Writers

RALEIGH, N.C., May 26 (AP)—Big Dickie Hemric, a mountain boy who found basketball fame at Wake Forest College, today was named Atlantic Coast Conference athlete of the year.

The 21-year-old center, who set a major college career scoring record during the 1954-55 season, will receive the Anthony J. McKevlin award presented annually by the Conference Sports Writers Assn.

Hemric received 117 points in a poll of the sports writers. Lowell (Lefty) Davis, Wake Forest teammate of Hemric's in basketball and ace pitcher on the Deacons' championship baseball team, was second with 90 points. Joel Shankle of Duke, the one-man track team who won the athlete of the year award last year, finished third with 61 points.

Others who received votes in the poll included Frank Tamburello, Maryland, football and lacrosse; Bill Walker, Maryland, football and baseball.

Costa, Perez Clash

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Carmelo Costa and Lulu Perez will meet in the feature tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

Costa, only 21, probably will go into the ring an 8-5 choice over Perez in the 10-round match at 1 p.m. (EST). There will be the usual Friday night radio and television (NBC) coverage.

Yankees Sweep Pair From Nats, Cleveland-Chicago Split

Johnny Kucks, Jim Konstanty Rack Up Wins

New Yorkers Cop 8-4 And 7-3; Robinson Bats In Four Runs

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Young Johnny Kucks and Bob Wiesler, with the help of veteran Jim Konstanty, provided at least a temporary answer to the New York Yankees' search for a No. 4 pitcher today as the American League leaders swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators 8-4 and 7-3.

Wiesler, whose only trouble seems lack of control, and Konstanty made it 12 victories in the last 14 games for the Yanks by setting down the Nats on five hits in the nightcap. The 24-year-old lefty allowed just one hit before leaving in the fifth when he fanned two but walked five to force in two Washington runs.

Konstanty picked up his second victory without defeat in relief after replacing Wiesler. He granted the other four hits, only one for extra bases, the rest of the way while getting tagged for one run.

By the time Wiesler went wild, the Yanks had themselves 5-0 lead, however, and picked up two more in the bottom of the fifth to chase starter Dean Stone. The Washington southpaw was smacked for nine hits—one of them Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the first.

Kucks gave up seven hits in the opener as the New Yorkers put a sweeping finish on their long home stand. Two of the Washington hits were home runs by Jim Busby and Mickey Vernon.

Eddie Robinson drove in four Yankee runs, including a three-run homer.

The pair of victories lengthened the Yanks' lead to 2½ games over the second place Cleveland Indians, who split a twin-bill with Chicago.

The Loyal Order of Moose remained tied for second place with the Outdoor Club in the Rocking Chair Softball League by whipping the Fraternal Order of Eagles yesterday at Campobello by the score of 8-7.

A three-run rally in the top of the seventh decided the contest. Dick Boyle walked, and after Lou Bell singled, Jim Angellatta's double sent over two runs to tie the score at 7-7. "Pete" Elliott then won his own game by singling home Angellatta. It was Elliott's fourth win against a single loss. Al Sheetz, making his season's debut for the Eagles, was charged with the loss.

Elliott and Bob Wade had two hits each for the Moose. Jim Gaffney larruped a double and two singles for the Eagles.

Charley Day bagged his third win against a single setback as the Outdoor Club handed the Knights of Columbus their fifth straight loss, 11-4.

Eight walks helped the O.D.C. to score 11 runs in the first three innings. Day and Hixenbaugh with two blows each sparked the winners at the plate. Zembower and Loibel had three hits each and C. Steiner smacked two triples for the Knights. J. Steiner of the K. of C. and Dougherty of the Outdoor Club sparkled afield. Scores:

Redlegs Move Up, Trim Braves, 5-4

MILWAUKEE, May 26 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski pounded his 12th home run this afternoon to get Cincinnati started on a 5-4 win over the Milwaukee Braves which carried the Redlegs one notch up the National League ladder to fifth place.

Kluszewski led off in the second inning with his blast and Gus Bell and Wally Post came through with a pair of two-run singles in a fifth inning uprising which settled the outcome.

The clubs were scheduled for a double header but the second game was rained out after two outs in the last of the first inning.

By winning its second straight from Milwaukee, Cincinnati vaulted over the St. Louis Cardinals, set down by Chicago, and now trail the sagging fourth place Braves by a mere two percentage points.

Pollet Shuts Out St. Louis Cards, 3-0

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP) — Howie Pollet, 33-year old southpaw, gained his No. 125 major league victory and the 25th shutout of his 13 year career by scattering six hits, all singles, in pacing the Chicago Cubs to a 3-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals before 4,565 today.

It was the win-happy second placers' seventh victory in the past eight games as well as their No. 13 conquest in 16 home games at Wrigley Field.

Not a single Cardinal advanced as far as third base as Pollet became the eighth Chicago pitcher to go the route in the past 14 games.

Besides Pollet, the Cubs had another hero in Bob Speake, the rookie first baseman who turned outfielder. Speake's two hits figured in both Chicago spurts—a one run first and a two run third as starter Gordon Jones suffered his second loss.

DETROIT—(NEA)—The longest tie game in major league history was a 24-inning, 1-1 deadlock between Detroit and the A's in 1945.

Lemon's Pinch Single Decides Nightcap, 10-9

Bob Suffers Third Straight Defeat In Opening Game, 3-1

CLEVELAND, May 26 (AP)—Cleveland's Indians lost their grip on second place for a short time today but regained it by scoring six times in one inning and winning the second game of a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 10-9. The third place Sox won the opener, 3-1.

Bob Lemon, pinchhitting after being charged with the pitching loss in the opener, singled in the Tribe's winning run in the last of the eighth after Dave Philley doubled and was sacrificed to third.

Nellie Fox drove in four runs with his second and third homers as the Sox tied the second game at nine-all. He belted one with none on in the seventh and the other with two aboard in the eighth.

Tribe Bats Around

As the Tribe batted around in their big sixth inning, Vic Wertz doubled home three runs, Ralph Kiner singled in two more and Al Smith doubled in still another.

Doubles by Hal Naragon, Mike Garcia and Al Smith and a single by Bobby Avila produced three Cleveland runs in the third.

Sherm Lollar singled in Jim Rivera with Chicago's first run in the second.

In the third Vern Stephens homered for Chicago after Rufe Marshall singled and Lollar walked.

Before Fox hit his eighth inning homer, the Sox got one other tally when Clint Courtney singled in Chico Carrasquel.

Loses 3rd In Row

Lemon, losing his third straight game, forced in two Chicago runs in the sixth inning of the first game by walking Chicago pitcher Jack Harshman and Carrasquel. It was the second time this year the big righthander has given away what turned out to be the winning tally.

LaVale Maroons Cop Fifth, Annex Extra Inning Battle, 7-6

Mickey Scaletta's two base wallop in the 7th inning produced the winning tally as the LaVale Maroons topped the LaVale Orioles in a Pen-Mar Little League game yesterday by the score of 7-6.

Ted Femi's home run knotted the score in the 6th and forced the game into an extra inning. Faulk who relieved Femiin the 7th, got credit for the win, the fifth for the unbeaten league leaders. The Orioles were limited to four singles. Scaletta banged a double and single and Femi hit a four-bagger and single for the Maroons.

Ellerslie took the Cresaptown Black Sox into camp by the score of 12-11. The winners' 10 hits included a bases loaded homer and two singles by T. Lowery and a circuit blast and single by J. Cook. Clingerman rapped a two-bagger and single for the Black Sox.

In another contest, Cresaptown Red Sox outslugged Barrelville, winning to the tune of 19-16. Scores:

Fort Ashby, McCoole And Turnaround Cop Mineral Loop Tilts

Crossroad Inn of Fort Ashby chalked up its seventh win in eight outings in the Mineral County Softball League by downing Patterson Creek yesterday by the score of 8-6.

Each team obtained 11 hits. Eight of the winning team's blows were shared by C. Hartman, Foster, Shriver and B. Thompson. B. Chaney and Arrington had two hits each for Patterson Creek and P. Chaney slammed a homer.

McCoole's Vets moved into the runner-up spot with a 5-3 record by winning over Ridgeley, 8-5. A three-run explosion decided the contest in the final frame. "Tucker" Cain homered and Clevenger and Smith collected a double and single apiece. Ronnie Phillips obtained a triple and single and Roy Comer smacked a two-bagger and single for Ridgeley.

Turnaround knocked Wiley Ford out of a second place tie by beating the latter, 8-6. The scores:

Beall To Test Fort Hill High Tossers Today

Markley Faces Rice In Big Battle Here

Fort Hill High School, occupant of first place in the Bi-State Baseball Conference since April 28, gets an opportunity to eliminate one of its foremost rivals for the league championship when it plays Beall High School of Frostburg at Fort Hill Field today at 3:45 p. m.

Both Beall and LaSalle are battling it out with Fort Hill at the present time. Fort Hill leads with a 12-1 record, LaSalle is the runner-up with 11-3, one and a half games off the pace, and Beall occupies third place with 10 wins and three losses. Each team is scheduled to play 16 games in the league race which ends one week from today.

Games Next Week

Fort Hill's games next week are Flintstone, Wednesday and with Allegany Thursday at Fort Hill. LaSalle winds up the campaign by playing at Hyndman Tuesday and at Beall Thursday. Beall's games next week are with Valley and LaSalle.

If Major John J. Cavanaugh's aggregation can take today's game it could sew up the championship either on Tuesday or Wednesday. Fort Hill would be "in" on Tuesday if Hyndman knocks off LaSalle. If the Explorers trip Hyndman, the Sentinels could take it all by winning at Flintstone Wednesday.

Rice versus Markley

The Sentinels have won 10 consecutive games since their last reverse at the hands of Hyndman on April 19. Beall has bagged six in a row since losing to LaSalle on May 6.

Ronnie Rice, who has won his last four starts and owns a record of 7-2, will try to avenge a 5-1 setback suffered at the hands of Fort Hill on April 29, while Jesse Markley, who beat Beall in the series opener, and is undefeated to date, will be angling for his 7th win today.

Mt. Savage plays Valley High in Barton at 3:30 and Flintstone's Aggies do battle with Hyndman High at the latter place at 3:30 in other Bi-State tilts on top for today.

Yankees Sweep Pair From Nats, Cleveland-Chicago Split

Johnny Kucks, Jim Konstanty Rack Up Wins

New Yorkers Cop 8-4 And 7-3; Robinson Bats In Four Runs

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Young Johnny Kucks and Bob Wiesler, with the help of veteran Jim Konstanty, provided at least a temporary answer to the New York Yankees' search for a No. 4 pitcher today as the American League leaders swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators 8-4 and 7-3.

Wiesler, whose only trouble seems lack of control, and Konstanty made it 12 victories in the last 14 games for the Yanks by setting down the Nats on five hits in the nightcap. The 24-year-old lefty allowed just one hit before leaving in the fifth when he fanned two but walked five to force in two Washington runs.

Konstanty picked up his second victory without defeat in relief after replacing Wiesler. He granted the other four hits, only one for extra bases, the rest of the way while getting tagged for one run.

By the time Wiesler went wild, the Yanks had themselves 5-0 lead, however, and picked up two more in the bottom of the fifth to chase starter Dean Stone. The Washington southpaw was smacked for nine hits—one of them Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the first.

Kucks gave up seven hits in the opener as the New Yorkers put a sweeping finish on their long home stand. Two of the Washington hits were home runs by Jim Busby and Mickey Vernon.

Eddie Robinson drove in four Yankee runs, including a three-run homer.

The pair of victories lengthened the Yanks' lead to 2½ games over the second place Cleveland Indians, who split a twin-bill with Chicago.

The Loyal Order of Moose remained tied for second place with the Outdoor Club in the Rocking Chair Softball League by whipping the Fraternal Order of Eagles yesterday at Campobello by the score of 8-7.

A three-run rally in the top of the seventh decided the contest. Dick Boyle walked, and after Lou Bell singled, Jim Angellatta's double sent over two runs to tie the score at 7-7. "Pete" Elliott then won his own game by singling home Angellatta. It was Elliott's fourth win against a single loss. Al Sheetz, making his season's debut for the Eagles, was charged with the loss.

Elliott and Bob Wade had two hits each for the Moose. Jim Gaffney larruped a double and two singles for the Eagles.

Charley Day bagged his third win against a single setback as the Outdoor Club handed the Knights of Columbus their fifth straight loss, 11-4.

Eight walks helped the O.D.C. to score 11 runs in the first three innings. Day and Hixenbaugh with two blows each sparked the winners at the plate. Zembower and Loibel had three hits each and C. Steiner smacked two triples for the Knights. J. Steiner of the K. of C. and Dougherty of the Outdoor Club sparkled afield. Scores:

Redlegs Move Up, Trim Braves, 5-4

MILWAUKEE, May 26 (AP)—Ted Kluszewski pounded his 12th home run this afternoon to get Cincinnati started on a 5-4 win over the Milwaukee Braves which carried the Redlegs one notch up the National League ladder to fifth place.

Kluszewski led off in the second inning with his blast and Gus Bell and Wally Post came through with a pair of two-run singles in a fifth inning uprising which settled the outcome.

The clubs were scheduled for a double header but the second game was rained out after two outs in the last of the first inning.

By winning its second straight from Milwaukee, Cincinnati vaulted over the St. Louis Cardinals, set down by Chicago, and now trail the sagging fourth place Braves by a mere two percentage points.

Pollet Shuts Out St. Louis Cards, 3-0

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP) — Howie Pollet, 33-year old southpaw, gained his No. 125 major league victory and the 25th shutout of his 13 year career by scattering six hits, all singles, in pacing the Chicago Cubs to a 3-0 win over the St. Louis Cardinals before 4,565 today.

It was the win-happy second placers' seventh victory in the past eight games as well as their No. 13 conquest in 16 home games at Wrigley Field.

Not a single Cardinal advanced as far as third base as Pollet became the eighth Chicago pitcher to go the route in the past 14 games.

Besides Pollet, the Cubs had another hero in Bob Speake, the rookie first baseman who turned outfielder. Speake's two hits figured in both Chicago spurts—a one run first and a two run third as starter Gordon Jones suffered his second loss.

DETROIT—(NEA)—The longest tie game in major league history was a 24-inning, 1-1 deadlock between Detroit and the A's in 1945.

Lemon's Pinch Single Decides Nightcap, 10-9

Bob Suffers Third Straight Defeat In Opening Game, 3-1

CLEVELAND, May 26 (AP)—Cleveland's Indians lost their grip on second place for a short time today but regained it by scoring six times in one inning and winning the second game of a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 10-9. The third place Sox won the opener, 3-1.

Bob Lemon, pinchhitting after being charged with the pitching loss in the opener, singled in the Tribe's winning run in the last of the eighth after Dave Philley doubled and was sacrificed to third.

Nellie Fox drove in four runs with his second and third homers as the Sox tied the second game at nine-all. He belted one with none on in the seventh and the other with two aboard in the eighth.

Tribe Bats Around

As the Tribe batted around in their big sixth inning, Vic Wertz doubled home three runs, Ralph Kiner singled in two more and Al Smith doubled in still another.

Doubles by Hal Naragon, Mike Garcia and Al Smith and a single by Bobby Avila produced three Cleveland runs in the third.

Sherm Lollar singled in Jim Rivera with Chicago's first run in the second.

In the third Vern Stephens homered for Chicago after Rufe Marshall singled and Lollar walked.

Before Fox hit his eighth inning homer, the Sox got one other tally when Clint Courtney singled in Chico Carrasquel.

Loses 3rd In Row

Lemon, losing his third straight game, forced in two Chicago runs in the sixth inning of the first game by walking Chicago pitcher Jack Harshman and Carrasquel. It was the second time this year the big righthander has given away what turned out to be the winning tally.

LaVale Maroons Cop Fifth, Annex Extra Inning Battle, 7-6

Mickey Scaletta's two base wallop in the 7th inning produced the winning tally as the LaVale Maroons topped the LaVale Orioles in a Pen-Mar Little League game yesterday by the score of 7-6.

Ted Femi's home run knotted the score in the 6th and forced the game into an extra inning. Faulk who relieved Femiin the 7th, got credit for the win, the fifth for the unbeaten league leaders. The Orioles were limited to four singles. Scaletta banged a double and single and Femi hit a four-bagger and single for the Maroons.

Ellerslie took the Cresaptown Black Sox into camp by the score of 12-11. The winners' 10 hits included a bases loaded homer and two singles by T. Lowery and a circuit blast and single by J. Cook. Clingerman rapped a two-bagger and single for the Black Sox.

In another contest, Cresaptown Red Sox outslugged Barrelville, winning to the tune of 19-16. Scores:

Fort Ashby, McCoole And Turnaround Cop Mineral Loop Tilts

Crossroad Inn of Fort Ashby chalked up its seventh win in eight outings in the Mineral County Softball League by downing Patterson Creek yesterday by the score of 8-6.

Each team obtained 11 hits. Eight of the winning team's blows were shared by C. Hartman, Foster, Shriver and B. Thompson. B. Chaney and Arrington had two hits each for Patterson Creek and P. Chaney slammed a homer.

McCoole's Vets moved into the runner-up spot with a 5-3 record by winning over Ridgeley, 8-5. A three-run explosion decided the contest in the final frame. "Tucker" Cain homered and Clevenger and Smith collected a double and single apiece. Ronnie Phillips obtained a triple and single and Roy Comer smacked a two-bagger and single for Ridgeley.

Turnaround knocked Wiley Ford out of a second place tie by beating the latter, 8-6. The scores:

Beall To Test Fort Hill High Tossers Today

Markley Faces Rice In Big Battle Here

Fort Hill High School, occupant of first place in the Bi-State Baseball Conference since April 28, gets an opportunity to eliminate one of its foremost rivals for the league championship when it plays Beall High School of Frostburg at Fort Hill Field today at 3:45 p. m.

Both Beall and LaSalle are battling it out with Fort Hill at the present time. Fort Hill leads with a 12-1 record, LaSalle is the runner-up with 11-3, one and a half games off the pace, and Beall occupies third place with 10 wins and three losses. Each team is scheduled to play 16 games in the league race which ends one week from today.

Games Next Week

Fort Hill's games next week are Flintstone, Wednesday and with Allegany Thursday at Fort Hill. LaSalle winds up the campaign by playing at Hyndman Tuesday and at Beall Thursday. Beall's games next week are with Valley and LaSalle.

If Major John J. Cavanaugh's aggregation can take today's game it could sew up the championship either on Tuesday or Wednesday. Fort Hill would be "in" on Tuesday if Hyndman knocks off LaSalle. If the Explorers trip Hyndman, the Sentinels could take it all by winning at Flintstone Wednesday.

Rice versus Markley

The Sentinels have won 10 consecutive games since their last reverse at the hands of Hyndman on April 19. Beall has bagged six in a row since losing to LaSalle on May 6.

Ronnie Rice, who has won his last four starts and owns a record of 7-2, will try to avenge a 5-1 setback suffered at the hands of Fort Hill on April 29, while Jesse Markley, who beat Beall in the series opener, and is undefeated to date, will be angling for his 7th win today.

Mt. Savage plays Valley High in Barton at 3:30 and Flintstone's Aggies do battle with Hyndman High at the latter place at 3:30 in other Bi-State tilts on top for today.

Street Scene, Say and Radience Among Arrivals At Fairgo

Enoch W. Price Assigned Stalls For 12 Horses

Say Took Dapper Dan In 1954; Street Scene Wins At Two Tracks

Two 1954 winners, Say and Radience, and Street Scene, a 4-year-old gelding that has won eight purses in 14 outings this year, are among the 100 thoroughbreds already quartered at Fairgo for the ten-day racing meet of the Cumberland Fair Association which gets under way at 2 p. m. EDT., Wednesday, June 15.

Say, a 4-year-old chestnut colt, owned by Mrs. R. C. Williams of Bel Air, Md., is among a string of eight racers on the grounds in charge of David R. Pearce, of Monkton, Md.

Won Dapper Dan Race

Racing fans who were present on the sixth day of the 1954 meeting at Fairgo will recall that Say sprang an upset by defeating Nimble Lady to win the Dapper Dan Club trophy. Ridden by Mike Sorrentino, Say finished two and a half lengths ahead of Nimble Lady which has won two purses at long prices at the current Pimlico meeting. Yesterday, Nimble Lady finished in a dead heat with First Verse and returned $23.40, $25.20 and $17. She also figured in two daily double payoffs of $260 and $66.60.

Radience, a 5-year-old mare, trained by Pearce, won here last year and returned $21.80 for $2. Other thoroughbreds in Pearce's string are Joyce's Joy, Clair de Lune, Frisky Jimmy, Helen's Hope, Jungle Queen, Lockwin and Logic.

Street Scene, owned and trained by Gordon Thomson, of Miami, Fla., probably has won more money this year than any of the other horses now at Fairgo. He copped two races at Wheeling and two at Ascot Park, Ohio, and has won a total of eight purses for his owner this year. At Wheeling Street Scene finished second in a handicap race.

Price Sending Dozen

Montgomery Posts First Win Of Year

Allegany High school's baseball team was charged with ten fielding bobbles and its pitchers gave up 15 bases on balls as the Campers went down to defeat at the hands of Bruse High School yesterday at Westernport. The score was 14-7.

The loss was the ninth in 14 outings for Coach Roy Lester's aggregation. The Bulldogs have won five games and lost nine.

Bruce racked up 10 hits and scored in every inning to give "Kip" Montgomery, who was relieved by Norman Raines in the 7th inning, his initial win of the campaign. Montgomery struck out eight.

Clyde Broadwater, Kertesz, Raines and Richard Metz of Bruce and Lease and Johnson of Allegany garnered two hits each. Bruce's hit collection included four two-baggers.

Bob Paye, the first of four Allegany pitchers, was charged with the loss. Box:

Newcombe Beats Pittsburgh, 6-2

Dodger Hurler Belts 2-Run Triple In 9th

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP)—Big Don Newcombe of Brooklyn registered his seventh straight triumph without a loss today by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2 on six hits.

Newcombe helped his own cause in the four-run ninth inning with a two-run triple over the head of centerfielder Tom Saffell. He then stole home.

Newcombe walked two and struck out five. In 45 previous innings the tall Negro righthander walked only four men. Both walks by Newcombe came in the first inning but the Dodgers erased the runners on a double play. The Dodgers collected 13 hits.

Third sacker Gene Freese got the Pirates off to a 1-0 start in the second with a homer against the light fixtures in left field. It was his third roundtripper of the season.

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers was ejected from the contest in the seventh inning after protesting a play at the plate by Umpire Larry Goetz. It was the second time this season that Alston got the heave-ho.

Three Matches Played In Women's Tourney

Mesdames Erich Gronbach and Gordon L. Bowie won first round matches yesterday in the championship flight of the women's spring handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Gronbach won over Mrs. Josephine Mackey, 2 and 1, and Mrs. Bowie defeated Mrs. W. Donald Smith, 3 and 1.

In a first flight match, Mrs. Irving Millenson defeated Mrs. Edward J. Ryan, 8 and 7.

'Most Courteous Cop' Is Fired For Stealing

TAMPA, Fla., May 26 (AP)—Tampa's "most courteous cop of 1954" was fired today and charged with stealing from parking meters.

Police Chief B. J. Roberts said the traffic officer, J. W. Hause, had made a full written confession and will appear in City Court tomorrow on a petty larceny charge.

Hause, 38, was a veteran of 11 years on the force and had a good record. He has a wife and a teenage daughter.

YMCA Rec Club To Get Nominations

The Rec Club of Central YMCA will receive all nominations for next season's council this evening at the dance in the "Y" gym.

All nominees must give their names and addresses and grade and name of school they attend.

Johnny Ritchey's orchestra will entertain the dancers this week. The new record player will be installed in the youth lobby within a few days. Record dances will be conducted there in a week or so.

A snack bar also will be opened in the youth lobby. The Rec Club will operate a soft drink booth at the Rotary Sample Fair.

Street Scene, Say and Radience Among Arrivals At Fairgo

Enoch W. Price Assigned Stalls For 12 Horses

Say Took Dapper Dan In 1954; Street Scene Wins At Two Tracks

Two 1954 winners, Say and Radience, and Street Scene, a 4-year-old gelding that has won eight purses in 14 outings this year, are among the 100 thoroughbreds already quartered at Fairgo for the ten-day racing meet of the Cumberland Fair Association which gets under way at 2 p. m. EDT., Wednesday, June 15.

Say, a 4-year-old chestnut colt, owned by Mrs. R. C. Williams of Bel Air, Md., is among a string of eight racers on the grounds in charge of David R. Pearce, of Monkton, Md.

Won Dapper Dan Race

Racing fans who were present on the sixth day of the 1954 meeting at Fairgo will recall that Say sprang an upset by defeating Nimble Lady to win the Dapper Dan Club trophy. Ridden by Mike Sorrentino, Say finished two and a half lengths ahead of Nimble Lady which has won two purses at long prices at the current Pimlico meeting. Yesterday, Nimble Lady finished in a dead heat with First Verse and returned $23.40, $25.20 and $17. She also figured in two daily double payoffs of $260 and $66.60.

Radience, a 5-year-old mare, trained by Pearce, won here last year and returned $21.80 for $2. Other thoroughbreds in Pearce's string are Joyce's Joy, Clair de Lune, Frisky Jimmy, Helen's Hope, Jungle Queen, Lockwin and Logic.

Street Scene, owned and trained by Gordon Thomson, of Miami, Fla., probably has won more money this year than any of the other horses now at Fairgo. He copped two races at Wheeling and two at Ascot Park, Ohio, and has won a total of eight purses for his owner this year. At Wheeling Street Scene finished second in a handicap race.

Price Sending Dozen

Five Golfers Advance In CCC Men's Tourney

Five opening round matches were played yesterday in the men's spring handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Loraine E. Eisenberg defeated Dr. Paul Castelle in the second flight, 1 up on the 18th, Charles Zembower won by default from Ken Farrell in the third flight and in a trio of fourth flight tests Lester Deneen topped Jack Wilkinson, 2 up on the 18th; Dr. Samuel Jacobson eliminated George Eskin, 2 and 1, and Dr. Albert C. Eskin won over William Wilson, 2 and 1.

Bruce Wallops Campers, 14-7

Montgomery Posts First Win Of Year

Allegany High school's baseball team was charged with ten fielding bobbles and its pitchers gave up 15 bases on balls as the Campers went down to defeat at the hands of Bruse High School yesterday at Westernport. The score was 14-7.

The loss was the ninth in 14 outings for Coach Roy Lester's aggregation. The Bulldogs have won five games and lost nine.

Bruce racked up 10 hits and scored in every inning to give "Kip" Montgomery, who was relieved by Norman Raines in the 7th inning, his initial win of the campaign. Montgomery struck out eight.

Clyde Broadwater, Kertesz, Raines and Richard Metz of Bruce and Lease and Johnson of Allegany garnered two hits each. Bruce's hit collection included four two-baggers.

Bob Paye, the first of four Allegany pitchers, was charged with the loss. Box:

Newcombe Beats Pittsburgh, 6-2

Dodger Hurler Belts 2-Run Triple In 9th

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH, May 26 (AP)—Big Don Newcombe of Brooklyn registered his seventh straight triumph without a loss today by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2 on six hits.

Newcombe helped his own cause in the four-run ninth inning with a two-run triple over the head of centerfielder Tom Saffell. He then stole home.

Newcombe walked two and struck out five. In 45 previous innings the tall Negro righthander walked only four men. Both walks by Newcombe came in the first inning but the Dodgers erased the runners on a double play. The Dodgers collected 13 hits.

Third sacker Gene Freese got the Pirates off to a 1-0 start in the second with a homer against the light fixtures in left field. It was his third roundtripper of the season.

Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers was ejected from the contest in the seventh inning after protesting a play at the plate by Umpire Larry Goetz. It was the second time this season that Alston got the heave-ho.

Nine May Run In Preakness

Sticks Late Entry For Saturday Race

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP) — A surprising number of eight, including one from Chicago that has earned less this year than it costs to start in the race, were signed up today to run against hotshot Nashua in the Preakness Saturday.

The size of the probable nine horse field for the 79th staging of the classic for 3-year-olds in the face of Nashua's imposing record of 10 triumphs in 13 races was unlooked for in itself.

But the virtually last minute decision of a couple of owners, particularly the B&G Stable of Chicago to put up $500 to enter Sticks with another $500 due Saturday to start, caused even more wonder.

Besides Nashua and Sticks, the race for $116,600 of which $68,050 will go to the winner if all start, drew Duntreath Farm's Fleet Path, Montpelier Stable's Saratoga, Gee Cohen's Chuck Thompson, Roselyn Farm's Go Lightly, Everglades Farm's Nance's Lad, W-L Ranch's Honeys Alibi and Clifford Mooers Traffic Judge.

Sticks, the colt the B & G Stable hustled on to a plane for Pimlico this afternoon, has collected only $590 this year in fourth place money in six races. The Preakness, a stiff run of a mile and three sixteenths, will be his fifth race in four weeks.

While Belair Stud's Nashua was finishing second for only the third time in $125,000 Kentucky Derby May 7, Sticks ran last in a field of nine competing for a $3,000 purse on the same card.

Sticks went to the post 19 times last year and won three. He could have been claimed for $9,000, the same price that Frank A. Benner and Norman G. Galbraith paid for him.

Orioles' Wilson Blanks Bosox, 2-0

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles made it three out of four in their series with Boston today, defeating the Red Sox 2-0. Pitcher Jim Wilson went all the way for the Orioles in allowing only four hits and helped his own cause by driving in a run.

The burly 33-year-old righthander was in command all the way, walking only three and striking out three and allowing only one man to get as far as third base.

Gene Stephens, who knocked two of the Boston hits, reached third with a two-out triple in the sixth, but Wilson bore down to retire Jackie Jenson on a fly to center.

Knots To The Light Bill

DEWEYVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Discussing the light bill for night baseball games here, the school board fondly recalled that not too long ago they used burning pine knots to light the diamond.

The last scheduled 20-round heavyweight championship fight was held on March 21, 1941 between Joe Louis and Abe Simon. Louis knocked out Simon in 13 rounds.

Rookie outfielder Bill Virdon of the Cardinals was a high school track star. He participated in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, pole vault, shot put and relay.

The record for most home runs in the majors during one month was made by Rudy York of the Detroit Tigers. In 1937 he hit 18 in August.

Nine May Run In Preakness

Sticks Late Entry For Saturday Race

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP) — A surprising number of eight, including one from Chicago that has earned less this year than it costs to start in the race, were signed up today to run against hotshot Nashua in the Preakness Saturday.

The size of the probable nine horse field for the 79th staging of the classic for 3-year-olds in the face of Nashua's imposing record of 10 triumphs in 13 races was unlooked for in itself.

But the virtually last minute decision of a couple of owners, particularly the B&G Stable of Chicago to put up $500 to enter Sticks with another $500 due Saturday to start, caused even more wonder.

Besides Nashua and Sticks, the race for $116,600 of which $68,050 will go to the winner if all start, drew Duntreath Farm's Fleet Path, Montpelier Stable's Saratoga, Gee Cohen's Chuck Thompson, Roselyn Farm's Go Lightly, Everglades Farm's Nance's Lad, W-L Ranch's Honeys Alibi and Clifford Mooers Traffic Judge.

Sticks, the colt the B & G Stable hustled on to a plane for Pimlico this afternoon, has collected only $590 this year in fourth place money in six races. The Preakness, a stiff run of a mile and three sixteenths, will be his fifth race in four weeks.

While Belair Stud's Nashua was finishing second for only the third time in $125,000 Kentucky Derby May 7, Sticks ran last in a field of nine competing for a $3,000 purse on the same card.

Sticks went to the post 19 times last year and won three. He could have been claimed for $9,000, the same price that Frank A. Benner and Norman G. Galbraith paid for him.

Orioles' Wilson Blanks Bosox, 2-0

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles made it three out of four in their series with Boston today, defeating the Red Sox 2-0. Pitcher Jim Wilson went all the way for the Orioles in allowing only four hits and helped his own cause by driving in a run.

The burly 33-year-old righthander was in command all the way, walking only three and striking out three and allowing only one man to get as far as third base.

Gene Stephens, who knocked two of the Boston hits, reached third with a two-out triple in the sixth, but Wilson bore down to retire Jackie Jenson on a fly to center.

The Athol, Mass. YMCA had to call off its scheduled hare and hound run because of snow. The "hounds" were to have scattered white confetti to mark their trail.

Knots To The Light Bill

DEWEYVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Discussing the light bill for night baseball games here, the school board fondly recalled that not too long ago they used burning pine knots to light the diamond.

The last scheduled 20-round heavyweight championship fight was held on March 21, 1941 between Joe Louis and Abe Simon. Louis knocked out Simon in 13 rounds.

Rookie outfielder Bill Virdon of the Cardinals was a high school track star. He participated in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, pole vault, shot put and relay.

The record for most home runs in the majors during one month was made by Rudy York of the Detroit Tigers. In 1937 he hit 18 in August.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

AN INTERESTING HAND

THE HAND below, which occurred in a total-point duplicate game, presents several points of interest.

North dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ 9 8 6 3 ♥ K 10 9 ♦ K Q J 10 8 3 ♣ —
♠ 7 ♥ A 6 5 2 ♦ 9 6 ♣ K J 10 9 7 5	N W E S	♠ A 10 4 2 ♥ 8 3 ♦ A 7 4 2 ♣ 8 6 3
	♠ K Q J 5 ♥ Q J 7 4 ♦ 5 ♣ A Q 4 2

Total-point duplicate has virtually given way to match-points, but some players still prefer the older type of contest, with its close relationship to rubber bridge.

On this deal, most of the North-South pairs stopped at part-score contracts, but one pair was much more ambitious—to wit:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	Pass
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♣
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♠	Dble.	Redble.	Pass
Pass	Pass

West decided to open his top diamond. East captured dummy's ten and, feeling that the lead must have been a singleton, returned the suit. South discarded a club, then led a low trump from dummy. East ducked, and the king of course won.

South now led a low heart. West played low, and dummy's ten took the trick. Another spade lead was ducked by East, and the queen won. After that, declarer could breathe more easily. He ruffed a low club on the board and ran good diamonds. East had to follow to two rounds, while South discarded hearts, and when East finally ruffed, South overruffed. It was then simple to ruff the club queen with dummy's last trump and continue with dummy's last diamond. It did not matter whether or not East used his trump ace on this trick—he could win nothing else. So South actually came out with an overtrick.

East was somewhat too reluctant about parting with his ace of trumps! If he had put up that card a little earlier, he could have returned a heart and ruffed a heart continuation to set a contract.

By the same token, however, South could have protected himself somewhat better than he did. See how?

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

AN INTERESTING HAND

THE HAND below, which occurred in a total-point duplicate game, presents several points of interest.

North dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

	♠ 9 8 6 3 ♥ K 10 9 ♦ K Q J 10 8 3 ♣ —
♠ 7 ♥ A 6 5 2 ♦ 9 6 ♣ K J 10 9 7 5	N W E S	♠ A 10 4 2 ♥ 8 3 ♦ A 7 4 2 ♣ 8 6 3
	♠ K Q J 5 ♥ Q J 7 4 ♦ 5 ♣ A Q 4 2

Total-point duplicate has virtually given way to match-points, but some players still prefer the older type of contest, with its close relationship to rubber bridge.

On this deal, most of the North-South pairs stopped at part-score contracts, but one pair was much more ambitious—to wit:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	Pass
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♣
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♠	Dble.	Redble.	Pass
Pass	Pass

West decided to open his top diamond. East captured dummy's ten and, feeling that the lead must have been a singleton, returned the suit. South discarded a club, then led a low trump from dummy. East ducked, and the king of course won.

South now led a low heart. West played low, and dummy's ten took the trick. Another spade lead was ducked by East, and the queen won. After that, declarer could breathe more easily. He ruffed a low club on the board and ran good diamonds. East had to follow to two rounds, while South discarded hearts, and when East finally ruffed, South overruffed. It was then simple to ruff the club queen with dummy's last trump and continue with dummy's last diamond. It did not matter whether or not East used his trump ace on this trick—he could win nothing else. So South actually came out with an overtrick.

East was somewhat too reluctant about parting with his ace of trumps. If he had put up that card a little earlier, he could have returned a heart and ruffed a heart continuation to set a contract.

By the same token, however, South could have protected himself somewhat better than he did. See how?

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who aided and comforted us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Rosa E. Jones. Especially do we thank the pallbearers, those who donated the use of their cars, those who sent floral offerings, the flower girls, the choir and Rev. William D. Keller for his comforting words.
Mr. John E. Jones and Family.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear son and brother, Enoch W. Fleek, who departed this life 6 years ago today, May 27, 1949.

Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
More precious than silver or gold.
It's a picture of you, son,
Whose memory will never grow old.

Sadly missed by
Mother, Brother & Sisters.

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to all who aided and comforted us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. Rosa E. Jones. Especially do we thank the pallbearers, those who donated the use of their cars, those who sent floral offerings, the flower girls, the choir and Rev. William D. Keller for his comforting words.
Mr. John E. Jones and Family.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear son and brother, Enoch W. Fleek, who departed this life 6 years ago today, May 27, 1949.

Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
More precious than silver or gold.
It's a picture of you, son,
Whose memory will never grow old.

Sadly missed by
Mother, Brother & Sisters.

Top Sports Car Drivers Coming For Hill Climb

Leading Contenders Enter Sunday's Meet

When the hill climbing sports cars roar up Breakneck Road and around Horseshoe Bend Sunday morning and afternoon in the first Cumberland Sports Car Hill Climb, spectators will see some of the most powerful vehicles in the world.

Among the drivers who have entered the meet are national and international class champions, drivers who have raced here in the regional and national events, and others who are challenging the standings of the leading drivers.

Sponsors, the Washington Regional Sports Car Club and Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company were assured last night that the top ranking contenders will be here.

Some of the names are familiar to local sports car fans, because they have already appeared in local competition, while others may not be so well known.

Dr. Wyllie Enters

Dr. M. R. J. Wyllie of Pittsburgh, who was struck and slightly injured in a sports car skid at the airport two weeks ago, called Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, assistant chairman, and stated he will definitely be here and will compete. He will drive his No. 17 Jaguar Special, a powerful vehicle, in the hill climb.

Dr. Wyllie, whose wife won two successive years in women's competition here and was injured seriously two weeks ago in the same mishap, told Dr. Skitarelic she has left the hospital and is much improved. It will be some time before she will race again, however. Local fans will remember that Dr. Wyllie won the Cumberland Cup here last year.

Driving a Ferro Special, William M. Ferro, Washington, D. C., will compete in his "mystery" car. This vehicle, which operates in an unlimited, unrestricted class, is specially designed and specially powered for the maximum in speed as well as power. It is expected to be a contender for Sunday's best time and record.

The Muntz Jet, owned and driven by Dr. Fred Losee of Washington, D. C., is another "strictly hot" car which will be reckoned with in Sunday's competition. Dr. Losee competed in the races here last year and won a trophy.

420 Horsepower Engine

Considered the most "hopped up" Chrysler-built engine ever put on the road, the Allard J-2-X of Leo Dym, Pittsburgh, will be here for the hill climb. He has the record of the best time in several hill climbs already this year, and the other drivers will be watching his car and competition closely. It is reported that this engine generates 420 horsepower.

Frank Bohanka Jr., will be on hand to challenge the best in the field. He will drive his Allard which is powered with a "souped up" and specially bored Oldsmobile power plant. It was this same type of vehicle that ran away with the records and the contests at the International races held in Sebring, Fla., earlier this year. This will be Bohanka's first local appearance.

National Champion Charles Wallace of Washington, who ran here three successive years and was in the winning bracket each time, will be here to defend his standing in hill climb competiton. He will bring his XK 140 Modified Jaguar.

Major William Kincheloe, driving a LaMans Austin-Healey 100, and who is the champion in Class D, has notified local sponsors that he will compete. He says his car is in excellent shape, and he wants to try it out on Breakneck.

English Car Expected

An ACD is another top-powered vehicle which will be in Sunday's show. Driven by Jo Bojolab of Pittsburgh, this rare English-made Sports car is noted for its quick get-away and its climbing ability. It is the first of its kind imported to this country and they are difficult to obtain. Bojolab raced it here two weeks ago and won a trophy. He is rated among the top eastern drivers.

These and many more will be here for Cumberland's Hill Climb which gets underway at 10 a. m. Sunday, continuing until about 3:30 p. m. with a noon recess for lunch and chapel service over the amplyfying system.

The event is being sponsored for the benefit of the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company's equipment and welfare fund.

Band Parents To Meet

Fort Hill Band Parents Association will nominate officers at a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the school cafeteria. Mrs. George Alexander will preside.

Ridgeley Award Winners

12 Ridgeley Graduates Win Special Awards

High School Holds 21st Commencement

Miss Bonnie Gaye Tallman and Ronald Franklin Phillips were presented the Ridgeley Lions Club citizenship awards last night at the 21st annual commencement of Ridgeley High School.

Principal M. M. Heiskell presented special awards to 12 of the 38 members of the 1955 graduating class at last night's commencement. Diplomas were distributed by W. B. Helmick, member of the Mineral County Board of Education.

Besides the citizenship prize, a pin, Miss Tallman also received three other honors last night. She was given a pin by the school for being the class valedictorian, an honor point medal for 122½ honor points in six years and the Readers' Digest award as valedictorian.

Phillips got two other prizes. He received the highest honor point medal and an official pin for having served as president of the Student Council.

Edwin Eugene Powelson was awarded the American Legion's William E. Shuck Memorial trophy for excellence in citizenship, scholarship and Americanism. The Legion's sportsmanship trophy went to Frederick Alvin Showers. Both boys also received honor point medals for extra-curricular activities.

Five other seniors received two awards each. Darl Wayne Hinkle was presented a pin as class salutatorian and received a four-year scholarship to West Virginia University offered by the board of governors for achievements.

Robert Stanley Bradley Jr. was the recipient of a Babe Ruth sportsmanship award and an honor point medal. Wilma Jeanne Lambert receive dthe Tri-Hi-Y and Raymond G. Swadley memorial award and an honor point medal.

Raymond Gerstell Swadley Jr., received a scholarship to Potomac State College for his ability in oration and a medal in literary activities for winning District IX oration honors. He finished third in state-wide competition. Wanetta Faye Hornick was presented a Babe Ruth sportsmanship award and a cheerleader's pin.

Doris Marie Johnston and Donald Raymond Wolford both obtained honor point medals for four years of extra-curricular activities. Ramona Ann Hutt was presented a $50 Claude Benedum Foundation scholarship to Shepherd College.

"The Old Is Still New" was the title of the feature address presented by Dr. James H. Henning, head of the department of speech at West Virginia University. Both Miss Tallman and Hinkle spoke as class valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively.

James Bobo, a freshman, played the "Priests' March" as the processional and "Pomp and Circumstance" as the recessional. The Senior Class sang "One World" and "Alma Mater." Both the invocation and benediction were delivered by Rev. T. Roscoe Hall, pastor of Calvary Methodist Church.

Injured In Fall

Mrs. Cora Appold, 60, of 604 Fairview Avenue, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday afternoon for observation and X-rays of a possible back injury. She told the hospital she hurt her back when she slipped on the floor while visiting a friend.

ESB Workers Will Receive Service Pins

Kimble To Make Awards Today

Robert B. Kimble, new chairman of the Maryland Department of Employment Security, will make his first official visit to his hometown since assuming office when he comes here today to present 10-year service awards to 15 of the department's employes in Western Maryland.

The local staff of the ESB will hold a reception in Kimble's honor at the Cumberland office in order to enable him to meet the Cumberland staff and the 10-year employes.

Kimble is scheduled to make the awards at 3 p. m. today to employes from Cumberland, Frederick, Hagerstown, Oakland and Westminster.

Expected to accompany Kimble here are Charles D. Harris, new member of the ESB; David L. B. Fringer, director of the department's placement division; Stephen C. Cromwell, director of the unemployment claims division; Max Orlowe, director of public and labor relations; John B. Henry, chief of the department's division of personnel and accounts, and D. County Soldier Obtains $15,000 Jury Verdict

Damage Suit Heard In Hagerstown Court

A Westernport soldier, seriously injured in a fatal automobile-pedestrian accident at Crellin in Garrett County in January, yesterday was awarded a $15,000 verdict by a Washington County Circuit Court jury in Hagerstown which deliberated about one and a half hours at the conclusion of a two-day trial.

The soldier, Paul Richard Roderick, 225 Wood Street Extended, Westernport, through Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Jr., originally filed the suit for $100,000 in Garrett County Circuit Court. It was removed here to Allegany County Circuit Court in March and early this month was transferred to Washington County.

Defendant in the action was Joseph Carl Frantz of Hutton, in Garrett County.

Roderick, who sustained fractures of both legs and a crushed pelvis in the accident January 23, appeared in court in a wheelchair. First a patient in Garret County Memorial Hospital at Oakland, he subsequently was transferred to the Fort Meade Hospital, where he still is a patient.

Miss Mary Fay Harvey of Mountain Lake Park, who was walking with Roderick along the highway in Crellin after they had attended a church service together, was killed when they were hit by the automobile which Frantz was driving.

In the two-day trial during which some 12 witnesses were heard Whitworth was assisted by Charles Wagaman of Hagerstown in presenting the plaintiff's case. Defense attorneys were Walter C. Capper, this city; Stuart Hamill of Oakland and Irving Rutledge of Hagerstown.

Jury Indicts Cavey For First Degree Murder

Two Counts Returned Against Area Man

A Geauga County grand jury indicted Leo Cavey, 43, formerly of Frostburg, on two counts of first degree murder yesterday at Chardon, Ohio, in the death of an 80-year-old coal and feed merchant of that city.

The grand jury, meeting in special session, indicted the husky well driller on one count of premeditated murder and a second count of attempted robbery and murder in the slaying of Alva J. Williams, wealthy businessman of Chardon.

The jury met from 9:30 a. m. Wednesday to 6:45 p. m. The indictment against Cavey read in part that "Leo Cavey did unlawfully, purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice kill one Alva J. Williams x x x" and that "Leo Cavey did unlawfully, purposely and while perpetrating or attempting to perpetrate robbery did kill Alva J. Williams."

Cavey, who had been working in Ohio for some time as a well driller, left Allegany County about eight years ago. His father was the late Joseph Cavey and his mother still resides in Frostburg.

Arraignment Set

He will be arraigned in Geauga County Circuit Court at 10 a. m. on June 1, Chief of Police John R. Bohl of the Chardon Police Department said last night.

Williams was slain on the night of May 12 and his body was found four days later lying face down between two logs in a woodland area four miles south of Chardon. Three big stones had been placed over the body—so large that the coroner said the stones may have been responsible for much of the battered condition of the body.

The coroner said Williams died because of severe blows on the head, brain injuries, a broken nose and 11 broken ribs.

Fought Over 90 Cents

The slaying apparently took place during an argument over a 90-cent coal bill which Cavey supposedly owed Williams.

Chardon police said Cavey admitted killing the elderly man in his car after picking up the merchant at the feed mill the afternoon of the slaying.

Cavey told authorities he became angered at Williams, struck him several times in the face, then grabbed a pair of 10-inch pliers from the glove compartment of the car and struck Williams repeatedly on the head. He then drove the old man into the woodlands and covered the body with logs and rocks.

When Williams was reported missing by the family, police instigated a search which lasted for four days before Cavey led them to the body after confessing to the murder under intense grilling.

Man Is Fined $10 On Reckless Charge

James Thompson, 40, of Ambridge, Pa., yesterday was fined $10 in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of reckless driving.

Thompson was arrested Saturday by Officers Carl Williams and Elmer Shank of the City Police Department on East Oldtown Road after he drove his car into the rear of another vehicle.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick handed down the verdict.

Church To Form Men's Association

Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church, said a "Methodist Men" organization will be formed at a meeting of the male members of the church today at 8 p. m. in the social hall of the church.

It previously had been reported that the meeting would be held last night.

Firemen's New CD Radios Are Placed In Operation

New Civil Defense radio units were tested and placed in operation yesterday by the Cumberland Fire Department, Chief Virgil A. Parker announced following their installation by local engineers.

The Federal Communications Commission has issued the license and call letters for the local transmitter, which will be part of the CD system used to cover Allegany County in emergency cases.

Two transmitters will be utilized under the program in Cumberland and Frostburg. Chief Parker said last night the Frostburg radio station will probably be placed in operation in a week or 10 days.

The Cumberland transmitter is located on the water tank on Seneca Avenue above Braddock Road. A remote control box, located in the Fire Department at City Hall Square, will be the central call point, he explained.

Four mobile units have been placed in Cumberland fire trucks and an application for two more mobile units for equipment here has been made.

The radios, similar to those used by the City Police Department, operate on a frequency of 33.78 megacycles with call letters KGD 446.

The Mayor and City Council authorized the purchase of the radio equipment last November, sharing the $4,000 cost with the county, state and federal government as a part of the Civil Defense program.

Allegany County has been divided into two districts under the CD program, Chief Parker explained. District No. 1 will include Cumberland Fire Department and volunteer fire companies at LaVale, Corriganville, Flintstone, District 16, Bedford Road, Bowling Green, Cresaptown, Bowman's Addition, and Baltimore Pike.

District No. 2, under the jurisdiction of the Frostburg transmitter, includes Ellerslie, Mt. Savage, Clarysville, Borden Shaft, Midland, Lonaconing, Barton, Westernport, Luke and McCoole.

Many of the volunteer companies already have mobile unit radios in operation, Parker said. Others will have the units installed as soon as possible.

Emergency calls coming into Cumberland central office can immediately be routed to the various fire stations throughout the county by radio.

Present plans call for the volunteer companies to report back when they leave on any calls and when they return.

"We can call any fire unit in operation and give necessary data, such as nearness of fire plugs, location of fire, location of dangerous inflammables nearby, and so on," Parker said.

"Also, the captain in charge can radio back for help immediately, if necessary, aiding in the speed of dispatch of additional fire trucks in case of a large fire or explosion or other emergency," he added.

The sets were obtained through the cooperation of William G. Barger, Civil Defense coordinator for Allegany County.

Tomorrow Is Annual Poppy Day

Tomorrow will be Poppy Day in Cumberland and throughout the nation.

Volunteer workers representing Fort Cumberland Unit 13, American Legion Auxiliary and the junior group, will be on the streets here from early Saturday morning until late Saturday night, offering poppies in exchange for nominal contributions, in honor of the nation's war dead.

Funds realized in this manner are used by the Legion and its auxiliaries for the welfare of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans throughout the nation. No workers are paid in this project and the entire proceeds are placed in the Legion and Auxiliary rehabilitation and child welfare funds.

The auxiliary notes that the poppies to be sold here are made by disabled veterans at Perry Point Hospital. This work serves as gainful employment for the disabled veterans as well as offering occupational therapy for thousands of veterans in hospitals and convalescent workshops in all parts of the country.

Mrs. Harry Vogel heads the committee for the local unit and will be assisted by Mrs. Maud Banzhof, Mrs. Martha McNary, Mrs. Margaret Bittinger, Mrs. Katherine B. Smith, Mrs. Clara Palmer, Mrs. Ovelia Walker, Mrs. Nellie Hensel, Mrs. Ann Fradiska, and the Junior Group.

The auxiliary has arranged to serve a lunch for the volunteers and will award prizes to those who make the best returns.

Carver High Sermon Set For Tuesday

"A Call To High Citizenship" will be the topic of Rev. David Bradley, pastor of the Zion A. M. E. Church in Bedford, Pa., when he delivers the sermon to the seniors of Carver High School at 2 p. m. next Tuesday.

Rev. Bradley is editor-manager of the A. M. E. Zion Quarterly Review, one of the 12 general officers of the church. In addition, since 1949 he has been assistant secretary of Christian education in his denomination.

The clergyman received his A. B. degree from Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C., and his A. M. from the University of Pittsburgh and is working toward his doctor of philosophy degree at New York University.

After the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," Tuesday night, Rev. Charles E. Walden pastor of the Metropolitan, A. M.E. Church, will give the invocation. The Glee Club will then sing "There Is Balm in Gilead" and Rev.George T. C. Bell, pastor of McKendree Methodist Church, will read the Scripture lesson.

The sermon will follow the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by the Glee Club. As the closing hymn the congregation will sing "God of Our Fathers." Rev. Walden will give the benediction.

Pennsylvania Man Is Arrested Here

Council Directs Owner To Reduce Junk Pile Size

License Is Held Up Pending Compliance

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan has notified Abraham Feldstein that the City of Cumberland will prosecute unless steps are taken to correct conditions at his Wineow Street junk yard.

In a letter written at the request of the Mayor and Council, Finan reminded Feldstein that on February 3 he outlined recommendations of city officials to keep the establishment from becoming a nuisance.

He added that both the city engineer and fire chief have explained that a new fence should be constructed, and the height of the junk pile should be reduced so it cannot be seen from the street.

Finan added that the Mayor and Council discussed the matter Monday and directed him, as city solicitor, to institute action immediately.

Receive Reports

He pointed out that Feldstein is aware that he is now operating without a license, and that the city code gives the Mayor and Council the right to specify the conditions under which a junk yard shall operate.

The minutes of Monday's meeting show there was considerable discussion about the junk yard.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker told the Mayor and Council the nuisance definitely has not been abated, and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum reported there was no appreciable change since Feldstein was notified 60 days ago that there was a high pile of scrap metal, vehicles parked on government land across from his place of business, and numerous pieces of scrap stacked along the sidewalk in front of the building.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, the minutes show, urged action and "no more notices, no more letters, no more nothing."

License Has Expired

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan added that Feldstein has had plenty of time but has refused to cooperate and that the place is an eyesore.

The discussion was continued downstairs after the formal meeting of the council ended, and resulted in the order to prosecute unless corrective measures are taken.

The city license for the junk yard expired on April 30 and on April 11 City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery notified Feldstein that the council unanimously ruled that the license was not to be renewed until he complied with orders of the city engineer and fire chief.

Local Man Hurt In Auto Mishap Near Somerset

A 65-year-old Cumberland man was critically injured in an automobile accident yesterday afternoon near Somerset, Pa., state police reported.

Rue H. Allen, 218 North Mechanic Street, suffered severe head injuries and was listed as "very critical" last night at Somerset Community Hospital, where he was admitted following the mishap. X-rays were taken last night to determine the extent of his injuries.

State Police at Somerset said Allen was hurt when the car in which he was a passenger struck a concrete abutment on Route 31, about nine miles east of Somerset, and turned over after running against a large embankment.

Police said the driver of the car, Joseph Peter Carpenti, 42, of 418 North Mechanic Street, a worker at the Queen City Brewing Company, was treated at the hospital for back injuries and a right wrist injury but was not admitted.

Carpenti said he was driving west toward Somerset when Allen suddenly fell over against him, causing him to lose control of the car. The car smashed into the abutment and then careened across the highway into the embankment and turned over.

No charges have been preferred against the driver of the vehicle pending further investigation and the outcome of Allen's injuries.

Weather

Yesterday was a pleasant spring day, with sunny skies and pleasant breezes. The official high temperature was 80, the overnight low 56 and it was a coolish 69 at 8:30 p. m. Today is expected to be cooler, with increasing cloudiness and possible thundershowers late this afternoon or tonight.

Top Sports Car Drivers Coming For Hill Climb

Leading Contenders Enter Sunday's Meet

When the hill climbing sports cars roar up Breakneck Road and around Horseshoe Bend Sunday morning and afternoon in the first Cumberland Sports Car Hill Climb, spectators will see some of the most powerful vehicles in the world.

Among the drivers who have entered the meet are national and international class champions, drivers who have raced here in the regional and national events, and others who are challenging the standings of the leading drivers.

Sponsors, the Washington Regional Sports Car Club and Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company were assured last night that the top ranking contenders will be here.

Some of the names are familiar to local sports car fans, because they have already appeared in local competition, while others may not be so well known.

Dr. Wyllie Enters

Dr. M. R. J. Wyllie of Pittsburgh, who was struck and slightly injured in a sports car skid at the airport two weeks ago, called Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, assistant chairman, and stated he will definitely be here and will compete. He will drive his No. 17 Jaguar Special, a powerful vehicle, in the hill climb.

Dr. Wyllie, whose wife won two successive years in women's competition here and was injured seriously two weeks ago in the same mishap, told Dr. Skitarelic she has left the hospital and is much improved. It will be some time before she will race again, however. Local fans will remember that Dr. Wyllie won the Cumberland Cup here last year.

Driving a Ferro Special, William M. Ferro, Washington, D. C., will compete in his "mystery" car. This vehicle, which operates in an unlimited, unrestricted class, is specially designed and specially powered for the maximum in speed as well as power. It is expected to be a contender for Sunday's best time and record.

The Muntz Jet, owned and driven by Dr. Fred Losee of Washington, D. C., is another "strictly hot" car which will be reckoned with in Sunday's competition. Dr. Losee competed in the races here last year and won a trophy.

420 Horsepower Engine

Considered the most "hopped up" Chrysler-built engine ever put on the road, the Allard J-2-X of Leo Dym, Pittsburgh, will be here for the hill climb. He has the record of the best time in several hill climbs already this year, and the other drivers will be watching his car and competition closely. It is reported that this engine generates 420 horsepower.

Frank Bohanka Jr., will be on hand to challenge the best in the field. He will drive his Allard which is powered with a "souped up" and specially bored Oldsmobile power plant. It was this same type of vehicle that ran away with the records and the contests at the International races held in Sebring, Fla., earlier this year. This will be Bohanka's first local appearance.

National Champion Charles Wallace of Washington, who ran here three successive years and was in the winning bracket each time, will be here to defend his standing in hill climb competiton. He will bring his XK 140 Modified Jaguar.

Major William Kincheloe, driving a LaMans Austin-Healey 100, and who is the champion in Class D, has notified local sponsors that he will compete. He says his car is in excellent shape, and he wants to try it out on Breakneck.

County Soldier Obtains $15,000 Jury Verdict

Damage Suit Heard In Hagerstown Court

A Westernport soldier, seriously injured in a fatal automobile-pedestrian accident at Crellin in Garrett County in January, yesterday was awarded a $15,000 verdict by a Washington County Circuit Court jury in Hagerstown which deliberated about one and a half hours at the conclusion of a two-day trial.

The soldier, Paul Richard Roderick, 225 Wood Street Extended, Westernport, through Attorney Horace P. Whitworth Jr., originally filed the suit for $100,000 in Garrett County Circuit Court. It was removed here to Allegany County Circuit Court in March and early this month was transferred to Washington County.

Defendant in the action was Joseph Carl Frantz of Hutton, in Garrett County.

Roderick, who sustained fractures of both legs and a crushed pelvis in the accident January 23, appeared in court in a wheelchair. First a patient in Garret County Memorial Hospital at Oakland, he subsequently was transferred to the Fort Meade Hospital, where he still is a patient.

Miss Mary Fay Harvey of Mountain Lake Park, who was walking with Roderick along the highway in Crellin after they had attended a church service together, was killed when they were hit by the automobile which Frantz was driving.

In the two-day trial during which some 12 witnesses were heard Whitworth was assisted by Charles Wagaman of Hagerstown in presenting the plaintiff's case. Defense attorneys were Walter C. Capper, this city; Stuart Hamill of Oakland and Irving Rutledge of Hagerstown

Jury Indicts Cavey For First Degree Murder

Two Counts Returned Against Area Man

A Geauga County grand jury indicted Leo Cavey, 43, formerly of Frostburg, on two counts of first degree murder yesterday at Chardon, Ohio, in the death of an 80-year-old coal and feed merchant of that city.

The grand jury, meeting in special session, indicted the husky well driller on one count of premeditated murder and a second count of attempted robbery and murder in the slaying of Alva J. Williams, wealthy businessman of Chardon.

The jury met from 9:30 a. m. Wednesday to 6:45 p. m. The indictment against Cavey read in part that "Leo Cavey did unlawfully, purposely and of deliberate and premeditated malice kill one Alva J. Williams x x x" and that "Leo Cavey did unlawfully, purposely and while perpetrating or attempting to perpetrate robbery did kill Alva J. Williams."

Cavey, who had been working in Ohio for some time as a well driller, left Allegany County about eight years ago. His father was the late Joseph Cavey and his mother still resides in Frostburg.

Arraignment Set

He will be arraigned in Geauga County Circuit Court at 10 a. m. on June 1, Chief of Police John R. Bohl of the Chardon Police Department said last night.

Williams was slain on the night of May 12 and his body was found four days later lying face down between two logs in a woodland area four miles south of Chardon. Three big stones had been placed over the body—so large that the coroner said the stones may have been responsible for much of the battered condition of the body.

The coroner said Williams died because of severe blows on the head, brain injuries, a broken nose and 11 broken ribs.

Fought Over 90 Cents

The slaying apparently took place during an argument over a 90-cent coal bill which Cavey supposedly owed Williams.

Chardon police said Cavey admitted killing the elderly man in his car after picking up the merchant at the feed mill the afternoon of the slaying.

Cavey told authorities he became angered at Williams, struck him several times in the face, then grabbed a pair of 10-inch pliers from the glove compartment of the car and struck Williams repeatedly on the head. He then drove the old man into the woodlands and covered the body with logs and rocks.

When Williams was reported missing by the family, police instigated a search which lasted for four days before Cavey led them to the body after confessing to the murder under intense grilling.

Man Is Fined $10 On Reckless Charge

James Thompson, 40, of Ambridge, Pa., yesterday was fined $10 in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of reckless driving.

Thompson was arrested Saturday by Officers Carl Williams and Elmer Shank of the City Police Department on East Oldtown Road after he drove his car into the rear of another vehicle.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick handed down the verdict.

Church To Form Men's Association

Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church, said a "Methodist Men" organization will be formed at a meeting of the male members of the church today at 8 p. m. in the social hall of the church.

It previously had been reported that the meeting would be held last night.

Firemen's New CD Radios Are Placed In Operation

New Civil Defense radio units were tested and placed in operation yesterday by the Cumberland Fire Department, Chief Virgil A. Parker announced following their installation by local engineers.

The Federal Communications Commission has issued the license and call letters for the local transmitter, which will be part of the CD system used to cover Allegany County in emergency cases.

Two transmitters will be utilized under the program in Cumberland and Frostburg. Chief Parker said last night the Frostburg radio station will probably be placed in operation in a week or 10 days.

The Cumberland transmitter is located on the water tank on Seneca Avenue above Braddock Road. A remote control box, located in the Fire Department at City Hall Square, will be the central call point, he explained.

Four mobile units have been placed in Cumberland fire trucks and an application for two more mobile units for equipment here has been made.

The radios, similar to those used by the City Police Department, operate on a frequency of 33.78 megacycles with call letters KGD 446.

The Mayor and City Council authorized the purchase of the radio equipment last November, sharing the $4,000 cost with the county, state and federal government as a part of the Civil Defense program.

Allegany County has been divided into two districts under the CD program, Chief Parker explained. District No. 1 will include Cumberland Fire Department and volunteer fire companies at LaVale, Corriganville, Flintstone, District 16, Bedford Road, Bowling Green, Cresaptown, Bowman's Addition, and Baltimore Pike.

District No. 2, under the jurisdiction of the Frostburg transmitter, includes Ellerslie, Mt. Savage, Clarysville, Borden Shaft, Midland, Lonaconing, Barton, Westernport, Luke and McCoole.

Many of the volunteer companies already have mobile unit radios in operation, Parker said. Others will have the units installed as soon as possible.

Emergency calls coming into Cumberland central office can immediately be routed to the various fire stations throughout the county by radio.

Present plans call for the volunteer companies to report back when they leave on any calls and when they return.

"We can call any fire unit in operation and give necessary data, such as nearness of fire plugs, location of fire, location of dangerous inflammables nearby, and so on," Parker said.

"Also, the captain in charge can radio back for help immediately, if necessary, aiding in the speed of dispatch of additional fire trucks in case of a large fire or explosion or other emergency," he added.

The sets were obtained through the cooperation of William G. Barger, Civil Defense coordinator for Allegany County.

Tomorrow Is Annual Poppy Day

Tomorrow will be Poppy Day in Cumberland and throughout the nation.

Volunteer workers representing Fort Cumberland Unit 13, American Legion Auxiliary and the junior group, will be on the streets here from early Saturday morning until late Saturday night, offering poppies in exchange for nominal contributions, in honor of the nation's war dead.

Funds realized in this manner are used by the Legion and its auxiliaries for the welfare of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans throughout the nation. No workers are paid in this project and the entire proceeds are placed in the Legion and Auxiliary rehabilitation and child welfare funds.

The auxiliary notes that the poppies to be sold here are made by disabled veterans at Perry Point Hospital. This work serves as gainful employment for the disabled veterans as well as offering occupational therapy for thousands of veterans in hospitals and convalescent workshops in all parts of the country.

Mrs. Harry Vogel heads the committee for the local unit and will be assisted by Mrs. Maud Banzhof, Mrs. Martha McNary, Mrs. Margaret Bittinger, Mrs. Katherine B. Smith, Mrs. Clara Palmer, Mrs. Ovelia Walker, Mrs. Nellie Hensel, Mrs. Ann Fradiska, and the Junior Group.

The auxiliary has arranged to serve a lunch for the volunteers and will award prizes to those who make the best returns.

Carver High Sermon Set For Tuesday

"A Call To High Citizenship" will be the topic of Rev. David Bradley, pastor of the Zion A. M. E. Church in Bedford, Pa., when he delivers the sermon to the seniors of Carver High School at 2 p. m. next Tuesday.

Rev. Bradley is editor-manager of the A. M. E. Zion Quarterly Review, one of the 12 general officers of the church. In addition, since 1949 he has been assistant secretary of Christian education in his denomination.

The clergyman received his A. B. degree from Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C., and his A. M. from the University of Pittsburgh and is working toward his doctor of philosophy degree at New York University.

After the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," Tuesday night, Rev. Charles E. Walden pastor of the Metropolitan, A. M. E. Church, will give the invocation. The Glee Club will then sing "There Is Balm in Gilead" and Rev. George T. C. Bell, pastor of McKendree Methodist Church, will read the Scripture lesson.

The sermon will follow the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by the Glee Club. As the closing hymn the congregation will sing "God of Our Fathers." Rev. Walden will give the benediction.

Pennsylvania Man Is Arrested Here

Council Directs Owner To Reduce Junk Pile Size

License Is Held Up Pending Compliance

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan has notified Abraham Feldstein that the City of Cumberland will prosecute unless steps are taken to correct conditions at his Wineow Street junk yard.

In a letter written at the request of the Mayor and Council, Finan reminded Feldstein that on February 3 he outlined recommendations of city officials to keep the establishment from becoming a nuisance.

He added that both the city engineer and fire chief have explained that a new fence should be constructed, and the height of the junk pile should be reduced so it cannot be seen from the street.

Finan added that the Mayor and Council discussed the matter Monday and directed him, as city solicitor, to institute action immediately.

Receive Reports

He pointed out that Feldstein is aware that he is now operating without a license, and that the city code gives the Mayor and Council the right to specify the conditions under which a junk yard shall operate.

The minutes of Monday's meeting show there was considerable discussion about the junk yard.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker told the Mayor and Council the nuisance definitely has not been abated, and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum reported there was no appreciable change since Feldstein was notified 60 days ago that there was a high pile of scrap metal, vehicles parked on government land across from his place of business, and numerous pieces of scrap stacked along the sidewalk in front of the building.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz, the minutes show, urged action and "no more notices, no more letters, no more nothing."

License Has Expired

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan added that Feldstein has had plenty of time but has refused to cooperate and that the place is an eyesore.

The discussion was continued downstairs after the formal meeting of the council ended, and resulted in the order to prosecute unless corrective measures are taken.

The city license for the junk yard expired on April 30 and on April 11 City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery notified Feldstein that the council unanimously ruled that the license was not to be renewed until he complied with orders of the city engineer and fire chief.

Local Man Hurt In Auto Mishap Near Somerset

A 65-year-old Cumberland man was critically injured in an automobile accident yesterday afternoon near Somerset, Pa., state police reported.

Rue H. Allen, 218 North Mechanic Street, suffered severe head injuries and was listed as "very critical" last night at Somerset Community Hospital, where he was admitted following the mishap. X-rays were taken last night to determine the extent of his injuries.

State Police at Somerset said Allen was hurt when the car in which he was a passenger struck a concrete abutment on Route 31, about nine miles east of Somerset, and turned over after running against a large embankment.

Police said the driver of the car, Joseph Peter Carpenti, 42, of 418 North Mechanic Street, a worker at the Queen City Brewing Company, was treated at the hospital for back injuries and a right wrist injury but was not admitted.

Carpenti said he was driving west toward Somerset when Allen suddenly fell over against him, causing him to lose control of the car. The car smashed into the abutment and then careened across the highway into the embankment and turned over.

No charges have been preferred against the driver of the vehicle pending further investigation and the outcome of Allen's injuries.

Weather

Yesterday was a pleasant spring day, with sunny skies and pleasant breezes. The official high temperature was 80, the overnight low 56 and it was a coolish 69 at 8:30 p. m. Today is expected to be cooler, with increasing cloudiness and possible thundershowers late this afternoon or tonight.
